ARMISTICE TO END TWO WARS IN EUROPE

Denton Murder Confession Is Scouted

SPANIARD WHO SAYS HE KILLED MINING MAN IS DISBELIEVED

Considerable excitement was created here late yesterday afternoon by the receipt of telegraphic advices from San Francisco to the effect that Joseph Rodriguez, a flashy young Spaniard under arrest there on an abduction charge, had confessed that he and another man killed Jacob C. Denton, Los Angeles capitalist, by strangling him with a rope on the night of June 6 or 8. He implicated three other persons in the plot to rob Denton, in the actual killing of the victim's securities and money and the burial of the body in Denton's own cellar.

Following interrogation of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crowhurst and Mrs. R. C. Cole, the first and last of whom were important witnesses in the investigation, Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ford expressed complete disbelief in Rodriguez's story, particularly since he had been identified by his victim as a marihuana smoker, who had frequently confessed in the past to other major crimes, his stories being unanimously disproven. Search of police records showed that he was in jail here on another charge at the time he says he killed Denton. The Bay City police asked that persons named in the confession be held in custody, but no action was taken along these lines here.

It is pointed out, among other things, that Rodriguez is wrong in the definite date of the murder of Denton and that nothing is contained in his confession which could not have been learned from the newspaper accounts of the tragedy.

THE CONFESSION.

The "confession" of Rodriguez was obtained by Detective Captain O'Meara, who had originally arrested him in the northern city Tuesday on a kidnaping charge involving May Villareal, an 18-year-old girl. In effect, according to O'Meara, Rodriguez said that a man he called "Cecil" and two other persons were at the Denton home on South Catalina street on the night either June 6 or June 8 and went for an auto ride, he said. And when they returned Denton unfortunately came home. Rodriguez said he and "Cecil" had been discussing Denton and his wealth and the possibility of disposing of him and getting the money. When Denton came in, Rodriguez said, he and "Cecil" fell upon him, knocked him down and strangled him with a rope. The body, he said, was subsequently buried in the cellar.

"ROBBED DENTON."

Rodriguez said he took a large sum of money and negotiable papers from Denton's house that night. He said that he wanted to back out of the slaying but that "Cecil" insisted on going ahead. Denton came in to them about 10 o'clock in the night, he said. "Cecil" gave him (Rodriguez) a gun, he said. Denton attacked Rodriguez, the confession said, and the Spaniard struck Denton and started to choke him. The job was finished, the latter stated, with a rope, each holding at one end.

Rodriguez made his "confession" because he said his conscience was troubling him. He wanted to make amends to a Catholic priest, he stated, to tell the police in- [illegible] he said his true name is [illegible] and that he is Spanish, not Mexican. He declares he is a scion of old Spanish dons of early days.

According to Rodriguez, the first plan was merely to rob Denton, but the unexpected return changed it to murder. He said he got $2000 as his share of the loot and was cheated by the others. His money, he said, he lost at Tia Juana, he said. The man he named he said he met in Denver in this city.

PROFESSIONAL CONFESSOR.

Rodriguez, alias Gus V. Carrillo, is known by the local detective bureau as "a professional confessor," having confessed to the slaying of H. J. Fisk, a banker; several months ago, and also confessed to robbing the Fifth Street Store. His confessions were discredited by the police. Detective Sergeant O'Brien stated last night that Rodriguez has a habit of confessing to every big crime that occurs, the detective also stated that Rodriguez is a user of marahuana, a Mexican drug, and has been caught many times in the act of eating glass, swallowing nails or

BIG GROWTH IS SHOWN.

Nation's Population Announced.

More Than Hundred and Five Million Persons Live in Continental Country.

Increase for Ten Years is Nearly Fourteen Millions; 14.9 Per Cent.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The 1920 population of continental United States was announced today by the Census Bureau as 105,683,108. This was an increase of 13,710,842, or 14.9 per cent since 1910.

Today's total does not include the population of outlying possessions, which will be announced as soon as the figures for Alaska and the military and naval services abroad are tabulated. It is estimated, however, that these possessions gave 12,250,000 inhabitants, so the total number of people living under the American flag is, in round numbers, 118,000,000.

The figures for continental United States compare with 91,972,266 ten years ago and 75,944,575 twenty years ago. The increase for the last decade, however, fell 2,266,849, or 6.1 per cent, below that of the preceding decade.

CAUSES PRESENTED.

Director Rogers of the Census Bureau, in a formal statement, attributed this reduction to the almost complete stoppage of immigration during the war, an increase in emigration during the same period, deaths in the influenza epidemic of 1917-18 and war casualties.

The statement noted that the trend of population from the country to the city had been greatly accentuated since 1910. For the first time in the country's history, it is said, more than half the entire population was living in urban territory.

Preliminary tabulations, Mr. Rogers said, showed that 54,816,209, or 51.9 per cent, of the people were living in incorporated places of 2500 inhabitants or more, and 50,866,899, or 48.1 per cent, in rural territory.

FARMS CENSUS.

This situation was clearly reflected in the figures as to farms in the country, which also were made public today. These placed the total of farms at 6,459,998, an increase of only 98,496, or 1.5 per cent, in ten years, as against an increase of 624,120, or 10.9 per cent, during the decade ended in 1910.

Mr. Rogers stated that while today's figures were preliminary and subject to revision, the final official population as transmitted to Congress in December for apportionment purposes was not likely to be greatly different.

Revised figures for a number of cities and counties are yet to be announced, but the main work of the 1920 census is completed after nine months of labor.

JAPS SEEK HELP HERE.

High Commission to Settle Differences and New Treaty Meet Opposition.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, Oct. 6.—Proposals that a high commission be appointed to reach an agreement on the issues which have caused tension between Japan and the United States are opposed by Viscount Takaaki Kato, member of the House of Peers and former Minister of Foreign Affairs, says the Jiji Shimpo.

He is quoted as saying a commission of the kind contemplated could not pass upon the points raised by the anti-Japanese movement in California.

"Conclusion of a new treaty which would insure equal treatment of Japanese and other aliens," he is quoted as saying, "would be excellent in principle, but would be difficult of attainment at present. I believe the anti-Japanese question will remain a knotty problem, irrespective of the result of the Presidential election in the United States. The best program would be to strengthen and unify Japanese public opinion and to appeal to Americans in the name of justice and humanity as forcibly as possible."

American members of the American-Japanese Society have adopted resolutions to be cabled to the Japan Society of New York City stating it is felt that America should be informed of the intensity of feeling caused in Japan by the legislative action contemplated in California "which threatens the estrangement of the two peoples and the destruction of their long-standing friendship."

President Kaneko, particularly in behalf of the Japanese members, has sent a cable message to Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the Japan Society in New York, saying the progress of the anti-Japanese movement in California was being seriously watched in Japan, both by the government and by the people, and that if carried too far the outcome would be hard to foretell.

"WRONG," SAYS KATO

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SENDA (Japan) Oct. 6.—Addressing the northeastern members of the Kensei Kai, or Japanese opposition party, Viscount Kato, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, declared it would be wrong for Japan, merely to please a section of the American people, to conclude a new treaty with the United States which would be disadvantageous to Japan and affect the national prestige.

San Francisco Building Strike Comes to End.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The strike of four building trades organizations in the Bay District has been settled and the workmen are returning to work today, according to union officials. An agreement between the San Francisco Building Trades Council and the Builders' Exchange was reached to avert a general lockout.

Secretary P. J. Lynch of the Builders' Exchange said the return of the men was slow and a meeting of the conference committee of the organization had been called to discuss the situation.

COL. HUNT HONORED.

Former Los Angeles Resident is Awarded Service Medal.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—By direction of the President the War Department today honored Col. Irwin L. Hunt, formerly of Los Angeles and Oakland, with the distinguished service medal. The award was given for exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services.

Col. Hunt was appointed to the military academy from the Northern California district. The citation reads: "He served with conspicuous success as the officer in charge of civil affairs in the occupied area with the third army and with the American forces in Germany. With excellent judgment and sound adherence to well-established policies in a field of intricate problems affecting the civil population, he perfected through his wide comprehension of conditions an effective organization which contributed materially to the efficiency of those forces."

On Hunger Strike Eighty-four Days, Will Get Hearing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Under a writ of habeas corpus granted today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, Benjamin J. Salmon, a conscientious objector, who has been on a hunger strike at St. Elizabeth Hospital here since July 15, will appear before the court tomorrow, where the hospital authorities will be required to show cause for his detention.

Salmon, whose home is in Denver, was brought here from Fort Douglas, Utah. He has persistently refused food for a considerable time and has been subjected to forcible feeding. The Civil Liberties League of New York interested itself in the case. Its presentation to the court was due partly to its efforts. Counsel for Salmon, who is serving a twenty-five-year sentence for refusal to perform military service, argued that his client was illegally detained in an institution for the insane.

Salmon was sent to St. Elizabeth for observation of his mental condition after he started his hunger strike at Fort Douglas. Despite partly successful attempts at forcible feeding, Salmon has maintained his attitude for eighty-four days.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—For the first time in several years an Irish priest was arrested today. He is the Rev. M. Morley, the Roman Catholic curate head for the County Galway. He was in the public square at the time. His arrest is the sequel to a raid upon his house, made by uniformed men last Sunday night.

RUSS-POLISH PEACE TERMS ARE READY FOR SIGNATURE; POLES, LITHUANIANS QUIT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

RIGA, Oct. 7.—The Polish and Soviet peace delegations worked late tonight in an endeavor to complete the armistice and the preliminary peace terms for signature tomorrow. As yet they have been unable to determine the exact hour for signing, and some doubt seems to exist whether it will be possible to finish technical details tonight. The Polish delegates say, however, that the documents will be ready either Friday or Saturday. Military operations between the Poles and Lithuanians have ceased, it was announced at Polish headquarters here today. This statement was made in connection with announcement that the Allied mission on the Polish-Lithuanian question had arrived at Suwalki Wednesday.

Messages from Suwalki announce that an armistice has been agreed upon in the Suwalki district up to a point fifteen kilometers west of Ornay. (Orany is forty-six miles southwest of Vilna, the Lithuanian capital.) The commission from the League of Nations, appointed to consider the situation brought about by the Polish-Lithuanian dispute, held its first session October 5 and the armistice was made under its suggestion.

The exact demarcation line will be fixed today by an agreement between Poland and Lithuania. Orany will be under Allied control.

Polish and soviet delegates here were today completing the work of framing the final armistice terms between the two governments, and Prince Sapieha, Polish Foreign Minister, was expected to arrive to take part tomorrow in the ceremonies incident to signing the convention.

It is learned from authoritative sources that the two governments will covenant to mutually return all prisoners held by them, restore archives and other property and to pay for property taken or destroyed by either country without military necessity.

FIGHTING VIRTUALLY ENDS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WARSAW, Oct. 7.—News that an armistice will be signed at Riga by the Polish and Russian soviet peace delegates Friday or Saturday was received enthusiastically today by the population of Warsaw and the evening newspapers expressed their satisfaction. The newspapers generally predict that Poland will soon come into her own again, reconstruction beginning everywhere at the soonest possible moment.

On the eve of the armistice fighting virtually ceased along the entire front.

Apparently the Poles will not enter Vilna, the outskirts of which have been reached by the Polish advance guards.

In the Ukraine, Gen. Petlura's forces and Gen. Balachowic's Russian troops which have been fighting with the Poles are reported to be advancing independently in the direction of the Dnieper. Petlura's Ukrainians plan to join Gen. Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia, while Gen. Balachowic is said to contemplate penetrating Central Russia with Moscow as his objective, before the heavy winter sets in. Gen. Balachowic's forces consist of 12,000 men.

FEAR FOR CRIMEAN FRONT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Military circles here are concerned over the effect the conclusion of an armistice between Russia and Poland will have on the campaign of Gen. Baron Wrangel in South Russia. They declare there is no doubt that the Bolsheviki will at once send reinforcements to the Crimean front. Reports emanating from Moscow that a French fleet intends to attack Black Sea ports are denied by the Matin.

QUESTION FRENCH ACTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A dispatch was sent through official channels to Paris today for confirmation of the Copenhagen report that the French general, Weygand, had proceeded to South Russia to take supreme command of Baron Wrangel's anti-Bolshevik forces.

If the report is true, it is said, the action of France is intended to give larger moral support to the Wrangel government in pursuance of the French policy which was indicated when France recognized the Wrangel government.

Baron Wrangel, who, himself, is esteemed a successful military leader, has under his command, it was learned today, not exceeding 70,000 troops, this force being large enough to maintain his present positions, but not sufficiently strong to justify an advance upon Moscow, which is 600 miles from Wrangel's advanced lines.

NO MOVE ON MOSCOW.

At the present time, it is said, Gen. Wrangel has no intention of moving upon Moscow. The coming winter is counted upon to be his formidable ally in greater measure than it has heretofore helped anti-Bolshevik leaders in destroying the Bolshevik morale and undermining completely the economic and political fabrics of the soviet rule. If the Bolshevik decomposition goes on Wrangel is expected to strike towards Moscow next spring, when it is believed the population of every steppe will embrace his cause.

Peasants Claiming Right to Valuable Lands; Mines Are Also Affected.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILAN, Oct. 7.—Sicilian peasants are occupying all the valuable lands belonging to the big estates. At Alcamo 2000 demobilized soldiers headed by a priest seized the lands belonging to Duke Corigliano and Signor Destfano while at Piazza, Valguserna and Audome other occupations took place forcibly, but peacefully.

The former soldiers compelled the prefect of Catania to issue warrants for the seizure of three farms belonging to public corporations, while Baron Camerata voluntarily gave up his very valuable lands.

The workers in the occupied mines in Elba have refused to evacuate, claiming the right to retain them and work them on a co-operative basis. Socialist Deputy Bianchi has had meetings with the miners and the owners and an agreement on terms proposed by the workers seems likely to be reached.

COX ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Answers Senator Harding.

"I'm for the League," Announces Democratic Candidate.

Tells Tennessee Audience Practical Benefits of the Pact.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Oct. 7. Gov. Cox of Ohio formally accepted tonight the League of Nations issue as stated by Senator Harding, his Republican opponent. Referring to the Senator's Des Moines speech today, denouncing the present League, Gov. Cox declared in an address:

"Now he's against the League; I'm for the League."

The League of Nations was the main theme of Gov. Cox in his travels today through Kentucky and Tennessee.

"I favor going in," the Democratic Presidential candidate repeated vigorously in a day's campaigning of eight speeches, closing with a large meeting tonight in the Ryman Auditorium.

VIGOR REFRESHED.

With vigor refreshed, apparently, Gov. Cox advanced what he termed practical as well as moral arguments for American membership in the League. Reiterating that it was a pledge to Americans who participated in the war, the Governor declared that its disarmament provisions could save the nation $465,000,000 next year. The League would renew European credit for purchase of American products, he stated.

"Next year, if we go into the League of Nations," the Governor said, "we can save $465,000,000 in our Navy alone. Do you know what you can do with $465,000,000? You can reclaim 23,000,000 acres of arid land in the West. I am in favor of stopping the building of battleships and of reclaiming arid lands and of giving every soldier boy a farm and a home of his own, if he wants to try it out there in that great promising country. If he doesn't want that then I am in favor of the four-fold plan which was recommended by the American Legion."

A further statement on the railroad question also was made by Gov. Cox tonight. He disagreed with Senator Harding, who, the Governor said, apparently approved existing conditions. The Democratic candidate declared that railroad matters were in the experimental stage and that the people should have the right to determine their policies through Congress.

ROOSEVELT FOLLOWS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 7.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, in an address here tonight, declared that he welcomed Senator Harding's declaration today opposing the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations.

"Tonight a great weight has been lifted from my shoulders," declared Roosevelt. "I have been honestly searching for a declaration from Mr. Harding, which would definitely accept or reject the League of Nations. Until now I have been able to find only answers which sought on the one hand to hold Senator Borah and on the other to hold former President Taft. But in tonight's papers, Senator Harding is quoted as saying that he is opposed to the League."

Roosevelt then read newspaper articles containing the quotation.

"Now the die is cast," he continued, "and we accept with cheerfulness and confidence the gage of battle."

TAKES ISSUE WITH HAYS.

Roosevelt took issue with Will Hays regarding the Republican national chairman's election prophecy concerning States West of the Mississippi River. Hays's suggestion that Texas might be found in the Republican column, he asserted, takes away any political value from his prophecy and made it merely one of the foolish yarns which belong to the silly season of politics.

"The people who talk about landslides," he added, "and about overwhelming victories in every State of the Union do so to either bolster up their own hopes or with the deliberate intention of trying to deceive the voters. It is on a par with the well-known method of conduct-

WOULD REJECT WILSON PACT.

Nominee Outlines Attitude in Western Speeches.

Promises to Work for Concert of Powers if Elected.

Great Crowd Greets Candidate at First Meeting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 7.—On the farthest westward swing of his campaigning, Senator Harding urged today that the nation stay out of the Versailles League of Nations altogether and reject the obligations of the League covenant.

Declaring that clarifying reservations never would meet the requirements of national security, the Republican nominee put before the voters of Iowa and Nebraska a direct issue of accepting or declining membership in the League.

"I do not want to clarify these obligations," he said. "I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation, but rejection, that I am seeking. I understand the position of the Democratic nominee and he understands mine. In simple words, it is that he favors going into the Paris League and I favor staying out."

MAKES SIXTEEN SPEECHES.

The Senator's declaration on the League was made at a forenoon gathering of several thousand in the Coliseum at Des Moines, and later was repeated in varied form at several smaller Iowa cities and at a night meeting in the Omaha Auditorium. In sixteen speeches during the day, he also restated his position on various other issues of the campaign, and during his address here devoted a half hour to a plea for enforcement of law without terrorism or oppression.

In both Des Moines and Omaha thousands cheered the nominee through the streets and thousands more turned out to see him during the day as his train crossed Iowa. He left his private car to make prepared addresses only in the Iowa capital and here.

Senator Albert Cummins, who is a candidate for re-election, accompanied the Presidential nominee through the State, and in each of his speeches the latter asked for Mr. Cummins's re-election. In several of them he praised the Cummins-Esch railway law as an accomplishment unequaled in progressive legislation for a decade.

REPLIES TO QUESTIONS.

At the Des Moines meeting the nominee carried on a colloquy with several men in the crowd who asked him questions about international politics. In the course of the discussion, which kept the big hall for a time in confusion, he outlined his position on the Irish question, declared American soldiers in Germany should be brought home as quickly as possible, asserted his belief that no separate peace with Germany would be necessary and declared the nation would be guilty of the grossest dishonesty if it assumed the obligations of the League and then refused to furnish troops at the League's call.

Pledging himself to law enforcement, the Senator warned in his speech here tonight against overzealous law and order crusades and against the iron hand of czarism in the methods of those in authority. By being a little more generous in its attitude toward minorities, he said, the government could help to quiet discontent and to keep the agitator within bounds.

The candidate also declared his opposition to wholesale pardons for political prisoners, and reiterated his faith in the practice of deporting undesirable aliens.

"No true American will argue that our laws should not be enforced," he said. "For my part, I can see no essential differences between ordinary crimes and ordinary criminals on the one hand and political crimes and political prisoners on the other. I have been asked many times whether I would grant amnesty to political prisoners. I would not. A general grant of amnesty to political prisoners is no more justified than a general grant of amnesty to yeggmen.

"None of us can deny that in emergencies, of which war is one, there is an unusual pressure for the conviction and punishment of men and women who appear to be thwarting our joint efforts in such an emergency or who menace our institutions. But these are cases which must be examined, each upon its merits.

"Many persons have fallen into errors in regard to the practice of deportation of undesirable aliens. I would like to make those persons who are opposed to any deportations of aliens see that if we may fairly and justly stop the undesirable alien as he attempts to enter our country, so, also, we have the right to lead him forth and send him away when he has become a menace to our country after his entry into it. The treacherous alien within our borders must be led to our gateways and told to go.

TOO MUCH TERRORISM.

"Perhaps more tragic than offense against our laws are the offenses of injustice and of oppression which occur occasionally by the acts of those who are insistent or hasty in the enforcement of our laws. Great numbers of Americans believe that they have seen within the last few years grave injustice done, and harsh, violent and unlawful oppression undertaken under the mask of enforcing law and order. They have seen too much terrorism.

"I stand against terrorism and abuse and brutality. When I say that I am against terrorism I am on the side once more of law and order. Not only is police frightfulness and night-stick bestiality and third-degree oppression unlawful in itself, but I know of nothing which can so destroy the love which America must in the end awaken in the hearts of those who may learn to understand her.

"We shall not give countenance to those who would force upon America the iron hand of czarism. We must not make the mistake of believing that it is possible for authority to control the thoughts of men. When the pathetic minority begins to seek to express itself in speech and in writing and printing, it requires all of our national good sense to determine when that expression is a menace.

ERROR EVAPORATES.

"I believe that the wisest governments which the world has known, including our own, have found that much error evaporates under exposure to the air. I believe that one of the best ways to create in discontended men and women the conviction that they are wrong is for authority to be a little more generous than simply just and right.

"I think the voice of America will say clearly that we must adjust our laws as to treason, sedition and agitation against our institutions, so that these laws will conform to the American spirit of a united America which all men and women may learn to love.

"We must insist that in the enforcement of these laws there shall be no illegal brutality, but when the laws we have approved have been broken, we must act with sure precision and unswerving authority to bring wrongdoers to an accounting."

The big auditorium was packed to the rafters for the Senator's night meeting. Mrs. Harding sat on the stage and was cheered when she was presented by the chairman as the next lady of the White House.

TALKS ON RAILROADS.

The Senator's discussion of law and order was interrupted frequently with handclapping, and when he passed on to the League issue and a condemnation of one man government, he was interrupted repeatedly by resounding cheers. Among other things he praised the Cummins-Esch law and charged that there had been almost a conspiracy during the war to put the railways permanently under government operation. He said the railway law was a long step toward industrial peace, and augued:

"I'd rather be the guarantor of industrial peace in the United States than the promoter of international peace throughout the world."

Again assailing President Wilson for his insistence on repeal of the Panama Canal tolls law, which gave free passage to American ships, Senator Harding declared he wanted to see the nation decide its own commercial course without dictation from abroad.

"When I am President," he said, "we're going to see if we can't send our ships through the Panama Canal without charging them for it."

Turning to the League issue, the nominee said:

"Somebody has been saying I don't know where I stand on the Paris League of Nations. Well, I'm not for it. The Democratic nominee says he's in favor of going in. I'm not.

TOUCHES ON BORAH.

"Somebody wants to know whether I'm in accord with Senator Borah and whether I've agreed with Senator Johnson to 'scrap' the League. It doesn't matter whether I'm in accord with Senator Borah or not. As a matter of fact, I'm not precisely in accord with him, but as President of the United States, I'll be in one position, and as a Senator he'll be in another and I don't try to control any Senator.

"Senator Johnson and I haven't spoken about 'scrapping' the League. It's already been 'scrapped' by President Wilson, and his chief agent was your neighbor and friend, Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock.

"Somebody says: Are you going to submit this League to the Senate? Never, my countrymen, with Article X in it. I know that America is in a position where they can lead the way to revision or whatever is necessary to form an association that will preserve American freedom and nationality."

COX ACCEPTS LEAGUE ISSUE.

ing crooked straw ballots for the purpose of having it appear that there is a tremendous swing in the direction desired.

ONE PROPHECY.

"I want to make merely one prophecy in regard to the balance of this campaign and that is that you will find the Republican managers will use every effort to divert your attention from the League of Nations. They will continue to make misrepresentations and will bring out, in all probability, new and trumped up charges to take the thoughts of the voters from the principal questions to be decided at the election. Personally I have sufficient faith in the men and women of this country to believe that they will see through this political hoax."

Roosevelt also criticised the address of Albert Beveridge, former United States Senator, who spoke from the same platform last night. Beveridge, he said, is a great orator who makes the kind of a speech which produces the enthusiasm of the moment, but not the deep thinking which lasts through many days. In talking about "America only," he added, "Beveridge is really thinking that we should adopt the policy which will help the leaders of the Senatorial clique that controls the Republican party only."

He again charged that Senator Harding was lined up with the reactionary element in our political life and declared there is a distinct connection between the reactionary element and the corporations which seek to own city governments or State governments, and also with the individuals who in the past have sought to purchase seats in the Senate of the United States itself by the mere use of money without regard to whether they were fitted for the position or not."

Tired and in bad voice after nearly nine strenuous weeks of campaigning, Mr. Roosevelt left here tonight for Des Moines, Iowa, where he will begin his final two weeks' campaign of the Middle West tomorrow night.

TALKS IN HIS SLEEP; WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN FREED AT RENO; DECREE ALSO TO PASADENAN'S HUSBAND.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 7.—Because her husband talks in his sleep, Mrs. Clara L. McCray, formerly of Los Angeles, was today granted a divorce from Elbert L. McCray, formerly of Los Angeles and now of Montebello, in the Reno District Court. When Mr. McCray talked in his sleep his wife listened attentively, she testified. Many times he spoke of a woman he called Hazel, Mrs. McCray told the court.

"You ought to be arrested, Hazel, if you insist on running that kind of a house," Mr. McCray at one time said in his sleep, according to his wife's testimony. Mr. McCray, according to the testimony, often boasted of keeping company with a waitress at La Brea, much to the humiliation of the plaintiff.

Mrs. McCray sought a decree on these grounds—desertion, extreme cruelty and failure to provide. A previous application for divorce, filed in Southern California, had been denied.

The couple were married at Hermosa Beach, March 10, 1913, and separated Aug. 11, 1914. The plaintiff was restored to her maiden name, Clara L. Conaway.

Grover C. Lawyer, wealthy New York business man, was today granted a divorce from Sarah M. Lawyer, who now resides in Pasadena. The defendant did not contest the action. Mr. Lawyer maintained his wife had been intimate with other men, naming D. C. Dow of New York City. The couple were married at Bedford Hills, N. Y., Nov. 22, 1905. They have resided in New York City and at Cobbleskill, N. Y., but have spent their winters for the past several years at Los Angeles and Pasadena.

COLBY TALKS OF PARTY BIGOTRY.

Declares Passion is a Bad Counsellor.

Discusses G.O.P. Claim That Change is Wanted.

Secretary Makes First Speech of Trip at Cleveland.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—An appeal for dispassionate consideration of issues in the political campaign marked the address tonight of Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, the first speech of Colby's western trip in support of the Democratic ticket.

"Anger, party bigotry, partisan malice and deep and uncontrolled antipathies," Colby said, did not form a proper background for discussion of public duty.

"Passion is a bad counsellor," he said.

"I shall not try to stir your passions. I shall be content to arrest your attention and to stir your thoughts," he continued.

The speaker took up the claim "so confidently advanced by the Republican party that it is sure of success because of the prevalent desire in the country for a change."

DEMOCRATS APPREHENSIVE.

"Even the Democrats are apprehensive that there is something in this," he said. "It may be true that many of you want a change, if so you ought to know why you do and what you hope to get by way of alternative to what you have. I refuse to discuss the questions of the hour with you on the theory that you want a change so much that you are indifferent to the question as to whether it will be for the better or the worse."

The eight "momentous years" of Democratic control, Colby said, had been marked by achievements too recent and too numerous to be seen in their just perspective and through luster.

"Now let us see what it is you desire to change," he continued. "Do you desire to change our attitude toward the Latin-American governments on this hemisphere? Have you not seen their regard for this country, their confidence in its purposes, grow by leaps and bounds with every year of wilson's administration? Would you change this?

MEXICAN QUESTION.

"Do we hear any militarist clamor for armed intervention in Mexico? No. That is all stilled. President Wilson has adhered to his high aim and his fixed purpose of treating Mexico, even while it was in the throes of dangerous disorders, with the respect due from one friendly people to another. What is the result? Mexico is on the high road to tranquil internal conditions and resumption of peaceful development. Our relations with Mexico happily are unmarred by any act of oppression. Would you change this?"

Taking up taxation, Colby said the war "was a good deal of a war and we spent a good deal of money."

"Is it not rather a sound principle," he asked, "to place the chief burden of war taxation upon those interests and individuals who have most greatly profited from war conditions? Would you change for the Republican policy of shifting the burden of all taxation upon the ultimate consumer through the familiar Republican device of the high tariff?

"The abuse which a frenzied partisanship has directed at the President" was succumbing to "an old temptation, to a base tendency in our politics," the speaker said. "Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt had been singled out by rabid and partisan hate," he added.

"Men who had hated Roosevelt now hated committees to erect memorials to him," Colby said, "and some of the same men were 'in the van' of President Wilson's detractors."

SHORTRIDGE SCORES SHIPPING LAW ACTION.

WILSON'S REFUSAL TO CARRY OUT PROVISIONS TYPICAL, HE SAYS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 7.—President Wilson's refusal to carry out the provisions of the Jones shipping law is a typically dictatorial act of the Democratic administration, declared Samuel M. Shortridge today before 800 shipyard workers, who cheered his advocacy of building up the American merchant marine.

Speaking at the Union Construction Company plant at noon, Shortridge said: "The Jones law was designed to favor American shipping and shipbuilding and to build up American commerce, yet President Wilson refused to carry out its provisions and by an act typically dictatorial, and typical of the Democratic administration, nullified the law.

"Every other great nation has a similar law to foster its shipping and commerce. The same spirit that wishes to drag this country into the League and make American interests subservient to European and Asiatic interests prompted the nullification of the Jones bill and the lowering of American welfare to that of foreign shipping and commerce."

TIA JUANA "HELL-HOLE" AND LABOR UNIONS CRITICISED

STATE BODY CALLS ON FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO PRESS BORDER WAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRESNO, Oct. 7.—With the election of officers of the State Federation of Labor narrowed down to a contest by the withdrawal of candidates nominated to oppose incumbents, L. B. Leavitt of Fresno today defeated H. T. Gissler for vice-president.

The greater part of the first day's sessions were devoted to the reading of resolutions and proposed legislation and the reports from various committees.

With but one opposing vote, delegates adopted a resolution condemning Tia Juana, Mex., as a "hell-hole" and calling on the United States Department to sit down on the treaty with Mexico for the improvement of the border city, in so far as they affect that city.

Adoption was given the following measures:

Eight-hour day for all employees.

Better sanitary conditions in restaurants, baker shops and cold storage places.

Granting of holidays to employees of State hospitals and institutions.

Establishment of a board of electrical examiners.

Favoring an increase in the men's compensation from $6 to $8 weekly to $48, and [illegible] per $1500.

For payment of workers in State money, because of the confusion arising in many places from inability to cash checks.

Proposed legislation against use of the air paint brush as being harmful to its user.

Support of the Red Cross in pledging 100 per cent membership in the fourth Red Cross roll call.

Approval of the continuation and extension of the government [illegible] system.

TIA JUANA "HELL-HOLE" LABOR UNIONS CHARGE

STATE BODY CALLS ON FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO SUPPRESS BORDER VICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRESNO, Oct. 7.—With the election of officers of the State Federation of Labor narrowed down to a contest by the withdrawal of candidates nominated to oppose the incumbents, L. B. Leavitt of Vallejo today defeated H. T. Graves for vice-president.

The greater part of the day's sessions were devoted to consideration of resolutions and proposed legislation and the reports from these committees.

With but one opposing vote the delegates adopted a resolution condemning Tia Juana, Mex., as a "hell-hole" and calling on the State Department to at once negotiate a treaty with Mexico for the suppression of the border city's vices so far as they affect this country.

Adoption was given the following measures:

Eight-hour day for street-car employees.

Better sanitary conditions in restaurants, baker shops and cold storage places.

McFIE CONFERS WITH BENSON.

Seeks Increase of Trade for Los Angeles Harbor.

Shipping Board Told Co-operation Must be Had.

Restoration of Export Rates is Also Sought.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Maynard McFie of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Marius De Brabant, vice-president of the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company, have taken steps in Washington which will tend to increase international trade for the harbor of Los Angeles.

Yesterday they had a long conference with Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, in which the real conditions surrounding the development of Los Angeles as a center of oriental and international trade were given in great detail.

MUST RETAIN SHIPS.

It was pointed out by both representatives of the Los Angeles commercial manufacturing and shipping circles that the present ships allocated to Los Angeles must be retained at the port and allowed to operate in the Pacific trade with the home flag of Los Angeles. They assert that the government owes the largest city on the Coast every encouragement, not only to operate the present ships, but to make it possible for the project to expand and develop along the highest lines.

These representatives of Los Angeles point out that the very success of the Shipping Board depended on the development of the smaller ports of the country into strong independent shipping points for export and import trade, and that no concentration of authority outside of Washington would ever permit that development.

STIFLING ATTEMPTS.

Admiral Benson was told plainly that interests antagonistic to Los Angeles were trying to smother the maritime development of the city in its infancy for fear that the supremacy in trade, manufacturing, power development and ocean tonnage would pass to that city. The active and not perfunctory co-operation of the Shipping Board was asked for the benefit of the board as well as Southern California and the city of Los Angeles.

ON EXPORT RATES.

Following the conference with Admiral Benson, the Los Angeles leaders conferred with Commissioner McChord of the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the restoration of export rates from all parts of the United States by Pacific ports.

It was pointed out that, with the recent increase in freight rates, the old export rates to the Orient were discarded and freight that is now moving to the Orient from this country is going by Gulf and Atlantic ports, with the result that many of the Shipping Board vessels are idle for lack of cargo and the Pacific Coast cities and ports are suffering because of this diversion of export trade that normally would pass through Pacific gateways.

WILL INVESTIGATE.

Commissioner McChord and other officials whom he called into conference said the matter of export rates via Pacific ports would be immediately taken up and given thorough investigation, to the end that an immediate promulgation of proper export rates might be announced within a short time.

CENTER OF INDUSTRY TO MOVE WESTWARD.

WATER POWER SHOULD BE DEVELOPED TO FORCE MOVEMENT, OFFICIAL SAYS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A. I. Vogelsang, first First Assistant Secretary of the Interior, told the Water Power League of America today the new water power act had cleared the atmosphere of much fluff and dust put in circulation by many well-meaning, but impractical people. It presents a fair chart for enterprise and investment, he declared, and at the same time fully protects the public interest.

Although 70 per cent of the potential water power of the country lies west of the Mississippi River, Mr. Vogelsang said, its development there should not be postponed until the centers of industry move westward, but should be undertaken with a view to forcing that movement.

A plea for full co-operation of power development interests with the government in realizing the splendid purposes of the water power act was made in an address by John A. Britton, vice-president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

JOLIET DEMOCRATS DODGE JOSEPHUS.

BOURBON LEADERS SAY THEY DIDN'T KNOW HE WAS TO SPEAK EVEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JOLIET (Ill.) Oct. 7.—Democratic leaders today explained the failure to meet Secretary Daniels, whose only reception last night was by newspapermen, as a fault of the Democratic Speakers' Bureau. Cancellation of the date was sent the bureau, they said, when the meeting was postponed.

The only person to know in advance of Secretary Daniels' coming was Charles Farley, superintendent of the Union Station. He started calling leading Democrats. Most of them were out of town. The notice came too late for publication in afternoon papers.

CAN WITHHOLD COIN UNDER RAILWAY ACT.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT MAY AWAIT ACCOUNTING, THE COMPTROLLER HOLDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Comptroller of the Treasury Warwick ruled today that the Treasury Department might withhold from the railroads all further payments due them under the guarantee provisions of the Transportation Act until final accounting had been completed by the railroads.

The Comptroller also ruled that any delay by the Interstate Commerce Commission in handling the certification of amounts does not alter the expressed purpose of the law. The Comptroller explained that, while the carriers might have made application prior to September 1, when the guarantee provisions expired, the treasury was not obligated to make payments on any certification reaching it after that date.

LITTLE LAD IS AUTHOR OF BLACK HAND NOTE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 7.—Detective Carl Carstensen captured the writer of a Black Hand letter today and the culprit confessed at once. Samuel Stewart, 11 years of age, was the writer.

The note was sent to Mrs. C. Holcomb yesterday, demanding that she deposit $10 under the back steps or one of her children would be kidnaped. Stewart said it took him two weeks to compose the letter. He said that he did it more as a lark than for the money which he might obtain if he succeeded in frightening Mrs. Holcomb.

CENSUS SHOWS GREAT GROWTH.

States, as announced today," said Mr. Rogers, "is 105,683,108, as compared with a total in 1910 of 91,-972,266, and in 1900 of 75,994,575. This is an increase since 1910 of 13,710,842, or 14.9 per cent, as compared with an increase from 1900 to 1910 of 15,977,691, or 21 per cent.

"The large falling off in the rate of growth for the country as a whole as shown by these figures is due mainly to an almost complete cessation of immigration for more than five years preceding the taking of the census in January, last, and in some degree also to an epidemic of influenza and to the casualties resulting from the World War.

"The results of the census of population in 1920 at first glance may seem somewhat disappointing, but the substantial accuracy of the enumeration in January is fully borne out by comparison with estimates based upon the probable excess of births over deaths throughout the decade, and the excess of immigration over emigration. From all available data it may be roughly estimated that the annual excess of births over deaths throughout the United States is approximately 1 per cent.

"This rate, compounded, would indicate an increase of approximately 10.5 per cent during the decade. Thus the nearly 92,000,000 persons present in the United States in 1910 might be expected to increase to about 101,000,000 in 1920.

"In addition, the excess of immigration over emigration during the decade was approximately 3,733,000. Since the bulk of these foreign-born persons came to the country during the first four years of the decade, it may be roughly estimated that the increase due to excess of births over deaths in their families was about 10 per cent.

"Thus the population of the country may be assumed to have been augmented by about 4,100,000 during the decade through excess of immigration over emigration. The two estimates taken together would indicate, therefore, a probable population of 105,800,000, or only a small fraction of 1 per cent more than the total shown by the returns of the Fourteenth Census.

TREND OF POPULATION.

"The figures of the present census also show that the trend of population from the country to the city has become greatly accentuated since 1910, and that for the first time in the country's history more than half the entire population is now living in urban territory as defined by the Census Bureau. That is to say, of the 105,083,108 persons enumerated in the fourteenth census, preliminary tabulations show that 54,816,209, or 51.9 per cent, are living in incorporated places of 2500 inhabitants or more, and that 50,806,899, or 48.1 per cent are in rural territory.

"In the census of 1910 the corresponding percentages were 46.3 and 53.7, respectively, showing a loss of 5.6 per cent in the proportion of the population living in rural territory.

"To show more clearly the change in the proportion of the population living in rural territory now as compared with ten years ago. The rural population can be divided into two classes, namely, 9,864,196, or 9.3 per cent, of the total population living in incorporated places of less than 2500 inhabitants, and 41,002,703, or 38.8 per cent of the total population, living in what may be called purely country districts. At the census of 1910 the population living in incorporated places of less than 2500 inhabitants formed 8.8 per cent, while the population living in purely country districts formed 44.8 per cent of the total population.

"The increase since 1910 in the population as a whole, as before stated, was 14.9 per cent, but during the decade there has been an increase in that portion of the population living in urban territory of 12,-192,826, or 28.6 per cent, and in that portion living in rural territory of 1,518,016, or only 3.1 per cent. If the comparison is extended to cover the two classes of rural territory it appears that that portion living in incorporated places of less than 2500 inhabitants shows an increase of 1,745,371, or 21.5 per cent, whereas that portion living in purely country districts shows an actual decrease of 227,355, or six-tenths of 1 per cent.

"The percentages of increase shown for the several States vary greatly, due in part to the causes which have been noted as affecting the increase in the population of the country as a whole, but also in part to the abnormal internal movement of population required to meet the excessive demands of the war work in certain sections. For three States—Mississippi, Nevada and Vermont—there have been small decreases in population, the largest decrease being for Nevada, 5.5 per cent."

REVISED FIGURES

Detroit (revised,) 993,678; increase, 527,912, or 113.3 per cent. Previously announced 993,739.

Philadelphia (revised,) 1,823,779; increase, 274,771, or 17.7 per cent. Previously announced 1,823,158.

St. Paul (revised,) 234,630; increase, 19,936, or 9.3 per cent.

FARM CENSUS

The farm census was: There are in the United States 6,459,998 farms, an increase of 98,496, or 1.5 per cent, over the total number recorded in 1910.

RECORD DECADE.

In the decade ending with 1910 the total population, exclusive of outlying possessions, was 91,972,-266. During those ten years the numerical increase was the largest of any decade in its history, while the rate of growth was 21 per cent. The gain in that decade was four times what the total population of the country was in 1790, when the first Federal census was taken, while the total population in 1910 was almost twenty-three times larger than it was in 1790.

With the outlying possessions, the United States in 1910 had a population of 101,116,487. These possessions included Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, the Panama Canal Zone, Guam and Samoa, and the total of persons in the military and naval service abroad was added. This year the population of the Virgin Islands of the United States, acquired from Denmark, is included.

The growth of the country's population, exclusive of the outlying possessions, is set forth briefly in the following table:

| Census year. | Population. | Increase. | P.c. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1920 | 105,683,108 | 13,710,842 | 14.9 |
| 1910 | 91,972,266 | 15,977,691 | 21.0 |
| 1900 | 75,994,575 | 13,046,861 | 20.7 |
| 1890 | 62,947,714 | 12,791,931 | 25.5 |
| 1880 | 50,155,783 | 11,597,412 | 29.1 |
| 1870 | 38,558,371 | 7,115,060 | 22.6 |
| 1860 | 31,443,321 | 8,251,445 | 35.6 |
| 1850 | 23,191,876 | 6,122,429 | 35.9 |
| 1840 | 17,069,453 | 4,201,435 | 32.7 |
| 1830 | 12,866,020 | 3,227,367 | 33.5 |
| 1820 | 9,638,453 | 2,866,572 | 29.1 |
| 1810 | 7,239,881 | 1,931,398 | 36.4 |
| 1800 | 5,308,483 | 1,379,209 | 35.1 |
| 1790 | 3,929,214 | ..... | ..... |

FIX REPRESENTATION.

That apportionment, as soon as Director Rogers certifies to Congress the exact number of people in each State, will be taken up by the House of Representatives at its coming session and during the coming year the body will by law fix the number of Congressmen from each State.

There has been discussion as to whether the membership of the House of Representatives, now fixed at 435, should not be reduced, as that number is considered by some parliamentarians as too large and unwieldy a body. People of some States are fearful that their representation in the House might be cut down, and oppose any reduction.

In 1790 the number of Representatives was fixed at sixty-five, each representing approximately 30,000 people. The number has increased with each decade, based on census returns, until each of the present 435 members of the House represents approximately 211,877. The actual ratio of representation varies from 80,293 in Nevada to 238,027 in Washington, Nevada, Delaware, Wyoming and Arizona, whose populations were less than the number which would entitle them to one Representative by apportionment, each were given one under constitutional provision that each State shall have at least one Representative in the House.

NEBRASKA GOES BACK.

Populations of the last two States in the 1920 census, made public tonight, show Minnesota to have moved into seventeenth place, passing Tennessee and Alabama, with a population of 2,386,371. Nebraska, with a population of 1,295,502, an increase of 103,288, or 8.7 per cent, falls into thirty-first place, Washington and Connecticut having passed it in the 1920 census.

Iowa's population, announced today as 2,403,630, an increase of 178,859, or 8 per cent, more than makes up for the decrease shown for the State in the thirteenth census. It fell below North Carolina, which ranked directly below it in 1910.

CHARGE USE OF DUMMIES.

Senate Subcommittee Investigating Cox State Campaign.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DAYTON (O.) Oct. 7.—Use of dummies to conceal the source of contributions to a $37,000 campaign fund used in the gubernatorial election of Gov. Cox, Democratic Presidential candidate, in 1916, was charged in testimony today before a Senate subcommittee composed of Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, and Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey.

Though the inquiry primarily was to ascertain the disposition of proceeds of a $5000 note alleged to have been given by Gov. Cox, Aug. 16, 1917, to the City National Bank of Dayton, and paid by the Dayton Metal Products Company June 29, 1919, as well as why the Dayton Metal Products Company paid the note, the committee tonight had proceeded no further in that direction than to establish the existence of the note and the check given in payment. They were introduced in evidence and identified by Walter Davidson, vice-president of the bank.

Through Adam Schantz, a member of the Dayton Flood Prevention Committee, and also through testimony of Marvyn Scudder, New York accountant, it was brought out that Col. E. A. Deeds, H. E. Talbott, C. F. Kettering, Schantz, and Walter Kidder, who each gave $7000, and F. M. Tait, who gave $2000, a $37,000 fund had been subscribed to help re-elect Gov. Cox, as Mr. Schantz expressed it, "for the purpose of preserving the law (conservancy law) through Gov. Cox."

This money, they testified, had been turned over to Schantz, who said that he had given $31,000 to three associations to be used in furthering the protection of the conservancy law enacted as a flood prevention measure.

SEEKS INCREASE IN LOS ANGELES RATES.

GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY MAKES APPLICATION TO STATE COMMISSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company applied to the Railroad Commission today for permission to increase its electric rates for the first time since the beginning of the war in order to meet a rise recently allowed the municipal electric system of Los Angeles.

The commission refused A. B. Watson, owner of the Crown Stage Company operating between Los Angeles and Orange county points, permission to increase his fares and ordered an investigation of the affairs of the company, as a result of testimony which, according to the commission, indicated that he was getting a return of 29 per cent of his investment. The commission pointed out that Watson had included $11,000 in franchise values as operating expenses, contrary to rules of the commission, and that these items had made his net return appear lower than it actually was.

CALL GENERAL STRIKE IN PORTUGAL.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MADRID, Oct. 7.—Reports that a general strike has been called throughout Portugal are confirmed by travelers from that country who have arrived at Badajos. Postal, telegraph and telephone workers, naval reservists, bakers and dock laborers have all ceased work, and the majority of the railway men have walked out, although in a few localities trains are being run.

There seems to be an agreement in reports that the Portuguese government is convinced the strike is purely revolutionary.

Destroyer Makes Safe Trip Guided by New Invention

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The United States destroyer Semmos crept into port through Ambrose Channel yesterday blindfolded. With the windows of the pilot house shrouded, its navigator steered his course by ear—listening to the high pitched hum of a submerged, electrically charged channel cable.

The Semmes made the blind passage safely in a test by the Navy Department of a new sound guide for vessels, planned to aid ships in thick weather.

On both sides of the destroyer earlike receivers were attached, making it possible for the navigator to keep directly over the cable.

KILLED BY SHOCK FROM ELECTRIC GRILL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 7.—Juvenile Judge J. W. Gardner, candidate for District Attorney on the Democratic ticket, was instantly killed this morning by electrocution, when he picked up a small electric grill on which his wife was going to cook breakfast at his home in Logan.

Mrs. Gardner had turned the switch on the grill, and as it failed to heat had asked her husband to see what was the matter. He picked it up and fell dead to the floor. Mr. Gardner was standing on a hot air register when he picked up the grill.

Investigation by the City Electrician showed that a limb had fallen from a tree in the yard of his home and the house service wire lay across a 2300-volt city power line. It was this heavy voltage which caused the fatality. Mr. Gardner was about 40 years of age and prominent in political circles.

MANILA IS AGAINST ORIENTAL LABORERS.

LEADERS PLAN CAMPAIGN TO OFFSET PROPOSED LEGISLATION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MANILA (P. I.) Oct. 7.—Union labor leaders today organized a speaking campaign against proposed legislation to admit Oriental laborers into the Philippines. Prominent vernacular writers and speakers have been organized into squads, which will stump Manila and other cities.

Speakers plan a series of four-minute addresses in theaters, cockpits, or wherever crowds gathered, to voice opposition to new oriental immigration.

It has been announced that several bills intended to permit oriental immigration have been prepared for introduction in the Legislature, meeting October 18.

STORY OF HIS CAPTURE.

Rodriguez, Taken as Kidnaper, Tried to Get the Denton Reward.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Eighteen-year-old Josephine Villareal, who was mysteriously kidnaped last Saturday and her abductor, Joseph Rodrigues, alias Joseph Burleson, were arrested in this city at noon Tuesday.

The arrest was made by Police Captain John O'Meara and detectives after Rodrigues telephoned to a friend at the Selma restaurant, 1416 Powell street, and stated that he and the girl were at Market and Valencia streets. The detectives hurried there and made the arrest.

Rodriguez was first booked on three charges; kidnaping, assault and mistreatment, and impersonating an officer. He had in his possession a Los Angeles deputy sheriff's badge. The Villareal girl was held as a witness.

HIS FIRST STORY.

In his original statement to Capt. O'Meara Tuesday, Rodriguez told the following story of his queer dealings in this city:

"I overheard something in Calexico that I considered a good tip and might lead to the arrest of the murderer of Denton. I told it to O. W. Biddinger, who I knew was a private detective, and politician in Los Angeles and has been working to get the job of Chief of Police there.

"I told him I could find people who had connection with the case in San Francisco and we came here. I wanted a Spanish girl as an interpreter in our investigation work and in the Selma restaurant Friday I was recommended to the Villareal girl by Willtan Torres of 30 Ramona Place, who knew her. I sent Mrs. Myrtle Bristo, whom Biddinger and I had hired for detective work, to engage the girl, and when she could not get her I went to the house myself with Torres about midnight, but her foster mother, Mrs. M. Villareal, would not let her take the job. Saturday morning I met the girl and she said she would go with me because she wanted to get away from her foster mother. We went to the Kern Hotel and I told the girl I liked her and would marry her. Sunday morning I was told the police were after me and to take the girl and hide some place."

"BIT OF PLAY."

When asked why he had engaged Mrs. Myrtle Bristo and instructed her to pose as Edna Fisher, a woman said to be implicated in several bank robberies and in the Denton murder, he averred it was merely a bit of play used in the detective business. He said that of the same nature were his instructions to the Villareal girl to claim that she had a sister in Los Angeles who was a mistress to Denton, the murdered man. Rodriguez is a dapper young Spaniard of 25, wears flashy clothes, and says his father is a rancher in Arizona.

In her statement to O'Meara, the Villareal girl said that Rodriguez promised to marry her, then offered her a job as a detective, then mistreated her and threatened to turn her over to the police in turn. Every five minutes, she declares, she found him in a different mood. She stated that she begged him to let her go home, but he would not. He insisted that she follow out his instructions by posing as the sister of a Spanish girl in Los Angeles, said to be implicated in the Denton case. She said she feared Rodriguez had was sure that he was planning to get her into some crooked play out of which she might expect the worst.

O'Meara declared that he believed Rodriguez intended to mix innocent persons in the Denton murder investigation for what money he could get out of it and proved this by engaging the Bristo woman and the Villareal girl and instructing them to pose as persons implicated in the case, O'Meara said.

POLICE DOUBT SLAYER'S STORY.

any other articles he could get in his cell.

Records in the identification bureau at Central Station show that Joe Rodriguez is 23 years old, 5 feet and 10 inches tall, weighs 142 pounds, and has dark chestnut hair. He was raised in Arizona, speaks English and Spanish and claims he speaks French and German.

In September, 1918, a bulletin was sent out by the local police, asking for his arrest on a charge of petty larceny. At that time he was on probation, having received a ninety-day suspended sentence in Police Judge White's court, which he violated.

Rodriguez was arrested in June, 1918, and committed to the County Jail for impersonating a government officer.

In January, 1920, Chief of Police Truax of Fresno asked for his arrest on a charge of embezzlement. The bulletin of the Fresno police stated that he had been soliciting orders for suits of clothes in Fresno, collecting the sums of money as part payment on the orders, but he failed to make any deliveries of the suits.

In May, 1920, he was arrested by Detectives Harris and Rico on a charge of fraud and sentenced to 180 days in Lincoln Heights Police Station. His term expired on Sept. 8, 1920.

If Rodriguez is the same man who is under arrest in San Francisco, his confession is untrue, for at the time Denton was slain, which is thought to be the first week of last June, Rodriguez was behind the bars at the Lincoln Heights station.

TO THE GRAND JURY.

Announcement was made yesterday by Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Doran that such information as the District Attorney and the police detectives have regarding the murder of Denton will be taken before the county grand jury next Thursday.

It was understood that Mrs. Peete, who lived at the Denton home for over two months while the body was buried, and her husband will be called. One of the most important witnesses, it was said, will be William F. Heitzman, the man who carried the dirt into the basement to place it over the spot where the body was buried. Crowhurst will be another witness before the jury. Others will include Mrs. Mamie Tilton, who pawned a ring for Mrs. Peete; Attorney Rush Bloget and Private Detective A. J. Cody, who found the body; the police detectives who have been working on the case and Dr. Webb, the surgeon who performed the autopsy. Prof. Arthur Mass, toxicologist, who made a chemical analysis of the viscera of the body, will also be an important witness.

Hal Hayden and W. K. Door, automobile men, and D. S. Dale, a broker, all of whom knew Denton before his death, will identify the body at the inquest to be held Saturday. Some of the other witnesses will be called at this time as well.

Upon proper return being made, Judge Willis yesterday dismissed the application of Judge O. N. Hilton for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Mrs. R. C. Peete, a witness in the Denton case. Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Doran and Raymond I. Turney, a deputy, made the return that Mrs. Peete was "not now and was not the time of the issuance of said writ in the custody" of the District Attorney or either of them.

WHAT SHE SAYS.

"Well, it didn't affect my appetite any," was Mrs. R. C. Peete's first comment to a Times reporter after hearing of the "confession" by Rodriguez.

She had received the news secondhanded through her husband and then had calmly gone to dinner at the La Crescenta Hotel, where the Peete's are staying.

"I don't know the man," she declared. "I never heard his name before. Of course, I know Crowhurst, but have never seen his wife unless she was the woman Crowhurst introduced as Marie, his half-sister, and who worked around the house a couple of days for me."

Unaccompanied by Miss Hal Bland, representative of the District Attorney's office, who is staying at the hotel with her, Mrs. Peete and her husband then shifted the scene of the interview to a reception room at the hotel, where they talked until the arrival an hour later of Detective Sergeants Charles Jones and Sid Hickok, who questioned her briefly regarding Rodriguez's statements.

"I am not in the least concerned by the reported confession," Mrs. Peete said. "There is nothing for me to be worried about. I'm sure I don't know the man. Of course, the whole affair is very unpleasant and regrettable, but I am not alarmed or embarrassed. Even if I were arrested I would not be embarrassed—that is, I would have nothing to fear.

"As for Crowhurst, I know that he didn't have anything to do with it. He doesn't know any more about it than that hat on the table. I'm sure he doesn't from what I know of him and what I've read of his statements."

Mrs. Peete then led the conversation to suit her own inclinations, turning the trick until she herself was doing the interviewing. She displayed great interest about the workings of a newspaper, inquired about the number of reporters, how they gathered their news from outside the city, how they worked on different points of the same story and why they emphasized certain things.

"I thought of correcting some little things which were said," Mrs. Peete remarked, "but after thinking it over decided not to bother." And then she discussed shadings of meaning.

During her conversation she carefully avoided reference to any vital points of the Denton mystery. When attempts were made to question her on them she skillfully maneuvered away from the subject. Her husband explained that she would make no statements bearing directly on the case until after the grand jury investigation.

Only once during the talk did she display emotion. Discussing some of her experiences in Denver she began talking about some friends and their kindness. She began to twist her handkerchief nervously and finally as her voice broke a little, said, "Pardon me, I'm crying." Then with scarcely a pause she continued her story.

When the detective sergeants came to the hotel, Mr. Jones asked her only a few questions. She thanked him for coming out rather than having her go to the District Attorney's office and the conversation turned to other topics for a few minutes before the detectives left.

"There's nothing to say about the confession," Jones commented on leaving Mrs. Peete, "except that she wasn't at all alarmed about it and does not know the people mentioned except Crowhurst."

TO IDENTIFY BODY.

Helping clinch one of the strongest points in the identification of the body as that of Denton, a new witness was found yesterday who will testify at the Coroner's inquest that he is positive Denton suffered a fractured right forearm late in 1915 at Oatman, Ariz. This point, raised first by business friends of Denton, was somewhat discounted when it was learned that his relatives did not remember of the fracture.

The new witness, who is a Los Angeles business man, and whose name is being withheld, worked for Denton at Oatman in 1915 and 1916. He declared yesterday he recalls perfectly incidents to establish that Denton's arm was broken. With this point settled, investigators are confident they will have little difficulty in identifying the body at the inquest. The physical measurements correspond to Denton's, a gold tooth was located at the same place in the mouth that Denton had one, and the arm was fractured, as was Denton's, all of which added to the fact that the body was dressed in Denton's clothing should leave little if any doubt, the investigators say.

Alleged Smugglers Captured.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

TACOMA, Oct. 7.—Under fire of automatic pistols in the hands of several Federal officers, two men made a vain attempt to escape in a launch here and as a result are in jail charged with attempting to smuggle whisky from Canada. The launch is being held by the government and liquor valued at several thousand dollars is declared to rest at the bottom of Tacoma's harbor.

Constipation.

The beginning of almost every serious disorder is constipation. If you want to enjoy good health keep your bowels regular. This is best accomplished by proper diet and exercise, but sometimes a medicine is needed and when that is the case you will find Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action, easy and pleasant to take. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.—[Advertisement.]

WHISKY WITHDRAWAL PLACED UNDER BANS.

BONDED WAREHOUSES LOCKED TIGHT TEMPORARILY AT KRAMER'S ORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Withdrawal of whisky from bonded warehouses in the city of New York and parts of New Jersey and Pennsylvania has been stopped temporarily, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer announced today. The action was taken, he said, in an effort to check illicit sale of liquor in these sections.

Secrecy has surrounded the orders issued several weeks ago. The commissioner said they had brought about a great reduction in the outstanding stocks of whisky in hands of wholesalers, druggists and others. Much of this had been obtained under subterfuge and fraud, he said, and it was planned to cut off the supply as a means of checking selling.

Mr. Kramer said the ban would be maintained for awhile longer. He said A. L. Dalrymple, prohibition commissioner at Chicago, had requested that a similar order be issued for the Chicago district, but the Prohibition Bureau had not yet determined on a course in that city.

WAGE ISSUE STARTS TROUBLE IN GERMANY.

REDUCTION IN PAY MAY CAUSE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL FIGHT.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—On the issue that general reduction in prices must involve an initial reduction in wages an embittered fight between the owners and the employees of the principal Berlin newspapers, including the Tageblatt, the Lokal Anzeiger and the Vossische Zeitung, has resulted in the suspended publication of those papers. It is expected that the issue may precipitate a national struggle between capital and labor in Germany.

Many large employers have declared that reduction in wages has become necessary in view of economic conditions. The Berlin newspapers took the lead in extensive wage reductions. Employees countered with demands for increase of wages and refused to set up advertisements for nonunion workmen.

Both the labor and Socialist parties expect a fight to a finish with economic and political consequences of first importance. Already the Socialists are clamoring for the immediate socialization of the coal mines and other basic industries. Edlor von Braun, chairman of the National Economic Council, has issued a statement in which he says socialization will not satisfy the workers, but will merely diminish production. He declares that the country is on the brink of an abyss which threatens the nation's economic life and disaster is to be averted only by the unity of the nation.

Bankruptcy cases in Germany increased 100 per cent for the third quarter of the year, compared with the first quarter.

BLAMES CROWHURST.

Husband Names Denton Murder Case Witness in Divorce Suit.

A newspaper reproduction of the picture of J. W. Crowhurst, an important witness in the Denton murder mystery, was identified in Judge Jackson's court yesterday as a likeness of the man whose name was connected with that of Mrs. Marie Andersen. It was testified that Mrs. Andersen had been seen on several occasions with Mr. Crowhurst.

Mr. Andersen, who sought a divorce, testified the police had informed him that Mr. Crowhurst admitted he was living with Mrs. Andersen. The complaint charged that Mrs. Andersen misconducted herself in Mr. Crowhurst's apartments, 1516 South Hope street, December 10, last, and at other times within six months past. The decree was granted.

The Andersens were married June 27, 1909, and separated June 3, last.

An Open Letter

Los Angeles, Cal.
Oct. 8, 1920

Hello, Marie: . . . . . .

Just a line to tell you that I'm still on the ahclent sphere.

"What have we been doing?" Put on your long distance specs and look, old dear! What haven't we been doing is more to the point.

You ought to see the Unifrom the girls are wearing now! Smart! They're the last word in neatness and are the most sensible thing a girl can wear for school. Hunt up those pictures and take a long look at the uniforms, Marie. You'll like them, I know.

Oh, say! I've just heard that Bullock's has the Skirts at $8.95, $9.75 and $11.75. They're of good French serge and so reasonable for the quality. I want to tell you that the middies are reduced to $2.90 with the collars and cuffs. The latter are 95c a set—and the Middies may be had for $1.95 without the collars and cuffs. They have ties of taffeta with three rows of stitching and they tie them sailor fashion. Think what a saving of time and money that is! And they're only $1.95! And they're all on the Fourth Floor at Bullock's. See them yourself when you come in town. "A word to the wise," you know.

And shoes for Gym! Why—Bullock's have high-top Keds at $2.25! Low Keds you can get at $2.00—the high ones at $2.25. They're of Goodrich rubber. Think of the wear in them! And—they have Bulldog Slippers at $2.00, too. These are the latest in Footwear you know, and Bullock's have them at Nine, Ten and Eleven Dollars. They're as neat as the proverbial nine pins, Marie. I ought to tell Uncle Jim about them. Surely—either black or brown.

Hurry and come before Halloween because we're going to have high jinks at school. Be sure and bring all your wrap—you might wait till next June, for Bullock's have the cutest Jersey Wool Tuxedo coats in Red and Navy Blue for $10.95. They surely are nifty—and how those you and I wanted them. Ring me up when you get good 'n ready and I'll be there. Don't wait a next period—you wait and see!

Yours hastily,
Sophia Forsythe.

CANNOT PROTECT GERMAN BORDER

Handicapped by Lack of Troops, Teuton Claim.

Cannot Afford to Come to Terms With Soviet.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—One of the Allied governments has just made a complaint to the German government regarding conditions in East Prussia, pointing out that Germany is keeping an insufficient frontier guard so that Bolshevist troops which recently entered East Prussia and were interned are recrossing the frontier at will and Germans also are crossing to join the Russians in the war against the Poles.

Germany's answer, which was given in a note today, admits that the frontier is inadequately guarded, but says that it is now impossible to supply a strong enough guard owing to the reduction of the army in accordance with the terms of the peace treaty. The German government contends it has done the best possible to guard the frontier, especially the Lithuanian section. Moreover, Germany has taken precautions against the escape of Russians interned in East Prussia by transporting 6000 of them to other parts of Germany.

DENY GERMANS CROSS.

The charge that Germans are crossing the frontier to join the Bolsheviki is indignantly denied.

Bolshevists living in Germany assert that Germany is trying to curry favor with the soviet government and point out that M. Kopp, the soviet commissioner to Germany, is allowed to come and go as he pleases in the German prison camps. Officials meet this criticism by saying that this is only a part of Kopp's functions and rights as the Russians' official representative.

MUST FIGHT BOLSHEVISM.

On the subject of the possible drawing together of Germany and Russia negative assurances were given. It was said that Germany in her own interests could not afford to come to terms with the soviet government because Germany probably will have to fight Bolshevism within its own borders and would be handicapped therein by an arrangement with the Moscow government.

There are still about 200,000 Russian prisoners in Germany whom Berlin is anxious to send back. The work of repatriation is proceeding but many of the Russians do not want to return and of those repatriated a small contingent succeeds in escaping from the transports daily and recrossing into Germany.

EVENTS IN GERMANY PRESAGING TROUBLE.

RHINE STATES ANGRY AT GOVERNMENT; FIGHT FRENCH PROPAGANDA.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Recent events in Germany have developed two possibilities for trouble and revolution. First, the government promised autonomy in Upper Silesia should a plebiscite in that district result in favor of the Germans. This has aroused the envy of the Rhine group of states, which want the same rights.

Second, there is a possibility of trouble arising should the French attempt a coup in Bavaria, where they have been active, according to documents seized when Col. Kund Wurzberg, editor of the Friend of the Royalist, and Count Bothmers, were arrested. The Leipsic Supreme Court, to which high treason cases are usually referred, holds these papers in secret. French popaganda is encountering strong opposition in Wurtemburg and Baden. Baden, especially, is very much against separation.

PACKER IS DEAD.

Edward Haakinson, 76 years old, of 2171 West Twenty-fourth street, died suddenly at his home Tuesday evening. Death was probably due to heart failure. Mr. Haakinson was a native of Sioux City, where he had been a pioneer in the packing industry. He is survived by a wife and one son, both residing here. Funeral arrangements will probably be completed within a day or so. The body is at the chapel of George A. Fitch.

SINN FEIN MAY ACCEPT SCHEME.

Broad Measure of Dominion Home Rule Proposed.

Moderates' Peace Council to Visit Lloyd George.

Split in Ranks is Denied by Arthur Griffith.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein have intimated that, although they desire complete separation of Ireland from England, they would not oppose a broad measure of dominion home rule if it can be proved a majority of the Irish people demand it, says the Daily Mail. This intimation, the newspaper declares, was given in response to approaches made by the Irish peace council, a body of moderates from all parts of Ireland, which has just completed a plan for dominion home rule in the island.

Prior to adjournment of Parliament members of this council interviewed Premier Lloyd George, who told them that before submitting any scheme they must be able to assure him of sufficient support in Ireland. This support the council claims to have obtained, and the Mail asserts the Premier will receive a deputation from the organization next week to take the initial step in the scheme.

The first thing that will be done, the newspaper says, will be the creation of a constituent assembly for Ireland, in which Ulster will be given representation.

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—Reports that the Sinn Fein organization has become divided against itself were vigorously denied here today by Arthur Griffith, leader of the organization, during a long interview with the Associated Press. He reiterated charges he recently made that raids of reprisal were a result of calculated policy of British government officials, and challenged Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, who recently denied these charges, to submit them to an investigation by an impartial tribunal to be appointed by the British government or the United States Supreme Court.

"There will be no settlement except upon the basis of Irish independence," Mr. Griffith said. "The British government authorities are making a special effort to terrorize the Irish people and force them to abandon their claim for independence before the British Parliament reassembles and the American Presidential election is held."

Asked if the Sinn Fein would enter into negotiations with the British government, he replied:

"The government has made us no proposal and is trying to ignore our existence. We have a mandate from our people to set up a republic, and until that mandate is withdrawn we have no authority to accept anything less than complete independence."

"Is there a state of war in Ireland?" the correspondent asked.

"Ireland in 1918," Mr. Griffith replied, "peacefully and constitutionally registered its vote for independence, according to the principle of self-determination, enunciated by America and accepted by England in her hour of need. Since then England has been seeking to overcome the ballot by the bullet. She is waging against Ireland an economic war, reinforced by murder and arson."

"England entered Ireland with methods of warfare far more brutal than Germany used in Belgium."

CHARGE SENSATIONAL.

One of the most sensational charges Mr. Griffith made was that many untried political prisoners had been tortured in prison with medieval methods to force them to give false information against Irish leaders. He declared he would later make these methods public. He described a system called planking, which, he alleged, had been adopted in night raids.

"The British government," he asserted, 'is sending on these raids men disguised as English officers or Dublin policemen. They are called plankers. They carry ammunition and forged documents which they place, say, under a bed, and then call in soldiers to search the house where the papers have been deposited."

Mr. Griffith declared John Lynch, County Councillor of Limerick, who was shot to death in a Dublin hotel on September 23, was on a list marked for assassination. He said Lynch knew he was going to be shot, but thought it was safe for him to be in Dublin.

The Power of an Outspoken "YES"

The Gillette Safety Razor Company—largest of its kind in the world—was founded upon an idea. An idea so fundamental that it has changed the personal habits of a generation of men.

It was the idea of a personal shaving service—of putting into a man's own hands a razor that would shave him better and quicker and more satisfactorily than he had ever shaved before.

Out in the lumber camps of Michigan, down in the cotton fields of the South, in the heart of the big city, in the country village—the first Gillettes found their way into the hands of men who were on the lookout for better things—men who were not content with all the habits their fathers and grandfathers had passed down to them.

These men tried out the Gillette—found in it what they were looking for.

They found that it gave them the service they had always expected of a razor and had never received.

They talked about their discovery. They passed on the idea to their neighbors. They gave it their outspoken approval.

Today twenty million men of all classes, in every country on earth, are actively standing behind the Gillette—coming out publicly in favor of it—making it an issue in their personal affairs.

They are men of conviction, of ideas—who believe in the Gillette for what it does and what it has done for other men—and who refuse to shave or be shaved with any other kind of Razor.

Outspoken approval on the part of users is the greatest power in business today.

The reason, perhaps, why more than a quarter of a million merchants in this country prefer to be known as "Gillette Dealers" rather than by any other title.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

...FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The ...ing situation for rice in Cali- ...fornia, is critical because the merchants are buying from hand to mouth, R. C. Mason, secretary of the Rice Association of California, said today in discussing a conference of rice interests in Colusa on the crisis that confronts them.

"Considerable anxiety about the marketing of the California rice crop, estimated to be over 4,000,000 bags, which is well over last year's figure, has been felt by the growers in the California valleys," Mason said. "There is no doubt that this is fully justified.

"It must be remembered that the California crop, however, is an infinitesimal part of the world's crop. The Louisiana and Texas crops are moving slowly, and it must be remembered that those Southern States are at a great advantage over California, when it comes to freight rates."

Mason held that there must be a price adjustment or a time will come when the growers will have to sell and dump their crop on the market. He said the growers should dispose of their crops rather than withhold stocks until they are forced to yield by financial pressure.

SAYS WILSON HAS NO STENOGRAPHIC REPORT

TUMULTY ANSWERS SPENCER'S REQUEST IN ROW OVER LEAGUE STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Today's contribution from the White House in the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer of Missouri, who charged the President with having definitely promised the aid of the American Army and Navy to Rumania and Serbia at the Peace Conference, was a statement by Secretary Tumulty that the President has no stenographic report of the eighth plenary session, at which the promise is alleged to have been made, and that so far as the President knows there is no such record in this country. Senator Spencer called for the record.

"President Wilson tells me there is no stenographic record of the proceedings of the conference in his possession," Mr. Tumulty said, "and so far as the President knows there is none in this country."

EXPECTS REDUCTION IN GROSS NATIONAL DEBT.

SECRETARY HOUSTON ANNOUNCES NEW OFFERING OF CERTIFICATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Further reduction of the gross national and floating debt was forecast by Secretary Houston tonight, in announcing a new offering of treasury certificates of indebtedness to be dated October 15 and mature in five months at 4¾ per cent interest.

Simultaneously with the sale of the new certificates, which will not exceed $100,000,000, an issue of certificates totaling $125,000,000 will mature and the treasury also will be called upon to pay the semiannual interest on Liberty Bonds of the fourth loan. This interest payment will approximate $125,000,000, Secretary Houston said.

"A further reduction in both gross debt and floating debt may therefore be expected in connection with the October 15 offering of treasury certificates," the statement said.

WOMAN SEIZED WITH MANIA TO USE GUN.

KILLS NEIGHBOR BUSY AT HER IRONING; HAS DAUGHTER IN LOS ANGELES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Oct. 7.—Mrs. M. E. Jackson, aged 75 years, was shot and almost instantly killed as she was standing near the front door of her home ironing shortly before noon this morning. A woman arrested later by the police in Lambert street, where she is said to have fired into a home and to have shot several times at some children in the neighborhood today, told the police of the killing and directed officers where they would find the bodies. The woman gave her name as Mrs. N. S. Zickefoose and said she lived just across the street from the home of the dead woman.

Mrs. Zickefoose is said to be deranged.

"I killed a woman this morning just across the street from where I live," the woman told the officers when arrested.

Directed by Mrs. Zickefoose, officers hurried to the Jackson home on Erie avenue, where they found the aged woman lying on the floor of the front room with a bullet wound just above the right eye. She had apparently been dead for some time, officers said. An electric iron resting on an ironing board near the dead woman was still burning.

"I went across the street and shot the woman," Mrs. Zickefoose told the officers. "I then came back to the house and got my three children and we boarded a street car. I don't know why I should want to kill anyone."

Mrs. Jackson, the slain woman, has a daughter, Mrs. S. Knutte, living at 3905 Wall street, Los Angeles, and is said to have a son and daughter living in Luling, Tex.

THEATER WILL HOUSE SUNDAY-SCHOOL MEET.

SESSIONS OF WORLD CONVENTION WILL NOT BE HALTED BY FIRE AT TOKIO.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TOKIO, Oct. 6.—Session of the World's Sunday-school Convention, which were interrupted yesterday afternoon by the fire which destroyed the great hall where the first meeting was held, will be resumed tomorrow in the beautiful Imperial Theater. The playhouse was offered the committee in charge by its founder. Viscount Eiichi Schibusawa, president of the American Japan Association. Premier Hara offered the committee use of the halls of the Japanese Diet, if necessary.

Other meetings are to be held in Manila, Hongkong and Canton, and the Sunday-school message will be carried from Tokio to Jerusalem through meetings in Japanese provinces, Korea, China, Singapore, Colombo, India, Cairo and Palestine.

Delegates to the convention are unanimous in praise of Miss Caroline Schereschewky, an American missionary and daughter of a former Episcopal bishop to China, for her coolness during the fire. It was said her heroism prevented a disastrous stampede at the tabernacle. She spoke commandingly in Japanese and English and induced an orderly retirement of the crowd regardless of risk to herself.

Several persons, including some Americans, were knocked down and walked over during the rush for the exits, but were not badly hurt.

CADILLAC PRICES GUARANTEED

Against Reduction to the End of the Fiscal Year, May 1, 1921

There can be no cheapening of the Cadillac either in price or quality.

Present prices will be maintained because a car such as the Cadillac is today cannot be built and sold for less money.

It is generally conceded that there is no better motor car in the world regardless of price. The Cadillac in comparison with other high grade cars is actually underpriced from $500 to $2000.

We make this guarantee to assure purchasers who fear reductions, but the guarantee does not protect against price advances.

CHICAGO BANKERS WILL AID BUILDING PROGRAM.

LANDLORDS KEEP EMPTY FLATS LOCKED WHILE GOUGING HELPLESS TENANTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Five million dollars is to be made available to build flats and houses in Chicago to relieve the deplorable housing conditions. The real estate board and other agencies have about reached an agreement with the bankers whereby the money is to be forthcoming for this imperative work. Bankers have been unwilling to finance any building projects under the present extremely high cost of materials and labor—especially the brand of labor that gives nothing in return for its high wages. Now that the material dealers have cut the prices on lumber, hardware, paint and other necessities, and the labor unions have given a pledge to minimize their jurisdictional disputes and to refrain from making new wage demands for a period of one year, the bankers are inclined to act in on the proposition to build a large number of new homes.

There were scenes bordering on the riotous in the City Hall today when hordes of tenants arrived to pour out their woes. They had been ordered to the street by admanantine landlords and there was no place for them to go. Judge Moran, who tried to hear the cases in a babel of voices, did not see how he could offer much relief. The landlords are acting within their legal rights in throwing out tenants to make room for others who will pay the exorbitant rentals and until Illinois passes a new housing, law, there seems to be no remedy.

Hundreds of families are facing eviction within five days with absolutely no place to go. The police, who made a secret survey, say there are 5000 vacant flats in the city which the landlords are keeping locked while they gouge the helpless renters.

WOMEN NOT ANXIOUS TO SERVE ON JURY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. — Magistrate Boyer of Evanston had read about the successful work of women on juries and he also desired to pay a graceful tribute to the fair sex, lately come into full suffrage rights. Before him was a case involving a home and he thought anything affecting the home was of peculiar interest to women. So he instructed his bailiff to go out and get a jury of women. Two hours later the bailiff returned alone, jaded and dispirited.

He had asked twenty women to serve on the jury, gone to their homes, stopped them on the streets, tackled them in stores, argued, exhorted pleaded, threatened—but he came back alone. Some of the women were going to the theater, some to afternoon receptions, others had to care for their babies, still others were going into the city on a shopping foray, others thought the courtrooms "horrible," one wanted to ask her husband first and he would not be home until evening, two stenographers refused to come because their bosses were going to the golf links and three were downright angry at the vey impertinence of the bailiff in asking them.

"Get out and find some men for this jury," snapped the magistrate after the weary bailiff had reported.

In ten minutes the bailiff was back with six men and the trial proceeded. The magistrate is revising his ideas concerning the willingness of women to assume their share of responsibilities of citizenship along with the privilege of voting.

INDIANA STATE FUEL COMMISSION A BOON.

SLASHES PRICE OF COAL FOR ULTIMATE CONSUMER ALMOST IN HALF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—More joy for the patient and long-suffering ultimate consumer. The sovereign State of Indiana has taken the lead in a move to squeeze excess profits out of the sale of coal. The State Fuel Commission appointed by Gov. Goodrich, with powers greater than a utilities commission, has issued a price list in which prices are slashed right and left. The prices listed are for intrastate shipments alone and are much cheaper than the prices charged elsewhere in the United States. The operators are up in arms, and are preparing to fight the order.

Under the order the State of Indiana is divided into three districts. In the cheapest district the maximum price of screenings, f.o.b. the mine is $2.80 a ton as against $6 or $7 a ton in Illinois; mine run, $3 a ton as against $7 in Illinois and lump coal, $3.75 a ton as compared with $7 and $8 in Illinois. In the other two districts the prices are a trifle higher, but none more than $5 cents a ton. The new scale cuts some of the old prices nearly in half.

Illinois mines, by reason of better co-operation by the railroads, are now producing 60 per cent of normal, which is 20 per cent better than during the summer months. The end of the outlaw switchmen's strike has enabled the roads to relieve much of the congestion in the yards and coal is moving freely. Some of the railroads are laying off a number of men because of the slump in business, which is largely due to the switchmen's strike. The Wabash line cut off 525 employees in its mechanical department and 300 were laid off in Cincinnati by various roads.

RESERVISTS OF NAVY SCHEME TO KEEP FIT.

Plans to promote interest among and arrange for drills and sea duty for naval reservists, who have signed up for inactive duty service were made at a banquet in the New Rosslyn Hotel Wednesday, at which many of the members of the first division of the tenth sub-district of the Twelfth Naval District attended. # Announcing Packard "Single Six"

The 10-Year Car

WE have always made large cars designed for maximum speed, great power, and all the roominess that goes with a long wheelbase. The ultimate development has been the Twin Six, which has firmly established itself in the regard of the public, and which we have been producing and marketing for a number of years.

Packard reputation for motor cars rests solidly upon the Twin Six, and it always will!

Packard

But there has for years been an insistent demand for another car to supplement the Twin Six: a car of shorter wheelbase and lighter weight, a general-purpose car of great maneuverability in traffic, one that would park in a short space at the curb.

And the demand was that this light car should give unusual gasoline mileage and tire mileage, and finally, that it should be designed and built Packard-wise, and therefore be able to keep out of the repair shop longest and to require least attention from its owner or driver.

We thought it over and studied the problem for a good many years, during all of which we were accumulating experience in the design and production of the highest possible grade of car.

We have at various times during the past ten years designed a lightweight companion to our larger cars, but were never entirely satisfied with our efforts.

Then the war broke out in 1914, and believing that America would inevitably become involved, we turned our attention to designing airplane engines, and from then to the close of the war, had a thoroughly successful experience in designing and manufacturing airplane motors, which, as you know, must give the greatest power with the least possible weight.

We learned a great deal through this experience that was applicable to the automobile, and towards the close of the war we felt we were finally well equipped by experience to design the light-weight car.

Meanwhile, with a constantly growing talk of congestion in traffic, and increasing cost of gasoline, tires and other supplies, the demand for the light car became more and more insistent.

We have taken several years for the development and perfection of this new Packard, but we believe we have accomplished what we set out to do, and take now a pride in announcing that the Packard Single Six will soon be ready. It will be manufactured alongside the Twin Six and by the same matured and experienced organization.

The new car is of five-passenger capacity and will be offered in Touring, Runabout, Coupé and Brougham or Sedan.

The motor has six cylinders, 3⅛" bore by 4½" stroke. It is therefore of medium size, and despite its light weight is very sturdily built.

It is equipped with the Fuelizer.

The Single Six motor is new throughout, but it is not experimental.

It includes every principle of good engineering that our experience has shown to make for maximum power, coupled with silent operation and freedom from annoying troubles. We have failed of our intentions if we have not produced a motor that will run longer and require less attention than any other.

Our chassis design is very simple and clean. Its light weight, together with its unusually efficient motor, result in a very economical car.

As an instance of this, in our test driving in cross-country runs, we have made over twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline. Of course, in congested city driving, the mileage will not be so high.

Average tire mileage can be expected to exceed 15,000 miles. In our extensive experimental driving of this new car, we have had some tires in fair condition at the end of 25,000 miles.

It is an agreeable car to operate, having the easiest possible steering, the lightest clutch action, the shortest turning radius, and, we believe, all those qualities that you would like to have in a light-weight car for general purposes.

The workmanship and finish are Packard throughout.

Packard

The greatest obtainable luxury, the maximum power, and the ultimate in road-ability, must always be found in the large car. That is the field in which the Packard Twin Six will always be dominant.

In this new car we have not attempted to compete in that field, but rather to produce an active, easily-operated, high-grade, light car, with all the elements of efficiency, economy of operation and, above all, long life.

There are Packard cars today, designed years ago, that are nearing the half-million mark in miles traveled.

The new Single Six is also, we confidently believe, a TEN-YEAR CAR.

The price of the Touring Car is $3640 at Detroit.

High Commissioner Back from Visit.

Complete Freedom of Trade With Palestine.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

JERUSALEM, Sept. 10.—British administration has been extended to a considerable part of trans-Jordan territory, of which Es-Salt, a town of about 12,000 inhabitants, situated some twenty miles east of the Dead Sea, is the chief center.

Sir Herbert Samuel, British high commissioner for Palestine, has just returned from a journey to the new territory, where 600 representative Bedouin sheiks and notables received with enthusiasm the high commissioner's assurance that "Great Britain did not propose to bring their country within the present system of administration of Palestine, but would establish a separate administration that would assist the people to govern themselves."

Sir Herbert motored through Jericho to Allenby bridge, on the Jordan, where he was met by Majid Pasha, ex-general of the Shereefian army, and by the son of Sheik Sultan, the most influential chieftain of the territory. The Turkish military road through the Shaib Valley proved almost impassable even for cavalry, and riding along the precipices was extremely dangerous at times, owing to landslides, but the party, numbering 200 Bedouin horsemen, reached Es-Salt without mishap.

GETS CORDIAL WELCOME.

The Arabs extended a cordial welcome to the British high commissioner, whom they entertained lavishly in oriental style.

In an address, Sir Herbert explained to the chiefs that since the French had fully established their influence in Damascus, it would be necessary to separate the Arab's district from the Damascus administration. Great Britain, he said, would help them to organize defense against attack from outside. Sir Herbert developed a program of road improvement, the building of schools and the provision of medical aid.

FREEDOM OF TRADE.

There would be, he promised, complete freedom of trade with Palestine, and the people across the Jordan would be supplied with petroleum, rice, sugar and other commodities on the same footing as the peoples of Palestine. Moreover, facilities would be given them for the marketing of the produce they might wish to sell. A bank would be established to assist commerce, and postal communications would be opened.

Announcement was made by the high commissioner that as many as possible of the future administrators of the new territory would be drawn from the people of that district under the direction of a small number of British officers. He also gave assurance that it was not contemplated to establish any system of compulsory military service, nor to introduce disarmament.

An amnesty was readily granted, at a prominent chief's request, to two fugitive Arabs who had been charged with instigating the Easter riots in Jerusalem. Many sheiks affixed their seals to the official document expressing a desire for British rule.

POLITICS ADJUSTED.

Hubby Votes Republican and Wife Becomes a Democrat.

One thing that the voters couldn't seem to understand Tuesday was that they had to announce their party affiliations, and many and varied were the methods they devised to get around the rule.

It is doubtful if any of them found a more novel solution, however, than did a young couple, evidently quite recently married, who visited the polling booth at Queen Anne avenue and Galer street early in the morning.

Asked whether they wanted to vote Republican or Democratic, they replied, without hesitation, "Both."

They were much amazed when they found they couldn't.

"I think you're just too mean for anything," pouted the bride. "I've got friends running on both tickets, and so has George—and we've just got to vote for 'em."

The bride's eyes were limpid and her lips alluring—but, all honor unto the polls official—he didn't fall.

"I'm very, very sorry, madam," he told her. "But it can't be done."

"Well," said the young wife, "I just don't know what we'll do"—and she went into a protracted whispered conference with George.

Suddenly a light dawned in her eye.

"Why," she exclaimed, "how silly of me. It's so simple. George, you vote Republican and I'll vote Democratic, and that way we can help all our friends."

And so was the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment justified.—[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Title Must Fit Pay.

"Can't you get a job as a janitor of an apartment-house?" the Observer heard a woman ask her husband recently. "I called at the home of a janitor of one today and he was sitting leisurely at home, having the afternoon off and apparently little to do. He seemed to be doing pretty well, too, for he was wearing an expensive silk shirt."

"Do you call 'em janitors here?" asked a New York man, who heard the remark. "Why, in New York they demand that they be called 'superintendents' and if one should hear you call him a janitor, he'd quit his job quick as a wink."—[Columbus Dispatch.

New Field for the X-Ray.

The discovery of a fine and unknown fragment of Gutenberg printing (1450) is announced by the Bookman's Journal, the only other specimen, smaller and less complete, being in the British Museum. This fragment had obviously at one time been part of the lining of a large binding, which raises the suggestion that further finds of a similar sort might be made by the use of the X-ray.

Before millboard came into general use, about the middle of the sixteenth century, binders made up book covers very frequently from loose printed sheets of manuscripts. What of the Shakespeare folios, for example? What a discovery, if, by means of the rays, some of them were discovered to contain precious manuscripts, every vestige of which had apparently vanished.—[London Chronicle.

Good for Their Health.

A shipment of dolls, made by Junior Red Cross workers at Mooreaville, N. C., and intended for children in Europe, was sent by mistake to ex-service men convalescing from wounds and illness in U. S. General Hospital No. 19 at Otsen, N. C. A request for return of shipment brought this reply: "If the makers of these dolls could have seen the merriment and actual pleasure they gave the men, the error would not be regretted."—[Red Cross Bulletin.

Making a Movie.

A big touring car whirled around a corner with two men standing up in the tonneau and firing at another car full of policemen in pursuit.

"Go on."

"Just as I leaned against a telephone pole to keep from falling in a faint, I heard a voice behind me say, 'Cut it, Bill. We're due back at the studio.'"—[Birmingham Age-Herald.

Seattle Fire Chief Removed.

CHAMBER ARRANGING SMOKER ON BIRTHDAY.

EXPECTS BY NEXT MONDAY TO BE LARGEST COMMERCIAL BODY IN WORLD.

In celebration of the thirty-second anniversary of its founding, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, now the largest commercial organization in the world, will hold a smoker for members and their friends next Monday evening in the assembly hall of the organization.

It is expected that when the actual membership figures are announced on this occasion they will exceed 7000. Hundreds of new names have been added within the past week, in response to a request from the chamber membership committee that members work individually among their friends with a view to increasing the enrollment. The Chicago Association of Commerce, recently credited with 6800 members, will then occupy second place instead of first among commercial organizations of the country.

Congressman Osborne, who has just returned from a tour of the Orient with the Congressional party, will address the gathering on the Japanese question, from the California viewpoint, presenting it as it was told to the Japanese people themselves in their own land. Congressman Osborne was a pioneer member of the chamber.

DISCUSS HEALTH LAWS.

Members of Medical Profession Rap Measures on November Ballot.

Members of the medical profession met last night in Normal Hill Center to discuss proposed measures which will appear on the November ballot. Physicians spoke on what they term the "Quack Quartet" and discussed measures to prevent the passage of the proposed bills.

Dr. Celestine J. Sullivan, secretary of the League for the Conservation of Public Health, a medical organization, took each of the measures and explained their meaning and possible effect. Those under discussion were the Chiropractic Initiative Act, the Compulsory Vaccination Act, the Anti-Vivisection Act, and the Poison Act.

Dr. Walter V. Brem, in his talk, said that the doctors should take the lead in civic health work and act as advisors to the people on health measures. That misinformation was being given out by various organizations was the charge of Dr. W. T. McArthur.

ROBBED BY MASKED MEN.

Two highwaymen, both armed with revolvers, early yesterday morning robbed C. DeBore of 759 East Thirty-first street of his purse and $43. The hold-up, according to Mr. DeBore's report, took place at Sixty-seventh street and South Park avenue. Both of the bandits were masked and the victim was unable to give the police a good description of the men.

Y.W. GETS LEASE ON HOTEL ON FIGUEROA.

WILL ESTABLISH QUARTERS TO TAKE CARE OF TRANSIENT WOMEN AND GIRLS.

Following the final relinquishment of its building to the Union League Club, the Young Women's Christian Association completed arrangements yesterday for housing its activities by signing a three-and-one-half-year lease for the Hotel Atlas building at 1007 South Figueroa street.

These quarters are to be converted into a dormitory for transients to take the place of the former quarters at Third and Hill streets, and will be known as the Y.W.C.A. Travelers' Lodge.

Accommodations will be provided for ninety-four girls at a moderate rate—two girls in a room at 75 cents and $1 a day, with a few single rooms with bath at a higher figure, and a few rooms accommodating three girls at a lower rate.

The lodge will supply temporary quarters for girls and women coming into the city alone. Incoming trains are met by a travelers' aid secretary and unprotected girls are escorted to the lodge, where they are given accommodations until they find suitable quarters elsewhere. Through the woman's registry department permanent lodgings are secured for strangers, and in every instance personal investigation is made under the direction of Mrs. Charles Nelson, chairman of the city service department.

In the former building dormitory facilities were frequently overtaxed, more than 600 girls having been cared for there during the month of August, many of them less than 18 years of age. Mrs. Robert Green, chairman of the Travelers' Lodge Committee, is to have headquarters at the new location. Permanent quarters for girls are provided through the medium of the Clark Memorial Home.

With the acquirement of the new dormitory the Y.W.C.A.'s activities are once more in full swing. The gymnasium is established at 920 South Grand avenue, the swimming pool at Sixteenth and Flower streets and social, recreational and administration headquarters are at the Blue Triangle Club in the Brack-Shops. It is the plan of the association to secure a permanent location and erect a suitable building as soon as possible.

FLAYS AUTOCRACY OF MAN IN WHITE HOUSE.

YOUNG REPUBLICAN LEAGUE'S SPEAKER WARNS AGAINST ONE-MAN SYSTEM.

Oscar Lawler, well-known Los Angeles attorney, as the principal speaker last night at a rally of the Young Republican League of Los Angeles county, at the new Union League Club auditorium, made a strong plea for the election of Harding and Coolidge and a Republican Congress on November 2. He severely criticised the autocratic attitude of President Wilson, declared his official blunders constituted one of the most unfortunate blots on American history, and asserted that his handling of the League of Nations had made acceptance impossible from the American viewpoint.

"As important as the tariff issue is to the protection of our Southern California industries," said Mr. Lawler, "it is secondary in importance to the vital need of holding faithfully to the American Constitution. We must have a President who will respect his constitutional limitations. In this, President Wilson has signally failed. He has imposed an autocratic one-man power at Washington, which has become intolerable to our ideals of government.

"The grave issue which confronts us is whether we will stand by the clearly defined provisions of our Constitution or follow the mandates of one man at the seat of government. Autocracy must go from the body politic or we must admit the failure of our government as founded by the makers of the republic.

"I regret," said the speaker in conclusion, "that Theodore Roosevelt did not live long enough to see the defeat of the man who held him up to the ridicule of the American people when Roosevelt warned America to be prepared."

Harry H. Culver spoke of the grave need of a budget system in handling the nation's fiscal affairs, and severely condemned the President's veto of the budget measure enacted by the last Republican Congress. H. J. Stonier of the University of Southern California made a plea for a protective tariff to safeguard Southern California's lemon industry. Dudley W. Robinson presided.

EXTENSION CLASSES JUST BEING FORMED.

A number of new classes, which are to be features of the fall curriculum of the University of California's extension division, will hold their initial meetings this evening and tomorrow morning. Under the directorship of Dr. W. M. Burke of Occidental, a class in commercial law will be organized this evening at the Baker-Detweiler Building; Miss Margaret Craig will transform amateur photographers into professionals and artists at Polytechnic High, and Miss Virginia Rowell opens a course on vocal interpretation at the Union League Building. Tomorrow, at the Baker-Detweiler Building, Louise Pinkney Sooy's classes in design and stagecraft will have their first meeting. Other Saturday morning classes are Dr. B. F. Stelter's course in modern drama, Dr. A. H. Sutherland's "Ungraded Room Problems," L. F. D. Briois's intermediate French courses, and Dr. Frederick Beckman's class in intermediate Spanish.

ILLINOIS REUNION.

All Who Ever Lived in That State Invited to Picnic.

All persons who have ever lived in Illinois are invited to attend a picnic reunion to be held at Sycamore Grove tomorrow under the auspices of the "Loyal Illinoisans." The invitation was announced yesterday by Henry J. Brubaker, Southern California chairman. County and college registers are to be maintained and there will be a brief program beginning about 2 p.m.

Further information about the gathering may be had from C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, Continental National Bank Building.

ADMIRAL RODMAN TO STAGE NAVY REVIEW.

FLEET COMMANDER WILL TAKE CHARGE OF CABRILLO DAY SPECTACLE AT HARBOR.

Admiral Rodman will take complete charge of the imposing marine procession and the brilliant naval review which will be features of the Cabrillo Day celebration at the harbor.

This became definitely known last night, when I. G. Lewis, secretary of the Harbor Chamber of Commerce, sent a radio to the Pacific Fleet commander aboard his flagship, the New Mexico, and received in reply the admiral's personal message that he will co-operate in every way possible to make the big event a success.

The Cabrillo Day celebration will be marked by the first formal review of the entire personnel of the Pacific Fleet, according to the admiral. The men and officers will parade as part of the pageant. Among the ranking naval officers participating will be Rear-Admirals Williams, Jayne and McKean.

At the Harbor Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday J. M. Cannon, general chairman of the Cabrillo Day celebration, read a letter from the Hamilton-White Comedy Company, in which the winner of the second place in the queen contest is offered a position with that organization. The winner of the first place is to be given a role in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," which Rex Ingram is producing for Metro.

Arrangements were concluded late yesterday to have the presidents of the chambers of commerce adjacent to the harbor co-operate with the harbor chamber officials as hosts. A delegation from the Long Beach chamber called upon Secretary Lewis of the harbor body and arranged for an exchange of cordialities when the Long Beach yacht enters the channel to Los Angeles' port.

CONVICTED AT HAVANA.

"Human Frog," Arrested in Arizona, Has Long Record, Officials Say.

Additional information concerning Abram Sichofsky, under arrest at Douglas, Ariz., following his indictment here for violation of the passport regulations, shows that, according to the statements of the local immigration authorities, he is a card-shark, and counterfeiter, and at intervals has posed as a Polish Count. Sichofsky is a Polish Jew.

It is further stated that the man served a term in the penitentiary at Havana, Cuba, on the charge of counterfeiting, and that he was in trouble with the Cuban authorities on account of supposed pro-German activities during the war. Before he got into the card game he was a performer on the Orpheum circuit, and was known as the "Human Frog."

Just before his arrest at Douglas, he was in Mexicali, and had $2000 in small bills changed to four $500 bills. He has always been plentifully supplied with money.

EX-FIGHTER ALLOWED TO RUN RACE DEVICE.

Carl Morris, former heavyweight pugilist, won a point in Judge Shenk's court yesterday when the court denied an injunction to restrain him from operating a race game at Exposition Park. The suit was brought by Robert E. Bedford, a former umpire, who asserts he holds State rights to the device.

Mr. Morris contended that he bought the device from the company controlling the patent. A temporary injunction had checked his operations. It is said the case will be threshed out on its merits.

Shedding Ignorance

"It's a good rule to shed a little ignorance each day."
—Painless Parker.

There is an appalling ignorance about dentistry. Many people still think it will hurt them if they have their teeth fixed up. They don't know how Dr. Painless Parker and his associates have taken the fear of pain out of dentistry, and how they do very much dental work without any hurting at all.

If you are neglecting your teeth because you are afraid of the dentist, you are making a mighty big mistake.

When you think of TEETH, think of PARKER.

BRAZILIAN WITH TWO WIVES LOSES HIS ### APPEAL COURT GIVES SECOND WOMAN WHO HE ESPOUSED.

Eugenio Dahne, late of the city of Rio Grande del Sur, Brazil, the representative of that country at the Pan-California International Exposition at San Diego, whose domestic troubles have been the cause of much litigation in the San Diego Superior Court, and in the local District Court of Appeal, is again in the limelight.

Department No. 1 yesterday handed down a decision in the action brought by Mr. Dahne to annul the marriage of Louise E. Dahne, whom he married while he had a wife living in Brazil, by the latter, in which he sought to force the payment of alimony to the Dahne home in Brazil, and to give him a deed for the property. The Superior Court of the San Diego county had found for the wife, but this finding is affirmed here by the District Court of Appeal. The validity of this home has been established in favor of the second Mrs. Dahne, and she will retain possession of the property pending the outcome of the present litigation.

The higher court has found in favor of the wife, but makes it clear that in arriving at the conclusion the trial court grossly excluded the testimony of witnesses unworthy of belief, and not merely that of the wife as true.

The Dahnes were married in January, 1906, at which time Mrs. Dahne knew he had a wife living and represented that she was dead. They lived together until March, 1919, and the property involved in the case was purchased with the community money of the parties. The wife, in 1915, and later Dahne executed to her a quit claim deed for his interest.

When Mrs. Dahne found her supposed husband had another wife living he brought an action for divorce, and the litigation came before both the Superior Court of San Diego county, and the District Court of Appeal here.

WILL INSPECT HARBOR

Two Hundred Bankers to Be Port Features Tomorrow.

Group No. 5 and the Los Angeles County California Bankers' Association will hold its semi-annual meeting and inspection of Los Angeles Harbor tomorrow, and the Harbor Commission has provided boats for the 200 bankers who are expected to make the trip.

Harbor Engineer Griffin will point out all of the important features of the harbor, and will outline the development plans for increasing the facilities there during the next few years. In the evening there will be a dinner at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach. In charge of the arrangements for the outing are Colin P. Chandler, chairman of the group, and W. Gibbs, Jr., secretary of the group, and G. G. Greenwood, president of the Los Angeles County California Bankers' Association.

CUT IN RATES TO HELP PORT.

Freight Schedules Reduced on Goods from East.

Will Counteract Water Haul All Way to Orient.

Recent Increase Pared Down Tonnage of Railroads.

Revision of rail freight rates applying to material imported and exported through Los Angeles Harbor which, it is believed, will further stimulate the shipping business in Los Angeles, was announced yesterday by H. F. Ainswalt, general freight agent of the Santa Fe Railway here, and by representatives of other transcontinental lines. The new rates are to be effective at an early date, and will be materially lower than those put into effect recently.

They apply from all points east of Chicago and from eastern points via New York to Galveston and via the Mallory and Morgan ship lines, and thence West by rail. The changes represent a cut of as much, in some instances, as 25 per cent.

When the blanket rise was announced recently in both passenger and freight railroad rates, a noticeable shrinkage was felt at Pacific coast ports in the business received from foreign markets. Investigation showed that the business was going through eastern ports and direct to the Orient by water. Previously a large part of freight had gone from New York to Galveston by water and thence by rail to the Pacific, where it was reshipped. The rise in rates made such a vast difference in the charges that the western roads made a move in order that business might be stimulated.

An attempt was made at the time the western roads made their decision to lower the rates to have the Interstate Commerce Commission take similar acts in effect. The seaboard companies refused to do this and the western roads made arrangements with the Panama Canal and Morgan steamship lines to handle western freight out of New York.

The following are some of the articles to be transported at the reduced rate. The left-hand column of figures is the present rate, the right-hand column is the new table soon to go into effect.

ARRESTED FOUR TIMES; JAILED.

Incurable Speeder Given Five Days in Lockup After Three Fines.

When L. J. Myers appeared before Justice Hinshaw yesterday for hearing on his fourth charge of speeding, the court sentenced him to five days in the County Jail. Myers, employed in Culver City, was charged with going forty miles an hour.

"The three previous chances you had, by being merely fined, have not helped you," said the court. "Perhaps five days in jail will do so."

SAYS ACTION'S BARRED.

Broadway Hotel's Counsel Wants Redlight Suit Abated.

The redlight abatement suit of the District Attorney against the proprietors of the New Broadway Hotel will not go unopposed. Yesterday Attorney George L. Greer filed a plea in bar and abatement to the action. He holds that the judgment of Judge York recently in the suit of the McCarthy Company to recover possession of the hotel acts as a bar to further prosecutions. The company asserted that the hotel was conducted illegally. The defendants produced evidence to show that it was properly managed and the court gave judgment for them.

CATTLEMEN OF SOUTH GATHER.

Members of Association in Local Zone Confer.

Poor Time to Sell Holdings, One Speaker Advises.

Cost of Meat to Consumers Branded Unwarranted.

The need of a greater measure of co-operation among the cattle raisers of the State and of certain changes in the Cattlemen's Association were the chief topics of the addresses made yesterday morning at the meeting of the members of the southern zone at the Agricultural Building at Exposition Park. O. B. Fuller, vice-president of the association, was chairman of the meeting.

Sylvester L. Weaver, vice-president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, made the opening address, welcoming the cattlemen to the city. Mr. Weaver praised the work of the association of cattlemen and declared that more such associations are needed in this State. He told of the work that the Chamber of Commerce is doing in this city, and the activities the association is planning.

One of the most important addresses of the day was that made by Fred Bixby, president of the Cattlemen's Association. Mr. Bixby at the commencement of his talk declared he only had a few remarks to make, which were really in the shape of advice to the cattlemen. He told of the experiences he had in raising certain classes of grass and urged the cattlemen to plant clover on their bad lands. He said he had tried this and that the results had been encouraging.

SHIP AS PERISHABLE.

"Do not ship your cattle on consignment," Mr. Bixby said. This hurts the market more than anything, he declared. He urged the cattlemen to ship all of their cattle to market as perishable freight. He said this could be arranged with the transportation companies. He criticised the middleman and the jobber of beef, and said the producer of beef steers is not getting the prices warranted by the high cost of meat at retail.

Mr. Bixby told of meat selling in butcher shops at 75 cents a pound which had netted the cattle raiser but 10 cents per pound.

"A 1000-pound steer at 10 cents a pound will cost the buyer $100. This will dress 550 pounds," he said. "This carcass is sold to the butcher at 18 cents a pound, and he in turn will sell 20 per cent of it, the choice cuts at 45 to 75 cents per pound."

Mr. Bixby told of the growth of the Cattlemen's Association. He said the present membership is about 2300, including about one-half of the cattlemen of the State. One thousand three hundred new members have joined the association since January 1 of this year.

Henry A. Jastro of Bakersfield, one of the best-known cattle raisers of the State, also talked. He said the prospects for the cattlemen are brighter than they have ever been before. He urged that the cattlemen of the State co-operate and work together, and said the cattle-raisers should hold on to their stock.

POOR TIME TO SELL.

Better prices are sure to come for cattle, he said, and the dealers are sure to realize more from their investment if the cattlemen will co-operate. Now is not the time to sell, he advised, and cited as a proof of his statement that the largest cattlemen of the State are buying from the little dealers, and have been buying for two months.

Representatives of the forestry service made talks about the service in its relations to the cattle ranges. The cattlemen were told that the grass in the forest, which they desire to have cut, is objectionable in a sense, but at the same time is one of the best friends of the cattlemen as it helps the water supply. All of the cattlemen praised the work of the forestry service.

Addresses were also made by Dr. Jackley of the animal industry division of the Department of Agriculture, Prof. Kennedy of the agricultural college, University of California; Judge Canfield of Santa Barbara; W. Greening, secretary of the association, and others.

Most of the members of the association declared themselves opposed to the proposed amendment against vivisection. All declared themselves as opposed to cruelty to animals, but insisted that the proposed amendment, No. 7 on the ballot next month, is too stringent and will hurt the cattle business and remove safeguards from the lives of people.

Members of the association were urged to attend the annual convention which is to be held at San Francisco on December 10. Several changes in the organization will be suggested at the convention.

Finds Whisky Price Akin to Profiteering.

When William F. Mayer discovered that he had paid $125 each for three sips of contraband whisky he hied himself to the District Attorney's office and secured a complaint against George Crawford for obtaining money under false pretenses. He asserted the price smacked of profiteering.

Mayer said he followed Crawford on a mysterious trip and was given the three sips of real whisky. It was so good, he said, he bought forty-eight bottles for $375. He said he took it home and invited a friend, Grover Landers, to sip the real stuff.

The guest came, but one sip was enough. The corks popped, but the content of the bottle was not whisky. After a hearing yesterday Justice Hinshaw held Crawford to answer for obtaining money under false pretenses. Bail was fixed at $500.

Jumps Across America to New Post.

Dr. Elmer E. Helms, Wife and Mother,

Who comes Here from Philadelphia to take charge of the city's biggest Methodist church.

METHODIST CHIEF ARRIVES.

Dr. Helms, Bishop Locke's Successor at First Church, Welcomed to City.

"I am delighted to be in Los Angeles," said Dr. Elmer E. Helms, new pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, as he stepped from the train at 10 o'clock last night and was greeted by a large delegation on behalf of his congregation. He was accompanied by his wife and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Helms, who is 90 years old. The three were taken immediately to the former residence of Bishop Locke, Dr. Helms's predecessor, at 723 South Berendo street, which Dr. Helms has leased.

Dr. Helms, who was born in Ohio, received the degrees of A.B., A.M. and Ph.D. from the Ohio Northern and Ohio Wesleyan Universities. He also graduated from the Boston Theological School and in 1900 received from that institution the degree of D.D.

He is by training and temperament well adapted to the work which he has undertaken here. At Buffalo, New York, Detroit, Baltimore and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., his pastorate was extremely successful.

As pastor of the CNvary Methodist Church in Philadelphia, from which he comes to this city, Dr. Helms trebled the membership within four years, made the organization strong financially, and a leading factor in the affairs of the community.

Dr. Helms said last night that he plans to immediately begin to push the building fund of the church. At present Trinity Auditorium is the worshiping place for his congregation, under a two-year lease, but the church owns the southeast corner of Eighth and Hope streets and already rapid strides have been made toward raising funds for erecting an adequate structure there. He hopes to be able to have a building costing $500,000 or $750,000 ready for occupancy by the time the present lease on Trinity Auditorium expires.

Dr. Helms will preach his first sermons to his new congregation Sunday morning and evening.

NAB THREE; RECOVER LOOT.

Suspected by the police of being members of a daring gang of burglars who in the past three months have gathered more than $15,000 in loot, William Butcher, 24 years of age, Arthur S. Thewer, 23, and Arthur Clifford, 21, were locked in the City Jail yesterday by Police Detectives Harris, Rich, Stelzreide and Kallmeyer. A quantity of loot was also recovered by the officers and more of the stolen property has been located, they say.

William Butcher, the first of the three to be arrested, was discovered by the police as the result of stolen property appearing in the local pawn shops. When he was taken into custody, pawn tickets were found in his possession for articles that had been reported to the police as stolen. He refused to make any statements.

From information obtained from letters and papers in Butcher's possession the officers tracked down the other two men. The broken handle of a pocket knife found in the home of Henry E. Keefer of 1853 West Fifty-first street following a burglary, and which fitted into a knife found in Clifford's pocket when he was arrested, forms one of the most important bits of evidence.

Besides many other burglaries, the police declare the three prisoners took part in a window-smashing looting of a jewelry store at 427 West Seventh street several days ago. Thewer, who is suffering from a lacerated right hand, injured it while smashing this window, the police maintain.

THREE KILLED IN MINE.

The death toll of the mine cave-in at the Hansen mine, 250 miles from San Bernardino, was increased to three men dead yesterday. Earlier reports were that only one man had died in the disaster, but a telegram received by Byron O. Pickard, district engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines, stated that three men had been killed instead of one, and that two men had escaped.

The first man reported as killed was Roy Shoemaker, and though no names were included in the official telegram, it is believed that the other two victims are Gus Martin and Bert Misser. James Thomas and Edward Bliss escaped.

The men were removing old timbers from the mine, when the cave-in occurred, killing Shoemaker and imprisoning the others. Thomas escaped by crawling beneath fallen timbers. Martin and Misser went back into the mine to rescue their companions, but were caught in a second slide. Thomas and Bliss, the other missing miners, were found in a side drift and safe.

ART EXHIBIT IS OPENED.

The eleventh annual exhibit of the California Art Club opened in Exposition Park last night with between 1000 and 1200 art enthusiasts in attendance at a reception tendered to the Art Club by the director and board of governors at the Museum of History, Science and Art.

Beginning today the exhibit will be open to visitors forenoons and afternoons each day until November 15, inclusive. There are 121 entries on exhibition, some members having two studies on display. It is by far the largest exhibit ever offered to the public by this club, which includes in its membership all the prominent painters between Santa Barbara and the border, and a few from points as far north as San Francisco.

The jury of selection for paintings consists of Carl O. Borg, Max Wieczorek, G. P. Townsley, Mabel Alvarez, Edouard Vysekel, Donna Schuster, Jean Mannheim, Nell B. Mayhew and Roscoe Shrader. In sculpture selection the jury is Marguerite R. Tew, Maud Daggett and Beulah May. The jury of awards is Jean Mannheim, J. Bond Francisco and DeWitt Parshall. The special award jury for the Paul R. Mabury $300 prize is composed of Max Wieczorek, Jean Mannheim, J. Bond Francisco, Mrs. Herman J. Hall and DeWitt Parshall.

CHARITY PHYSICIANS TALK OVER PROBLEMS.

Members of the medical aid division of the Bureau of Catholic Charities held their monthly meeting yesterday at the Clark. Discussion of the various problems that arise in connection with the work was one of the features. The organization numbers a staff of thirty-five physicians and surgeons, eight nurses and five dentists, who have charge of the medical and dental work and the nursing for the institution, the Santa Rita and the Brownson House clinics, as well as of various phases of child welfare work carried on under the direction of the Bureau of Catholic Charities.

URGED TO STAND AGAINST UNION.

Symphony Orchestra Directors Backed by Patrons.

Plan Open-Shop Organization if Negotiations Fail.

Financial Backing Assured on Nonunion Basis.

Highly indignant at learning that officials of the musicians' union are seriously retarding Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra plans for the forthcoming concert season, scores of wealthy and influential friends of the Symphony's board of directors deluged the office yesterday with telephone calls and telegrams strongly urging that an orchestra be built around players who are not affiliated with the musicians' union.

While officers of the Symphony admitted yesterday that the creation of a nonunion orchestra has been suggested to them, they asserted that no action will be taken by the directors for a day or two at least, as they are hopeful that the controversy between the orchestra management and the union, regarding the importation of a tympani player from Detroit, may be amicably settled in the meantime. They state, however, that in the event an agreement is not reached in the near future, they probably will undertake the creation of an open-shop orchestra, rather than suspend activities for the season. At any rate, the opening of the season will necessarily be somewhat delayed, they say.

FOR NONUNION ORCHESTRA.

It was learned yesterday that several influential persons who have been patrons of the Symphony for many years and who regard it as essentially a Los Angeles institution have given the board of directors assurance that considerable new financial backing would be available in the event that a nonunion orchestra such as the Boston Symphony were organized here. Boston has had one of the finest symphony orchestras in the country for a number of years, and it is strictly nonunion. The Boston Symphony played at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915 and gained considerable prominence at that time because it succeeded in playing a nonunion concert in San Francisco, a hotbed of organized labor.

Friends of the Symphony in this city and Pasadena have suggested that in the event a nonunion organization is created some means of keeping it busy outside the concert season can probably be arranged. It is even hinted that a group of supporters would undertake to guarantee salaries which might be lost by the players in the event of enforced idleness between the regular concert season and special engagements which might be secured for such an organization.

UNION DEMANDS.

The controversy between members of the musicians' union and officers of the Symphony arose a few days ago when the recording secretary of the union notified the Symphony that Fred Paine, a Detroit musician who belongs to the union, cannot play in the Symphony orchestra because there are two musicians in San Francisco who are willing to take the job. The union insists that it must deny Mr. Paine the privilege of coming here in order to protect its "colony," while Symphony officials insist that they want the best man they can obtain, regardless of where he comes from.

Officials of the union were quoted yesterday as having said that they are sorry the matter got aired in the newspapers, particularly in The Times.

MUSICIANS WILL NAME COMMITTEE.

Yesterday's Meeting With Theater Owners Broken Up by Attempt at Debate.

Deadlocked yesterday because members of the musicians' union undertook to turn a business conference into a debate on the question at issue, members of the Theater Owners' Association and representatives of the musicians' union will meet together again at 10:30 a.m. today in the Germain Building, and undertake to reach an agreement regarding the wage demand recently submitted by the unionized musicians and rejected by the theater managers.

The orchestra players are asking an increase in pay which ranges all the way from 20 to 37 per cent higher than the present scales, and this in spite of the fact that local theater men have raised the wages of musicians a total of 40 per cent in the last fourteen months, according to Will T. Wyatt, president of the Theater Owners' Association.

At yesterday's meeting a packed house full of musicians greeted the theater owners, and after Mr. Wyatt had made a short talk several musicians wanted to argue with him. Mr. Wyatt declined to enter into a controversy regarding the request for an increase in pay, and the musicians went into executive session after Mr. Wyatt had told them to name a committee of seven with power to act and have it meet the theater owners at any time. The committee was chosen later and it will confer with the theater men this forenoon.

Mr. Wyatt said last night that the theater men positively cannot meet the demands of the organized musicians, but declared that he believes there is a good chance for the two committees to reach an agreement today.

"We are not fighting the organized musicians," he declared, "but we must be granted the right to conduct our business along sane business lines; otherwise, musicians and theater owners alike will soon be out of jobs. It is our hope that we can reach some satisfactory understanding in the matter, although I am glad to say that in an emergency I have every confidence that every theater owner in the association will stand pat."

Should the two committees fail to reach an agreement today, it is admitted that a strike of musicians might follow. This would affect about 300 orchestra musicians and about thirty theaters, including a few in the beach cities and Pasadena.

LOVE AFFAIR OF DEAD MAN UP IN COURT.

Disputed Will Takes Care of His Fiancee; Brother Attacking Document.

David S. Johnston, a contractor of this city, who died Nov. 18, 1919, leaving an estate valued at more than $40,000, sought by a purported will to have his fiancee, Matilda M. Mesmer, provided for out of his property. She filed the will for probate and was met with a contest instituted by Mr. Johnston's brother, Arthur Charles Johnston, who contends the will is invalid.

To test its validity both sides have employed experts. Milton Carlsen will testify that the will is genuine. The contestant's expert will declare that it is not all in the hand of the deceased.

In his will Mr. Johnston declares that "Tillie" Mesmer was his promised wife. Evidence as to the engagement between them was given in Judge Taft's court yesterday. Miss Mesmer is in court and will tell the story of her romance with Mr. Johnston. She is a sister-in-law of Joseph Mesmer.

The estate consists of cashier in various banks, a half interest in the Shoreham Hotel, and three flats in West Eighteenth street.

BRITISH CONSUL HERE SUCCUMBS.

Charles White Mortimer Long Angel City Resident.

Returned Recently from Trip to Western Canada.

Long-Standing Heart Ailment is Cause of Demise.

Charles White Mortimer, British Consul in Los Angeles, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, 1019 South Grand avenue. Death was due to an affliction of the heart from which Mr. Mortimer has been suffering for a number of years. While he has been ill for a long time, none expected his early death, and it was reported yesterday that the attending surgeon had not believed Mr. Mortimer was in so serious a condition.

Mr. Mortimer had been very ill since last May and went to British Columbia in July of this year for his health. He returned to Los Angeles last week and though he was then very ill, it was believed he was improving.

The funeral will not be held till after the arrival from Toronto, Can., of Mr. Mortimer's son, A. B. Mortimer, who will leave Chicago on today's Santa Fe Limited and is expected here Monday.

Mr. Mortimer was born April 26, 1852, at Adelaide, Ont. On Oct. 24, 1886, he was married in this city to Mrs. Annie M. Best. He attended the Upper Canada College at Toronto from 1863 to 1868; was graduated from the University of Trinity College, Toronto, in 1873; admitted in Canada as a barrister-at-law in 1879; moved to Los Angeles and was admitted by the Superior Court in 1883, by the Supreme Court in 1891, and by the U. S. District Court in 1899. Since then he had been engaged in the practice of law in this city, with offices with his stepson, E. L. Best, in the Bank of Italy Building.

In May, 1883, Mr. Mortimer was made British Vice-Consul at Los Angeles and five years ago was named Consul here for Great Britain, a position he held at the time of his death. He leaves a widow, two daughters, Julie de Cerjat and Geraldine Hope Mortimer, both residing in this city, and a son, Arthur Beresford Mortimer of Toronto.

Mr. Mortimer was a member of the Toronto Club, Toronto, and of the California Club.

WINE CARGO SEIZED.

Trailer Carrying Wet Load Breaks Down; Arrest Follows.

Two barrels of wine, said to be the entire stock of an Italian bootlegger gang, were seized by the police and J. Miyaralle was arrested early yesterday when a wheel of an automobile trailer on which the wine was being transported collapsed near the Plaza. A police officer investigating the breakdown discovered the wine and arrested Miyaralle, who was in charge of the vehicle.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

SELF-STARTERS AND OTHERS.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

There are some people who are self-starters. There are others who have to be cranked up in order to make them go.

The most interesting and mysterious thing in the world is that little quirk in the human brain that gives to an individual the ability to see even a tiny crack open in the door of opportunity, and the initiative to get his toe into it, and the strength and energy to push his way through. It is what makes generals out of soldiers in the ranks, and merchant princes out of office boys, and great writers and actors out of boys and girls who grow up on lonely farms in remote places, where they have none of the so-called advantages of education.

Run over the list of the people who are doing the big things in the world today, and you will find that they are the people that one would least have expected to be doing them. A Welsh miner and a school-teacher are at the head of the most powerful governments in the world. Two becoming failures, for, after all, poor country lads who started life between the corn furrows of the Middle West are contending for the Presidency of the United States. A trained butcher has become the greatest inventor that ever lived. Our richest man earned his first money by sweeping out a store, and sleeping behind the counter.

I know a man who is worth millions. He landed in this country with only 10 cents in his pocket. He could not speak English. He was barely able to read and write in his own language. He apparently differed in no way from the hundreds of other immigrants with whom he came over, yet he lives in a palace, and rides by them in his limousine, as they sweat and toil at the manual labor which they are still doing.

This man was a self-starter. So are all the others who succeed. They have vision. They can see the thing that is to be done, and they have the pep to go to it, and put a punch in their work. They are not afraid to take risks, or to trust their judgments.

Nobody ever has to tell the man and woman who are self-starters how to do things. They know it for themselves. And if one way fails, they can always think of another, because they are simply bound to do. That's what they were made for.

But, when all is said, if nature doesn't turn us out self-starters, we are not to be blamed for it. Those who never see their chances until they have gone by are no more responsible for their lack of foresight than is a blind man for not being able to see his way along the street. Those who have rickety judgments, and who decide every problem wrong, are as much to be pitied as the cripple who stumbles and falls over every obstacle. Even the lazy and listless, who do their work half-heartedly, are probably as little to be censured as are those who are born with a physical weakness.

It is a pity, though, that parents do not study their children, and realize this difference between them. What some of them are self-starters and others must be cranked up. This would save a lot of people from the cranked-up car goes very satisfactorily, when once somebody has put it in motion.

The boy and girl who can think of new ways to play, who are always inventing games, and who can always offer a different explanation for their raids upon the cooky jar, need no help. They are self-starters, and will get away under their own power.

But the boy and girl who always follow, and never lead, in their play; who always say, "what can I do now?" "Where shall I go now?" who have not ingenuity enough even to invent a plausible lie, need to be definitely trained for some one specific occupation in life. They are the ones who must be cranked up and set in motion by some hand from the outside. They have no power within themselves to achieve things.

Left to his own devices, that kind of a boy drifts around from ill-paid job to ill-paid job, because he is never worth much of an employer's money. He has not the initiative to go to night school, or a technical school, or to learn how to do his job from those among whom he works, as the self-starter boy has.

Or, if he inherits a little money, he starts a business with it and goes broke within a year or two, because it is impossible for him to compete with the self-starters.

These boys, however, might have achieved success if their parents had recognized their limitations and had them trained to do some particular line of work well, for their very lack of enterprise makes them invaluable in places where patient, methodical drudging and attention to detail is necessary.

Every young man starting out to seek his fortune does well to apply the acid test to himself and find out whether he is a self-starter or not, and if he is not, to hitch his wagon to a big firm, where some financial genius will do the cranking and pull him along to prosperity. He will make far more money than he ever will in trying to go his own way alone.

The woman who has daughters will not need to help the self-starters get married. They are born with the come-hither look in their eyes that makes even dead men get up and follow them, but there are other daughters, who will make admirable wives and mothers, who need all the help that a managing mother can give them, if they are ever to own a wedding ring.

These girls do not know how to make the most of their looks or their accomplishments, they do not know how to jolly men along, and mother must supplement their deficiencies by pretty clothes, and good eats, and making her home so attractive that young men like to come.

It's a great thing to be a self-starter, and the next best thing is to have someone to crank you up and get you along, if you aren't.

MAKING MORE MONEY.

Brains and a Machine Combine to Make a New Business and a Western Woman Rich

They've been familiar with the pinion nut in the southwestern section of the country for years past, but until Mrs. Fannie S. Spitz began to experiment with it, it was believed to be virtually worthless. The kernel was delicious, but the shell was so tough and thick that the labor of getting at the meat far outweighed the result of the trouble. Then Mrs. Spitz came along and founded an industry which bids fair to be one of the standbys of the New Mexico section.

She had tasted some of the pinion nuts and found the flavor distinctive and appetizing in the extreme. So she set to work to invent some machinery for removing the shells with the minimum of labor. Mrs Spitz thought over the problem for six months, and then, one morning, awoke with the basic idea in her mind. As soon as possible she put together a rough working model to try out her idea. It worked—in a crude way, of course—and she entered an eastern machine shop, one woman among scores of expert machinists, and for three and a half months concentrated her efforts on the perfecting of that machine. It meant a sacrifice of social and home life. It meant a great many disappointments, for virtually every one predicted that her efforts would be fruitless. But Mrs. Spitz had gone into it and she wouldn't quit. After three trips across the continent she came home with a machine which she said would work, and setting it up in the basement of her home, proceeded to prove her contention.

Last winter saw 10,000 pounds of the shelled nuts pass through the "pinion plant." Every day brought more orders from candymakers and confectioners throughout the country. Now, with the pinion industry on a fairly firm foundation, Mrs. Spitz is beginning to cash in on her persistence and refusal to be downed—on her determination to make more money out of a product which formerly went to waste.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: How can I keep cider from turning into vinegar?

M. A. G.

Answer: Cider cannot be kept successfully except in a cool cellar. If the cider is made in cold weather, and is kept in a temperature not above 45 degrees Fahrenheit, acetic acid organisms will not develop, and fermentation will be slow. The cider will not become hard for from four to six weeks. To make good cider it must be fermented at a low temperature.

Q.: I am corresponding with a young lady who always puts a cross under her name in signing her letters. Can you tell me the meaning of this?

A. M. P.

A.: While the young lady in question may attach to this hieroglyphic some meaning unknown to us, it is commonly intended to mean that the writer encloses a kiss.

Q.: What fruits are classified as citrus fruits.

F. H.

A.: The Department of Agriculture says that citrus fruits include oranges, lemons, grape fruit, limes, tangerines, mandarins, kumquats and citrons.

Q.: Can you tell me the race and nationality of Jack Dempsey?

W. O.

A.: William Harrison Dempsey is an American citizen. He was born in Manassa, Colo., and is of Irish ancestry with a trace of Indian blood.

Q.: Why is Babe Ruth called Bambino?

C. H.

A.: Bambino is the Italian word for baby. This term was first applied to the famous batter by the sporting writer of the New York Tribune.

Q.: A claims there were a number of vegetarian regiments in active service in the German army and that they were recognized as the best soldiers. Thought you might be able to furnish some information.

B. H.

A.: The War Departments of the different countries take issue with the statement that the Germans who were vegetable-fed made the best soldiers. Scientists show that meat-fed soldiers had the most initiative.

Q.: Please inform a constant reader when and where the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held.

A. V. A.

A.: The annual encampment of the G.A.R. was held in Indianapolis, Ind., the week of September 19, the place having been changed from Atlantic City.

Q.: What amount of rice do we consume yearly in the United States? Also what is our export of this product?

E. F. R.

A.: The yearly average consumption of rice in this country for the years 1914-1918 was 1,132,942,000 pounds, while the average yearly net export of rice for the same period was 176,164,000 pounds.

Q.: Will you tell me the origin of the expression "French leave?"

D. K.

A.: Many authorities believe that the term "French leave" originated in a French custom in the eighteenth century of withdrawing from crowded assemblies without taking leave of host or hostess; others maintain that the word "French" is a corruption of "frank" meaning "free."

Q.: What was the real name of Voltaire?

C. S. W.

A.: Jean Francois Marie Arouet assumed the name of Voltaire when about twenty-four years of age. He had already been recognized as a rising author and dramatic poet, and the reason for the change in name is not satisfactorily explained.

Q.: I wish to know if it would be a violation of the law to gold-plate 5-cent pieces and sell them for watch charms.

A. E. C.

A.: The Treasury says that it is strictly against the law to do so, since such pieces might be mistaken for $5 gold pieces.

Q.: Is there a "Passion Play" in Europe this summer?

A. H. S.

A.: While the Oberammergau "Passion Play" is not being given this year, there is one being presented in Nancy, France. This parish had given tableaux from the life of Christ for fifteen years, when the war interrupted. More than 100,000 spectators have witnessed the performance this summer.

Q.: How is the name of the city of Joliet pronounced?

M. K.

A.: There was so much discussion concerning the pronunciation of the name that the City Council passed an ordinance stating that the official, correct, and only pronunciation and spelling of the name of this city shall be with the accent on the first syllable and the "o" long as in "no."

Gasoline Gus Goes To The Ball Game

The "Indians" and the "Dodgers" are fighting for the world's series. Tris Speaker is at bat with the bases full. The excitement is intense. The "fans" are sitting on the edge of their seats—watching the electric score board.

Enter the "disturbing element"—with his suit that's just been "cleaned"—smelling for all the world like an "automobile cocktail"—gasoline!

When the fans smelled Gus they shouted "Foul"—they wanted to mob him instead of the umpire!

It's too bad his suit hadn't been cleaned by which thoroughly cleanses clothing without leaving a trace of the sickening gasoline smell. Gasoline today is low grade—crude. Unless it is refined before using, it leaves a most obnoxious odor. We have installed a special apparatus which refines and purifies every drop of gasoline used by us in cleaning clothes. This special equipment cost us a lot of money, but we feel that it is worth it in the added satisfaction it gives to our customers.

BODY RESHAPED

Reducing or Increasing Weight Made Easy

Strange Remarkable Case

Miss H. Berry, Physical Educator, with offices 401 Merritt Bldg., Los Angeles, claims that any part of the body can be reshaped, that the method of dieting and gymnastics in reducing or building up the body, has no permanent effect.

Miss Berry, who has had twenty years of experience teaching victims of Infantile Paralysis to regain the normal uses of their paralyzed bodies, cites one of the many cases he handled.

He stated if these children who are left with withered and paralyzed bodies can be taught to develop to their normal size and use their weak parts, anyone desiring weigh more or less can certainly accomplish what children have done.

Infantile Paralysis Leaves Victim Crooked Body

The thirteen-year-old daughter of an architect of national reputation was stricken with Infantile Paralysis—one of her limbs was partially paralyzed and the upper part of the body on one side was badly affected. Soon after being stricken she developed a severe lateral curvature of the spine. Her body had the appearance of a letter S. Her life lines were badly out of alignment, one shoulder being two and a half inches higher than the other—the hip on one side caved in, causing the other hip to bulge out. The best medical attention had been given this case. Noted specialists in different cities examined her and none gave any hope.

Body Gradually Reshaped

The muscle tissue on the unaffected side of the body had developed to abnormal size, while on the affected side the muscle tissue had wasted away, almost beyond detection. Slowly but surely the normal muscles were developed, and as they became stronger the body righted itself, the organs which had been forced out of position were brought back—the end of two years this girl's body had become straight and stronger than most girls in normal health.

The name of the above case and many similar cases will be given those interested. Those desiring to consult Mr. Berry can do so by calling at his office, 401 Merritt Bldg., 8th and Broadway.

The Health Man SAYS—

Life Without Health Is Living Death!

A man paralyzed illustrates this truth. Motion is the first evidence of Life. In a paralyzed limb nerve-force is minus in that particular part of the body; otherwise it would not differ from other parts.

DR. PHILIP SHEPARD, M. D., (Harvard) of Boston was special Medical Investigator of Infantile Paralysis for the Massachusetts State Board of Health (1908-1912). After a post-graduate course in Chiropractic at the Palmer School he writes:

"After due examination and careful investigation I dare to abandon 'Medicine' and devote my life to the removal of the cause of disease by means of Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments. Actual results have convinced me. I MUST GO ON!"

REMEMBER—The same force which moves the limbs externally, moves the internal organs. The same cause which produces paralysis externally provides dis-ease conditions internally.

EXPOSURE SURE.

Every now and then Gov. Cox takes occasion to remark that he faces the rising sun. We can promise him quite an eastern exposure on the morning of November 3.

STRIKE BREAKING.

They broke up a hunger strike in Italy by exhibiting a huge platter of steaming macaroni. But probably it would take more than a dish of spaghetti to start things in Dublin.

THE EVADER.

Now it is reported that Grover Cleveland Bergdoll has been seen in New Jersey. He must have heard that New Jersey had been declared wet and wished to sample the moisture.

BRINGS RUIN.

The only city in British Columbia that ever went bankrupt and had to have a receiver appointed by the government was South Vancouver and this is the result of adopting the single-tax system. The plan has brought ruin wherever tried.

A COLD PROPOSITION.

The iceman who saved $1500 a year on wages of $100 a month—besides keeping up home and family—is something of a financier. He must have cut considerable ice that the boss didn't get pay for or else he was lying in weight for his customers.

WILD WORK.

In thirty or more Chicago precincts there were more votes counted for the Thompson machine ticket than there were registered voters on the poll book. In the rest of the State the primary vote was less than 50 per cent of the registration. It almost looks as if the Thompsonites had practiced duplicity.

MUCH SICKNESS.

It is asserted that forty barrels of whisky were taken out of bond in San Francisco just before the Democratic convention on the order of the city hospital. In case of sickness the delegates were to be cared for after their hearts' desire. Judging by the nominations made there must have been an awful lot of sickness.

UNION DISCORDS.

The arrogant assertion of the musicians' union that the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra cannot contract for the services of a tympany player from another State because there are still a couple of musicians in San Francisco who would like the place is a fair illustration of union methods. The artist contracted for is a member of the union, but that does not suffice. Whether they are competent or not, all the musicians of the California unions must be provided for before any outside union can be recognized.

The Symphony Orchestra must have the best talent it can assemble. It picks from the wide, wide world. Two or three inferior or incompetent performers can wreck the whole machine. But that doesn't make any difference to the local union. Better that harmony be turned to discord than that an outsider—even though he be a union member himself—be permitted to appear with the organization. A man may not know a G string from a lariat, but if he carry the card of the local union he is pushed into the front seats with Bach, Beethoven, Handel and the rest of the stars.

The music lovers in a city of nearly a million people cannot give a hearing to the artists whom they love and desire because the local union has a couple of rough-neck saxophone players down on Main street who are out of a job.

The unions cannot even be fair with themselves, let alone the rest of the world.

MUNICIPAL RAILWAY FOLLIES.

Pasadena is enjoying another fight, this time over a proposed municipal electric railway system. The Crown City appears to be dissatisfied with the speed of the Pacific Electric and is in such a hurry to come to Los Angeles that it wants more rapid transportation. Some of the people think that the only way in which a faster service can be secured is by building a line which shall be financed and maintained by the taxpayers. This is a poor time for any city to bond itself for the construction of an electric railway. Bond buyers will look only at securities which bear an unusually high rate of interest and there are so many issues of that character now offered that Pasadena will have to be prepared to pay heavily for the millions it will need for its proposed enterprise. Even so, it may find it difficult to interest financiers in the bonds because the history of municipal railroads has not been of such a character as to cause moneyed men to be eager to invest in them. The nonsuccess of many municipal railways is well known to capitalists. The voters of Pasadena, who are soon to pass on the proposed bond issue, are being deluded by speechmakers who intimate that one result of a city-owned line will be cheap fares. The people have only to study the recent reports of municipally-owned systems throughout North America to find out that their fares had to be raised, in many cases to 10 cents, in order that enough money might be obtained to pay operating expenses and interest on bonds. Pasadena has the right to please itself on the subject of building a municipal road, but those who will have to pay the piper should not allow themselves to be misled into the belief that they will ride for next to nothing.

THE UNION TERMINAL DISCUSSION.

Consideration of the city's urgent and vital traffic problems has been hampered and unduly interfered with by the efforts of the Southern Pacific Railway to discredit the conclusions of engineering experts—obviously in the interest of their property at the Arcade depot. The highest authorities on municipal transportation have investigated and reported in favor of the Plaza site. These reports were unprejudiced and unbiased and are based solely on the merits of the case. The Southern Pacific and an organization formed for the purpose are seeking to overthrow the expert opinions by confusing the questions involved.

The situation in Los Angeles is not unique. Other cities have had to provide facilities for growing transportation and it has frequently happened that private corporations sought to control development to suit their own needs. Neither is it without precedent that men seeking to defraud the people pose as champions of the people. It isn't so long ago that efforts were made to thwart the development of Los Angeles Harbor. One has only to contemplate the truly colossal trade, both foreign and domestic, that has been built up on the foundation of harbor facilities to realize what a terrific blow would have been struck at the city's industrial progress if the railroads had had their way.

The city undertook the solution of its traffic problem at the outset in a sensible and businesslike way. It was apparent years ago that Los Angeles had not only outgrown its facilities, but was destined to grow even more rapidly. Early consideration developed the fact that the transportation problem here is so complex that it could be handled only by highly skilled and experienced traffic experts.

Bion J. Arnold, recognized as a leading authority on municipal transportation, was engaged by the city. His investigations were comprehensive and thorough. His report, submitted about nine years ago, was explicit and enlightening. It declared the Plaza site was the best available in the city. The engineering experts of the State Railroad Commission, the highest authority on the subject in California, made an exhaustive investigation and also reported in favor of the Plaza site. Other engineers have added the weight of their judgment.

The facts, the weight of expert opinion and the best interests of the city being solidly arrayed for the selection of the Plaza site, the Southern Pacific's representatives have sought to befog the issue and to create a doubt in the minds of the people. By artful assertions that the Plaza site will cost more and burden the city with a heavy bond issue they have persisted in their attempt to discredit the statements of engineering experts, always to the end that the Southern Pacific's property interests be taken care of. The Southern Pacific campaign for its Arcade site has been handled skillfully and adroitly, for it has employed men of ability who are adepts in twisting situations to the advantage of corporations.

An organization of business men, enlisted in the campaign for the Arcade site, includes some of the best citizens of Los Angeles. Some of them have business alliances with the Southern Pacific. Among them are men who have been successful in business enterprises, but who achieved success along lines widely different from transportation engineering. Just why these men undertake to set up their opinions against that of acknowledged experts does not clearly appear.

The engineering experts have stated that it will cost less to build the terminal at the Plaza than at the Arcade and have given the figures to back the assertion. The question of cost is complicated, however, because so many units of construction are involved. Either the Plaza plan or the Arcade plan can be stated in many forms according to the extent of improvements included.

Desiring to confuse rather than to clarify the situation, the Southern Pacific has naturally pounced on the question of costs and has juggled the figures in an effort to sustain its hopelessly weak case. The report of the State Railroad Commission does not contemplate or provide that the cost of the terminal be borne by the people through a bond issue. Such a bond issue is not planned, yet opponents of the Plaza project persist in flaunting that bugaboo.

Besides the argument of cost to the city, advocates of the Arcade site, inconsistently enough, point to the burden of cost that will fall on the railroad companies. As a matter of fact, whatever site is selected, or even if no union station is built, the railroads must soon expend a large sum of money on trackage improvements and the elimination of grade crossings. Furthermore, the railroads have been granted an increase in rates to provide for additional outlay.

The Plaza site is declared by engineering experts to be best suited for a union terminal and most economical. The Arcade site is a "stub" terminal which would bottle up a portion of the city and create further problems and additional expenses. The only truthful argument in favor of the Arcade site is that the Southern Pacific's immediate interests would be better served by it. That argument may be conclusive with the railroad people, but is not likely to swerve the people against themselves.

IT DOES NOT WORK OUT.

Bolshevism, sovietism and Communism are but different names for applied Socialism and they have disproved in practice the theories of Proudhon, Marx and Engels. The news from Russia gives promise to a new hope that the Russian peasants and industrial workers have themselves learned, through travail and misery, that sovietism under any name will not work. The Bolshevik regime is tottering, not from outside pressure, but from a revolt of the Russian people themselves. The counter-revolution has begun.

The Times has repeatedly asserted that the regeneration of Russia must come from within, that the Bolshevik revolution would run its course and the soviet government would collapse as soon as the workers of Russia discovered that the only equality possible under any form of Socialistic government is an equality of misery. Only in a country where the mass of the population is ignorant and credulous could such an experiment have been tried. It has been estimated that one-half the population of the old Russian Empire were unable to read and write. Their only education came from word of mouth. History and superstition were inextricably mingled and millions of honest fanatics were available to put into effect the false theories of charlatans.

Only in a country where the ignorance of history was so general could the actual experiment have been conducted by criminals and the dregs of society. Only in such a country could a Red terror have maintained control of government and industry for a period of three years. Only in a country where ignorance and credulity held sway could a demagogue who preached, as Trotzky preached, that "a country without capital will be a country without crime," have secured any considerable following.

But the end of the experiment is rapidly approaching. The Red armies have fled before a force of one-fifth their number. The peasants are refusing longer to raise crops which will be requisitioned by the Red guards. The workers in the mills, mines and factories are rebelling against the soviet system of conscript labor, are refusing to exchange the sweat of their brows for a paper currency that possesses no commercial value. The wives and mothers of Russia are rebelling against a system which deprives them of food for their babes. They heap maledictions on political forms that keep the country in a state of perpetual famine.

The farmers are in revolt against a system under which their produce is taken by the commissars for the alleged benefit of the state, but for the actual benefit of the commissar. They have believed in their church. Its forms and its mysticisms have satisfied the natural piety of their hearts. The Russian church has been destroyed, the Christian Sabbath has been abolished and a gross materialism has been forced upon a simple, kindly and devout people.

Communism does not appeal to the Russian peasants, who constitute 85 per cent of the population of the country. The peasant wants to work for himself and his immediate posterity, to enjoy the fruits of his own labor, to worship the God of his fathers, to enjoy the blessings of peace and leave it as a heritage to his children. The Slav countryman is not vicious at heart. He suffers for lack of education. Never having had any personal part in the government of his country, he was not alive to what was taking place when the Bolshevist oligarchy secured control. He was accustomed to leave the governing to those who understood politics, to the intellectuals; and he did not realize into what hands the government had fallen.

The awakening has been slow, but it threatens to be tragic for those who have abused the ignorance of the Russian masses. Bloody pages have been written into the history of Russia during the last three years. It is a law of nature that blood calls to blood; and when these Russian masses turn upon their Bolshevik oppressors other bloody pages will come.

Sovietism is about to be rejected in Russia for the unanswerable reason that it would not work. It did not prove to be a form of government under which people could live in peace with their neighbors, under which communities could be fed and clothed without resort to spoliation and robbery. Under its restraints individual liberty and the pursuit of happiness proved to be impossible. It destroyed the best things that civilization had developed and intensified the worst. When private industry disappeared, taking with it private enterprise, the incentive to labor ceased to exist. The peasants cared little for the bits of land credited to them by the soviet government when the government claimed and exercised the right to requisition the products of the land, paying for them in an utterly worthless currency.

There are few parallels in history for the suffering endured by the Russian masses during the last three years. It is natural for peoples to seek individuals on whom to fasten responsibility for their wrongs. They make men responsible for faulty systems; and it will not be easy for western peoples to maintain their poise when the hour comes in which the wronged Russian masses will demand an accounting of their oppressors. The murderers of the Czar and his family established a sinister precedent. It was difficult to keep hands off while the soviet experiment was committing such crimes in the name of humanity. It will be difficult to keep hands off when this simple people begin to take in a direct way their vengeance on a group of criminals.

But Russia and the Russians themselves can alone work out the salvation of the Slav peoples. A sympathetic attitude on the part of free peoples towards the Russian counter revolutionists, to be followed later by economic assistance and recognition of the group that proves by its acts a sincere desire for the restoration of government of liberty and justice—such is the extent to which outside peoples will be able to take part in the Russian regeneration from sovietism and Bolshevism.

Concessions must be made by the proponents of the old regime. Other concessions must be made by the social Democrats. Free exercise of the right of suffrage must be guaranteed to all classes. Private industry and the wage system must be restored. The Russian currency must be placed on a sound economic basis. The Russians themselves must undo the wrongs committed by the Red soviets, as far as that is possible. Russia must approach the rest of the world with clean hands; and, as soon as she assumes that attitude, she will find the world ready to extend to her financial, economic and industrial assistance.

THE WIFELY JUROR.

The local attorney who raises the legal point that a woman cannot be required to serve on a jury if the husband objects may be carrying his contention too far. A committee of worried husbands may wait upon him and beg him to cease firing. It is a poor rule that won't work both ways, and if a wife cannot be legally required to do things to which the husband files protest it might come about that Friend Husband would not even be permitted to do some things contrary to the will and desire of the wife. There was once a husband who said that if his spouse were ever locked out over night on jury service he would leave her. This attorney would argue that in such a case the woman would be exempt from the risks of jury service. The judge, however, would possibly have something to say about that. He might order the husband to not only have the home open in welcome for the wife, but to have breakfast ready against her return. The Los Angeles lawyer asserts that when the woman goes before a preacher and promises to love, honor and obey she says something that counts, and when the husband orders her to abstain from the pangs and passions of jury service it is contrary to good court practice to require it of her. As has been suggested, if this works one way it might another. Why shouldn't the wife order her husband to keep away from juries and other vicious associations? Then when the court asked why the man sought exemption the husband could say that the wife had ordered him out of jury service.

When jury duty was opened for women a lot of men felt dubious over the results. In the first place they thought the skirts would make punk jurors. They would be influenced by sentiment rather than the law or the facts. A mixed jury would cause embarrassment and delays. In a jury composed of one woman and eleven men justice might be imperiled because of the physical incapacity of the woman to endure the grind of a long trial. And there were other fears.

But nothing much happened. Most of the judges say that the women make fully as good jurors as the men. Some say that they understand the interpretation of the law even better and adhere to it more closely. Incidentally, the jury system has been brightened up and made more comfortable. The old fetich that jurors must be locked up together and kept aloof from the rest of the world has been modified for sanitary reasons. They do not have to eat from the same trough or use the same knife. They are regular human beings and entitled to all the comforts of home, even if they do have to spend much of the day listening to the bickerings of the attorneys and the solemn legal platitudes of the court.

The thing is going to work itself out all right. It wouldn't be a bad idea for a husband and wife to be tied up on the same jury for a week. They might grow to understand one another better.

But if a wife is going to be exempt from jury service because the husband forbids it we want to know it.

Church attendance has been made compulsory for the policemen of Wilmington, N. C. Now the poor tired watchmen of the night can get all the sleep they want.—[Nashville Banner.

OUR PARTY RESPONSIBILITY.

BY HERBERT C. HOOVER.

There is, I believe, in this election an issue that dominates all other issues and in which even the League of Nations is but one part. The major issue today, upon which I believe this election should turn, is that of party responsibility.

Ours is a government based upon the expression of the will of the majority through the ballot. We have found by practical experience over our entire national life that we can only give expression to this will through party organization. Ours, therefore, must be a government based on parties. If we are to sustain party government, however, our parties when in power must carry out their promises, must succeed in efficient government, must find solution for national difficulties, must march in progress with the times. In other words, they must discharge their responsibility to the country. When a party fails in these responsibilities it should and must be replaced in office. This is the real issue and is much more deeply-seated than superficial partisanship.

Since the armistice the present administration has made a failure by all the tests that we can apply. It has obstinately held up the peace of the world for eighteen months, with a fearful cost to ourselves and to the world. It has woefully neglected and failed upon great reconstruction and administrative measures that are critically necessary as the aftermath of the war. No man would be so narrow as to condemn one-half of his countrymen, nor all the acts of the leaders, of a great political party in government. Nor is this a question of individuals, for whom I hold great personal esteem. But responsibility must rest upon the whole if we are to maintain and sustain party government, if we are to hold through it our means of expression to the will of the majority, and any party that fails should and must be retired from office as a party. We cannot trifle with the inexorable insistence on the successful conduct of public welfare.

I have no doubt our Democratic friends will argue that they are martyrs to adherence to a great principle in the unmodified covenant of the League of Nations. They are seeking martyrdom upon a false premise. The questions involved in the League of Nations concern one great principle and numbers of alternative methods of its accomplishment. The only principle involved is the preservation of peace by organized association of nations. The Republican party and Senator Harding have repeatedly expressed their greatest devotion to this principle. Article X and the other articles of the treaty that have been objected to by the Republican party are but part of the methods of reaching this great object, of which there are many other alternatives. These particular articles adhered to by the Democratic party are methods that are today regarded by the majority of our people as dangerous, not only to our own country, but to the success of the League itself. Even if these particular articles in the League contributed all the good to the League that favorable view of their text permits they are so remote in usefulness in its whole conception that they furnish no warranty in good statesmanship for this delay in peace and reconstruction.

Furthermore, on methods of accomplishing these great things men's minds must divide, and good statesmanship will compromise. It is a fundamental failure of statesmanship not to recognize that compromise on method is essential in order to spread the foundations of public confidence in a great principle. The most important thing underlying the method of this great world aspiration is to have the good will of the vast majority of our people, for without general confidence and good will any League will fail.

My personal view is that some articles of the present treaty should be abandoned and others modified. But other parts of the treaty are so intertwined with the stability of Europe and so necessary in order to secure the co-operation of many other nations who have joined it that practical Republican statesmanship will, in order to use all in it that is good for the development of the great principle to which the party has pledged itself, build upon the foundations of the existing treaty and also include the great step in organization of the Court of International Justice recently advanced in Europe by Senator Root.

There are great domestic issues, delayed by or accumulating out of the war, that have been insistently demanding solution ever since the armistice. It was the business of the Democratic party to have assembled the best brains in the United States before each of these problems, to have prevented the advancing cost of living, to have found solution for the difficulties of our agricultural industry, to have inaugurated constructive methods of resettlement of the land, the development of our industrial employment relationship, the protection of child life, the solution of our deficient housing, reorganization of the business administration of the Federal government and a host of other domestic questions. Nearly two years have passed since the armistice. None of these things have been accomplished, we have only promises. The failure in these domestic necessities has already imposed a terrible cost in our daily living and will yet impose vast unemployment on great numbers of our countrymen.

The responsibilities of government should now, therefore, be transferred. I should like to have seen the Republican party take a more advanced position on many things, but the party has the skill, constructive ability and spirit to meet the issues in front of us. If it fails to provide peace on terms that preserve the great principle to which it has pledged itself; if it fails to attain it by methods that will secure the good will of the entire world; if it fails to provide these great measures of internal progress and reconstruction that we so urgently require, it deserves no more consideration four years hence than the present party deserves today. I do not believe it will fail. Senator Harding has shown a fine aspiration and ability to secure co-operation of the entire government and the nation in these solutions. I, therefore, whole-heartedly support the Republican candidate.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE ZOO.

I sometimes go to see the zoo, where shelfworn Bruin rages, and moldy lions, grim and blue, look forth from rusty cages. And there are wolves from forests dark, and monkeys ten or seven; and weary critters howl and bark and send their wails to heaven. All day they pace the sodden floor (save when the keepers feed 'em) and stick their noses through the door and yearn and yelp for freedom. They're dreaming of the jungles deep where once they gayly gamboled, or of the mountains wild and steep where in their youth they scrambled. They're thinking of the forest dense, of wood lore strange and clever; and now behind an iron fence they're doomed to pace forever. No more for these unhappy beasts the hunting call and rally; no more for them the outlaw feasts in desert, swamp or valley.
No more in some vast silent land will their swift feet be racing; and idle human beings stand and watch their tireless pacing. We've put these sad-eyed brutes in jail, without a writ or warrant, in musty cages foul and stale, with atmosphere abhorrent. They did not booze or beat their wives or do some speed-law sinning; they merely tried to live their lives as planned in the beginning. And now the poor mother-eaten wrecks behind the bars must languish, that idle, snooping rubbernecks may view their endless anguish.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

There are abundant indications that the plans of Gov. Cox are going awry. He banked heavily on the effect of mudslinging and has discovered that the people want something more than his unsupported word. He has learned, or will learn before his tour ends, that it will be impossible to avoid discussion of the serious problems of the campaign, or to conceal the unwholesome influences which are promoting his candidacy. — [Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The work of the Socialist of whatever degree is aimed at the destruction of "capitalism." Capitalism is conservative, not radical; it supports all orderly government. Hence it is hated by those who would erect a state which demands to own all that we have, from collar button to conscience. The New York outrage is a demand of the enemies of the republic to make way for the proletariat. It should be accepted as a lesson which proclaims the folly of granting amnesty or pardon of any kind to men disloyal to the government as recognized and supported by all worth-while parties in America.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

It is in accordance with the eternal fitness of things that the Rev. Aaron S. Watkins, Prohibition candidate for the Presidency, has been assigned by his church conference to a charge in Cincinnati. Go to it, Aaron! Never did a manufacturer of dry votes have his raw materials closer at hand or in greater abundance.—[Columbus Dispatch.

The United States cannot possibly let down the bars to Japanese immigration nor can it with safety allow those already here, and their rapidly multiplying descendants, to go on increasing their ownership of land. To do so would be to invite continually increasing friction and mutual hatred which would soon or late lead to massacres, and massacres quickly lead to war. There must be a plain, sensible recognition of facts by Japan and the United States alike and it should be possible to reach a clear-cut understanding without hard words, insults or blows.—[Grand Rapids Press.

The man who stands for Watson and for what Watson represents votes that Georgia shall be proclaimed as the Ishmael of the States—that she may stand alone among her sister Southern States, every one of which has overwhelmingly repudiated the things for which Watson stands.—[Atlanta Constitution (Dem.)

The Harding attitude is the honorable, common-sense, manly attitude, the only attitude a President of the United States has a right to take under his oath. Eight years ago the people of this country would have assumed that any man standing for the office of Chief Executive would hold such an attitude. They have learned to their cost that another policy is quite possible, that it may even become traditional in a party.—[Detroit Free Press.

The popular notion of T. R. is that he was a doer, not a talker. Actually, he was one of the most adroit talkers that ever knew how to get his phrases into the headlines. Neither candidate thus far has pulled a good phrase.—[New York Tribune.

It is well to remember that out of 100,000,000 population of the United States at least 98,000,000 have never applied for divorce. As many more have never committed a murder or a crime. At least 99,000,000 citizens out of 100,000,000 would probably be horrified at the thought of murder or a brutality. If that proportion is high, cut it down. Make it 95,000,000 and even allowing that 5,000,000 people in the United States are degenerate and bad, there are a good many more who are not. The cities are not all bad, and there are a good many decent people still living in New York City and Chicago.—[Christian Herald.

HORSES ATTRACT CROWD TO SHOW

Little Miss of Nine Rides Winner of the Ponies.

Five Thousand Attend from the State Societies.

Sensational Diving Will be Among Today's Features.

Two of the most attractive features of the Live Stock Show at Exposition Park yesterday were the horse and pony shows. In the latter, girls and boys, many of them scarcely in their teens, rode on well-groomed, well-bred ponies. The first prize was given to the Los Angeles Riding Academy. The pony, a black one, was ridden by a little miss of 9 years.

Yesterday was Federated States Society Day, and the presence of many white-haired men and women gave a new tone to the show and recalled the days of open horse racing. It was estimated that 15,000 persons attended the show, 5000 of whom were members of the several State societies.

The society horse show is attracting crowds and many of those who attended yesterday were most interested in the exhibit of fancy, well-bred horses, ridden in many instances by their owners. The habits of many of the women riders were declared by those who know to be something extremely new. It is believed that in subsequent years this feature of the show will be more of a society affair than it has been before.

A number of students who are taking agricultural courses in the schools were present yesterday and showed great interest in the judging of animals. With the aid of their instructors they passed on the points of the different animals exhibited.

RAISED BY BOYS.

Much interest is being shown in the exhibits of the George Junior Republic of Chino, which has on display a large assortment of dairy cattle, hogs and other farm animals. These animals are raised by the boys.

Rotarians will hold forth at the grounds today. Members of the societies from Santa Ana, San Diego, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Pedro, Pasadena, Long Beach, Riverside and Redlands are coming to this city to join with the Los Angeles Rotary Club, and plan to make this the most auspicious day of the ten-day show.

In addition to the Rotarians, many school children who are interested in the live-stock industry will be at the grounds today. The Board of Education has granted permission to excuse all scholars who desire to attend the exhibition and the management is making special plans for the entertainment of the young people.

The Rotarians will give a picnic lunch on the grounds at noon, after which they will occupy the grand stands and boxes. There will be community singing, led by Hugo Kirchhoffer, and other special attractions are promised. Mr. Kirchhoffer is planning some special stunts for the benefit of the children.

The boys and girls who attend the exhibition will be in charge of the farm adviser of the Board of Education. They will be shown around the grounds, will view the winners and will be told the different points of the animals which led to the awards.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged faded, or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercolized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercolized wax, procurable at any drugstore (an ounce is sufficient,) is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles, an excellent recipe is: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint of witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results.—[Advertisement.

DID THE WORK FOR HIM TWICE

Los Angeles Man Says Tanlac Proved Merit.

Freed Him of Lumbago and Rheumatism.

Effects of Flu Now Vanish Before Master Medicine.

"I've had two occasions to give Tanlac a thorough trial, and it has certainly made good in both of them," said W. Walker, of 610 N. Chester Avenue, Pasadena, Cal., Mr. Walker is a popular motorman on the Hooper Avenue car line, and has lived in and around Los Angeles for sixteen years.

"Two years ago I suffered from lumbago and rheumatism in my back which was so bad that at times I couldn't work, and every morning it would take me at least an hour to put my clothes on and straighten up so I could walk. I took a great many medicines without getting any relief, so one day while I was at The Owl Drug Store in Pasadena, I asked the drug clerk if he knew of anything that would help me. He told me that everybody was speaking very highly of Tanlac and that it seemed to be giving splendid results, so I decided to try it. Well, sir, it only took three bottles to knock the lumbago and rheumatism out completely and I've never felt a sign of them since.

"Then last winter I had a severe attack of the influenza and it left me in a terribly weak rundown condition. I lost my appetite, had a sickening feeling at my stomach nearly all the time and didn't dare eat any fruits or very sweet things at all. I was so weak I could scarcely walk a block, and many a day I felt so bad I just had to lay off from my work. I had an awful cough, and was simply miserable all the time.

"As the treatment I was taking was doing me no good, I finally started on Tanlac, for I knew quite well what the medicine had done for me before. Well, after taking three bottles my appetite was excellent, and everything agreed with me so well I could eat fruits, candies, and just anything else I wanted without it troubling me a bit. Why, I've actually gained sixteen pounds in weight, and that awful cough has entirely disappeared. I'm feeling just fine in every way now, and when my friends ask me what I took to make such a different looking person out of me I don't hesitate to tell them Tanlac did it, and I'll always be strong for the medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.

SHOW CROPS OF ORANGE COUNTY

Annual Fair Opens With Big Attendance.

Republicans Outnumber the Democrats 3 to 1.

Find Painter's Body in Tub in Vacant House.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 7.—Orange county's 1920 fair opened today at Huntington Beach with thousands in attendance and prospects good for record-breaking crowds on Friday and Saturday.

Every district of the county is co-operating as never before and as a result the exhibits are truly representative of the county's $90,000,000 annual production. The displays are not only better than ever before, but occupy three times the space of last year's fair.

Tomorrow is Santa Ana Day and Educational Day and it is confidently expected more than 10,000 people will attend. Tickets have been provided for all teachers and students and the county schools will be closed all day so that all may attend. Saturday's features will be States picnics and old settlers' picnics with a closing confetti carnival at night.

Of particular interest this year are the splendid community agricultural displays.

A dozen local farm centers, including those at Garden Grove, La Habra, Yorba Linda, Villa Park, Cypress, Buena Park, Tustin and Costamesa have arranged wonderful exhibits of farm and orchard produce. Another feature is a table of rare fruits, said to be the best collection of rare fruits ever gathered from any one locality in the world. The poultry and pet stock, art needle work, relics, floriculture and culinary departments are also of unusual merit while a prominent place is occupied by canary cottage, filled with the county's sweetest singing birds.

Two large tents are occupied by the auto truck and tractor exhibits. Daily band concerts and vaudeville programs and many carnival features afford entertainment and B. H. Delay of Venice with his airplane stunts provides the thrills.

There are three times as many Republicans as Democrats in Orange county, it was disclosed today when registration figures were announced by County Clerk J. M. Backs. The county's registration is 25,153, segregated as follows: Republican, 15,383; Democrats, 5259; independent, 176; nonpartisan, 122; Prohibition, 1002; Progressive, 35; Socialist, 266; decline to state, 3424.

FIND MAN'S BODY.

The mysterious disappearance last Saturday of M. A. Brownlow, a local painter, was solved this afternoon when his body was found in the bath tub of a vacant house at 1007 West Chestnut street. Beside the tub was an empty carbolic acid bottle. Continued ill health is believed responsible for the supposed suicide.

John Samarin and wife of 157 Glass street were painfully injured when they, with four children, narrowly escaped death when their car turned turtle at Turtle Bar night as they started to make a sharp turn. Samarin was thrown through the windshield and suffered a broken collarbone.

TIRES OF LIFE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 7.—James P. Kortner, well-known rancher and bean grower of the Casmalia district, this county, ended his life this morning by discharging the contents of a twelve-gauge shotgun into his head. He had been unable for the last two seasons to sell his bean crop and despondency over financial difficulties as a result drove him to the deed.

He had spent yesterday at Guadalupe trying to find a buyer at a price that would pay him for his investment. This morning he took his shotgun into his garage and there fired the fatal shot. He was 35 and unmarried.

FILM THE CAUSE OF BOY'S UNDOING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 7. That the movies leave an impression on the young mind was demonstrated here this afternoon when a half-dozen boys pounced on, and thoroughly "mussed up" little Jimmie Webb. Jimmie's suit of white duck and patent leather shoes were a thing of beauty until they had passed through the hands of his classmates. No serious damage was done the boy's person, unless mother was not amenable to reason, but the suit was ready for the tub. "Humoresque" had been running for a couple of days at one of the local theaters.

RACING SEASON TO OPEN THANKSGIVING.

TRACK AT TIJUANA TO OFFER HUNDRED DAYS OF SPORT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—James W. Coffroth, president of the Lower California Jockey Club, announced today that the Tijuana race track will open Thanksgiving Day, November 25.

Coffroth states that the courts of Mexico have ruled in his favor in the suit brought against him by James Bassity of San Francisco and others who claim to have purchased rights to the track.

Coincident with the official announcement of the opening of the Tijuana track on Thanksgiving Day, President Coffroth stated that no purse will be less than $500 and that there will be a total of twenty-three stakes, with an aggregate value of $90,000 and ranging from the Coffroth handicap of $20,000 to a handicap of $1500.

"There will be 100 days of racing," said Coffroth. "There will be at least seven races every day, and on a number of days there will be eight races. No purse of less than $500 will be offered. In addition, there will be a total of twenty-three stakes, with an aggregate value of $90,000, and there is a strong likelihood that this number will be increased. The principal stake will be the Coffroth handicap of $20,000, followed by the U. S. Grant Hotel handicap and the Baja California handicap, each of $10,000. Four stakes of $5000 each will be offered, with three races of $2500 each."

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 7.—Committee organization was completed at Hemet this afternoon for the raising of funds for a $100,000 tourist hotel to be erected on Florida avenue. The matter was discussed at a meeting held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Hemet Chamber of Commerce, which listened to suggestions made by Frank A. Miller of the Mission Inn of Riverside, and W. A. Lane, Los Angeles capitalist and hotel man.

Mr. Lane advised that an Indian motif be chosen for the architectural features, Mr. Miller seconding the suggestion and urging that the artistic and romantic element be kept to the forefront in the designing and furnishing.

QUITS IN A HUFF.

Head of Long Beach Chamber of Commerce Resigns.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 7. — Following a disagreement with the board of directors of the organization on a matter of harbor policy, Charles B. Mullaly today resigned as president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce.

In his resignation he stated that he felt he could best serve the city in a private capacity. Mr. Mullaly made strenuous objections to the desire of the board of directors of the commercial organization to employ an expert to make a survey of the harbor for the purpose of making recommendations as to the best procedure for its development. The directors should do the "expert" in the expressed opinion of the retiring president.

ASKS $40,000 DAMAGES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 7.—Much interest is being taken in the trial of the $40,000 damage suit brought against Chairman T. F. Flaherty and other members of the Board of Supervisors and several individuals by Lewis H. Pritchett of Cabazon. The suit is based on injuries alleged to have been suffered by plaintiff's son while clambering over a road scarifier in use on the county highway near Cabazon. The case is being tried before a jury in the Superior Court.

HITS AT VACCINATION.

Compulsion in Schools Condemned by Speaker to Cattlemen.

An address opposing compulsory vaccination was delivered by Manson S. Abbott to 150 members of the Cattlemen's Association, southern zone, in session yesterday at Exposition Park.

Mr. Abbott explained how the Public School Protective League has placed an amendment on the ballot to be voted on at the November election, because of expulsion of children from the public schools under the vaccination law. He said that recently 597 children were sent home from a Los Angeles school and many of them are still kept from their classes, but meanwhile are mingling with other children on the streets, in homes, at theaters and other places.

HEAR ZONE ARGUMENTS.

Councilmen Consider Both Sides of Industrial District Fight.

The Council gave a long hearing yesterday on the application of Milton A. Blanchard, asking the city to create an industrial district on the westerly side of Grand avenue, between Jefferson and Thirty-fifth streets, to enable the Hamburger Realty Company to construct there a storage warehouse. Speaking in favor of the application were H. E. Thomas, Ralph B. Lloyd, Laurence B. Burck, W. E. Chamberlain and James H. Hill, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

Protests were made on behalf of residents of the district by T. J. McCarey, W. C. Heron, Stephen Mateleone, Harry W. Byrnes, E. Jordan, J. O. Kriehn, and I. Kufka. The protestants declared that the district is a residential one and that the building of the warehouse would be the forerunner of buildings. Action was deferred inst.

GRUDGE MATCH THIS EVENING.

Bull Montana to Mingle With Sam Clapham.

Terrible Revenge Promised by Movie Demon.

The blood-curdling combination wrestling and drop-kicking contest between Bull Montana and Sam Clapham comes off tonight at Jack Doyle's black-eye and bloody-nose emporium, in Vernon. And to hear Bull describe what's going to happen we would deem it inadvisable for those who dislike being hit in the face with a leg or arm to get any closer than the tenth row. Bull says some awful things about the prospects for the evening.

SAM HEAVIER.

Clapham will enter the ring weighing about 180 pounds and bearing the title of light heavyweight champion of England. Bull will waltz into the arena weighing 169 pounds and claiming no titues whatsoever. A ten or eleven-pound advantage means nothing at all in Bull's young life and neither do titles of one kind and another. Bull is out to increase the family bank roll and flop Mr. Clapham on his spinal column by way of revenge if possible—that's all.

The two men have met once before, in El Paso about two months ago, Clapham winning after a wild and woolly battle. Sam won the first fall and Bull captured the second. In the final bout, Bull got the Englishman upon his head and endeavored to ram him through the floor. Sam placed his hoof under Bull's chin, gave a mighty heave and threw our handsome hero clear across the ring as cold as a cucumber. Bull returned to Los Angeles a few days later and defeated Henry Irslinger by the same method—hence the drop-kicking possibilities of the contest.

GOOD PRELIMS.

The main event will be preceded by a couple of high-voltage preliminaries, which Manager Dick Donald says will come pretty close to stealing the show. Konstantine Romanoff, Young Hackenschmidt, Ad Santel, Jim Londos, Nick Daviscourt, Pete Sauer, Tarro Miyaki and a whole flock of other well-known grapplers have challenged the winner and will be accommodated

GRID TURMOIL BEGINS TODAY.

Three Prep Games Scheduled in the City League.

College Teams Swing Into Action Tomorrow.

U.S.C. Meets Tech and Tigers Tackle the Cubs.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Turmoil in the prep football ranks will commence this afternoon, when six of the seven teams in the City League swing into action.

Lincoln meets Hollywood at Hollywood, Los Angeles High goes to Jefferson and Poly travels to Pasadena.

Pigskin activity will become still more pronounced tomorrow afternoon, when the lumpy U.S.C. eleven plays the part of host to California Tech men at Bovard Field and Occidental tangles with the lowly S.B.U.C. team on the latter's field.

MUCH EXCITEMENT.

Interest is so intense among the high school students over today's games that practically all the jews harps, tom-toms, tin cans and other noise-producing instruments in town have been commandeered for use in disconcerting the enemy in the various frays.

Los Angeles is not expected by the sharps to have any trouble with Jefferson. The Democrats are too light for the Pioneers. The real struggles should be those between Lincoln and Hollywood and Poly and Pasadena, with an even chance for all.

The college soirees tomorrow will serve to introduce U.S.C., Occidental and California Tech to the populace for the first time this year. The Cubs, opponents of the Orange and Black men, were easy meat for Pomona last week, so the Tigers are expected to have a soft time.

Tech, with a brand new coach, is said to have eyes on the college conference title. The Engineers have a fine-looking bunch of candidates, but they are tackling raw meat in the Trojans.

IT'S A TOUGH WORLD.

Mr. Gloomy Gus Henderson is still emitting the same yodels of anguish as last year, but the Trojan fold houses this year a wonderful aggregation of beefy young Behemoths who appear to be rough persons in football society.

In the middle of the line Mr. Cal-

SPINS OFF FAST FIVE FURLONGS.

Freedom Shows Way to Fine Bunch of Sprinters.

Boxers Give Thrill to Exposition Park Crowd.

Live Stock Show Full of Zip and Peppery Action.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

The Los Angeles Live Stock Show fairly pulsated with an unbroken chain of thrilling stunts yesterday afternoon.

One of the most enjoyable features was the boxing card of five bouts. The boys were evenly matched and each bout was watched with keen and exciting interest.

The horse-racing was up to the standard that has been maintained since the show opened. Of the three scheduled events the Riverside Handicap at five furlongs proved to be the best scramble, the winner turning up in Freedom, who spun off the dash in 1:00:3-5, which is the fastest time for the distance that has been hung up at the meeting thus far.

The race was marred somewhat by an irksome delay at the post, several of the field acting badly just about the time Starter Gilmore was about to spring the barrier. When the boys were given the word, "Go," Jockey Perry, who had gotten Freedom off running, shot the mare to the front at a terrific gait.

She was soon joined by Phrone Ward and Muriel's Pet. Juanita Frederick, which left the post in a tangle, was far out of it in the first quarter, but gradually closed on the pace-maker by the time the head of the stretch had been reached.

Down the final quarter Freedom, under a strong hand ride miantained her lead, flashing under the wire a short length before Juanita Frederick, which beat Phrone Ward two lengths for the place. With any kind of racing luck at the start Juanita Frederick would have been hard to beat. The summaries follow:

First race, six furlongs—Anna Jackson first, Miss Manage second, French Nurse third. Time 1:14 1-5.

Second race, five furlongs—Freedom first, Juanita Frederick second, Phrone Ward third. Time 1:00 2-5.

Third race, seven furlongs—Striker first, Maria Connell second, Mood Smith third. Time 1:27 2-5.

The following are the entries for today's races:

First race, the Live Stock Show Purse, four and one-half furlongs—Bellflower, Letty Rae, Minana, Old Squirrel, Sir John, Jr., Victory I.

Second race, the Rotary Club Derby, five and one-half furlongs—Bee's Wing, Cavalcadour II, Chattanooga, California Jack Chantress, Dora Starr, Irene W., Lady Small, Lady Moore, Nachelli, Ringleader, Wooden.

Third race, the T. H. Dudley Purse, a furlongs—Bonnie's Buck, Don Jose, Minnie K., Maria Connell, Paradigm, Prairie, Sam Hill, Trulane.

you can bequeath property, but not experience!

To merely leave an estate is not sufficient. If you could leave with it your financial judgment, which accumulated and safeguarded your property through the ups and downs of a business career, all would be well. But your heirs are deprived of your experience when you pass away.

Is it not due them to leave in your stead, as executor and trustee, a responsible trust company, which you know will survive both you and the trust, which has trained financial judgment, wide business experience, and facilities for handling estates which the ordinary individual cannot parallel?

We suggest that you confer with your attorney about making a competent will and consult our trust officers about naming this company executor and trustee. Write or call for our booklet.

Man-o'-War Off for Race With Canadian Colt.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Man-o'-War, Samuel D. Riddle's famous race horse, was shipped from Belmont Park yesterday for Windsor, Can., where he will meet Sir Barton in a match race at the Kenilworth Jockey Club track next Tuesday. The race will be a mile and a quarter for a $75,000 purse and a $5000 cup.

Many local followers of the sport are planning to attend the race and a large delegation will leave here Sunday. Word was received here today that Commander Ross, owner of Sir Barton, would leave Laurel, Md., for Canada on Sunday.

Sir Barton had a final workout today. He covered the race distance easily in 2:16 today, it was said, and his trainer, H. D. Bedwell, expressed confidence in the ability of the colt to beat the 3-year-old champion. Louis Fuestel, trainer of Man-o'-War, said his charge was in fine condition after his workout yesterday in 2:02 3-5.

WORLD'S RECORD MADE ON TRACK.

PETER MANNING UTTERLY RUINS THREE-HEAT MARK ON LEXINGTON OVAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LEXINGTON (Ky.) Oct. 7.—Peter Manning, owned by Irving Gleason of New York, lowered the world's record for 3-year-old geldings and trotted the fastest three heats ever covered by a horse of any age or sex in winning the Transylvania $5000 trot today. The miles were made in 2:03, 2:03¾, 2:02½. Harry Stokes of the Murphy stable held the reins when Peter Manning made his remarkable performance today.

Prince Lorge, again demonstrated that he was champion double-gaited horse by lowering his pacing record to 2:00 flat in a race against time.

SMITH SCALPS INDIANS.

Brooklyn Hurling Demon Entirely Too Good for Speakerites.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Sherrod Smith, Brooklyn's southpaw hurling ace, pitched himself into a place in the world's series hall of fame today when he held Cleveland helpless in the third game of the superpennant struggle, which the National Leaguers won, 2 to 1. Smith, who might aptly be termed the "stormy petrel" of baseball from the fact that his connection with the Robins is the thirteenth since his debut on the professional diamond, found this circumstance neither a hoodo nor a handicap. Any jinx hovering around the twirler from Mansfield, Ga., found lodgment in the ball which baffled the desperate efforts of the Indian war club swingers throughout the entire nine innings of the game.

FINE SUPPORT.

Smith, whose hurling today easily won him a place among the stars of the baseball classic such as Mathewson, Coombs, McGinnity and Bender of ancient series, was supported by his team-mates in a manner which fully equaled the best exhibition of fielding seen in many similar conflicts since the National Commission assumed a League of Nations protectorate over the autumnal struggle of the major league premiers. The Superbas backed up their pitcher like the secondary defense of an all-American football team and it was almost impossible for the Cleveland batters to get a drive through the various combinations which shifted with lightning speed from places wherever the ball was hit.

Three hits only were made off the winning hurler and of these Catcher O'Neill gathered in two and Manager Speaker one.

INDIANS HITS.

Speaker made his hit, a double, in the fourth; O'Neill followed with a single in the fifth and another in the eighth inning. Had Zack Wheat played Speaker's double safely, Smith would have been credited with a world's series shutout.

Of the twenty-eight Indians who faced the Robins' star left-hander only five reached first. Of these three arrived on hits and two on passes. Speaker scored on an error, two were left on bases, and O'Neill was once the victim of a double play and Jamieson, who ran for him in the eighth inning, met a similar fate. Smith hurled 109 balls to the visitors, of which twenty-nine were strikes, forty-one balls, eight foul strikes, five fouls, five field outs and eighteen ground outs.

GOT A GOOD START.

Brooklyn, while never free from the fear of a Cleveland rally, batted its way to victory in the first inning, as it eventually proved, by falling upon the puny offerings of

INDIANS TO GET A BIG OVATION.

Mayor Calls on All Fans to Honor the Team.

Believes They Will Win Series if Backed Up.

Speaker's Pets to be Welcomed at the Station.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—Despite two defeats by the Brooklyn team, winners of the National League pennant, the Cleveland Indians, the American League champions and contenders in the world's championship series, will receive a big ovation from thousands of Cleveland fans when the team reaches home tomorrow to begin a four-game series with the Dodgers, beginning Saturday.

Mayor Fitzgerald gave an official aspect to the welcome home by issuing a proclamation today calling upon Clevelanders to do honor to their team.

BELIEVE IN 'EM.

"They will win the series if Cleveland backs them as it backed them in the pennant fight," said the proclamation. "I ask that Cleveland on Friday show in every way possible its appreciation."

The proclamation closes with the suggestion that automobiles, sirens and factory whistles be sounded at noon "to urge the team to victory."

Thousands of fans are expected to throng the station when the team reaches home and the demonstration is looked to outdo anything of the kind the city has ever witnessed.

The distribution of box and reserved seats to those holding allotment cards continued today. Business Manager Bardnard of the local club estimated tonight that more than 80 per cent of the box and reserved seats had been called for

SMITH SCALPS THE INDIANS.

Ray Caldwell as soon as he took his place on the mound. What Manager Speaker saw in Caldwell's curves when the latter warmed up will always be a mystery. Certainly the lanky former Yankee had nothing but deliberation after he entered the box. Of this he had plenty and to spare. A base on balls, an error and two hits netted the Superbas the two runs that won the game before Speaker could wig-wag Ray away and replace him by Duster Mails.

The former Robin, while not as effective as his rival, Smith, was not an easy proposition, and, backed up by some splendid fielding, prevented any further scoring. But, with the Brooklyn port-sider moving at the pace he had set for himself, the initial-inning slip of the Cleveland combination was his undoing.

A GREAT GAME.

In many respects the game measured up to the very best contest seen in any world series in many years. Old-time players and followers were unanimous in this opinion after the final out had been made. The entire contest, although marred by two errors evenly divided, fairly scintillated with brilliant individual and combination defensive plays which brought the thousands of spectators to their feet repeatedly.

It was the first contest to be played in real baseball weather and the fans showed the effects of the more suitable setting. Not a cloud obscured the sun and only a lazy breeze disturbed the Indian summer haze. There was, however, a little change in the collective attitude of the fans, so far as rooting was concerned.

TRIS A HERO.

Speaker was given the greatest applause of any individual player. Members of both teams came in for repeated cheers, following fine plays, but the rooting which has made other series famous in the past was still missing, notwithstanding that the home club was winning and winning repeatedly.

The outbursts of applause which greeted the rapidly succeeding feats of first one and then the other team were spontaneous and impartial. Partisanship, except in a few individual cases, was noticeably absent. It may have been due to the fact that these thrilling plays came so rapidly that the Brooklyn fans never had time to set themselves for a genuine outburst of concerted and home-team rooting.

The baseball fire works opened in the second inning when Rightfielder Griffith made a great running catch off Joe Wood's bat that robbed the Cleveland outfielder of a sure double. A moment later Konetchy knocked down Sewell's blazing slash and retired him at first with a snap throw to Smith. Both players were required to doff their caps repeatedly as they came to the bench. In the third, Konetchy and Kilduff figured in another star play. O'Neill's smash fairly tore its way through the hands of the Robins' first sacker, but the ball was deflected by Konetchy's efforts to stop it and shot off toward Kilduff, who scooped it up and flung it back to Smith, who had rushed over to cover the bag.

FINE WORK!

In the fifth Olson knocked down Mails's wicked drive and, recovering his balance with an effort, tossed the ball to Kilduff, forcing O'Neill at second, whereupon Kilduff whirled and nailed Mails at first.

Speaker's players let themselves out under this incentive in the sixth when two feats in handling the ball aroused the crowd to a frenzy. Wheat lifted a booming foul fly along the right field line and Burns chased the descending sphere clear the grand stand, where he brought up with a slam against the iron railing, but not until he reached in among the spectators occupying a front row box and with his gloved hand speared the ball almost in the lap of a woman fan. Myers then singled to left, but when Konetchy hammered a red-hot hopper to Wambsganss, a lightning double play, Wambsganss to Sewell to Burns, checked what appeared to be another run-getting rally. Other plays of almost equal brilliancy marked the progress of the battle.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Since the present Autocar prices were established over a year ago we have had to face a constantly increasing scale of production costs. The recent increase in freight rates has placed an even heavier charge upon production and distribution.

When the excise tax was placed on motor trucks, we believed it would be a temporary war measure, and so have, up to this time, absorbed the tax.

Costs have mounted so steadily, however, that the Company no longer can absorb this tax. Beginning November 15th, all Autocar Branches will sell Autocar chasses with tax and freight charges added.

Gas!

Gas Masks!

And the RA-DO!

Everyone knows how a gas mask works. The gas passes through a retort containing a chemical compound which removes the poison and leaves the air pure.

Also

Everyone knows that the ordinary gas heater—unless it has a vent to the outside—uses up the oxygen in the air, gives off an obnoxious odor and causes sweating of the walls and tarnishing of metal work.

Well

are gas radiators which eliminate these objectionable features.

Just like a gas mask, they are equipped with a retort which absorbs all obnoxious fumes and leaves pure, warm air.

They can be installed where wanted in any room without expense or inconvenience of alterations for vent pipes or flues.

They heat the room with less gas because you don't have to open the window and let out warmth in order to have pure air.

THE C. L. BEST GAS TRACTION CO., says of the RA-DO:

"After using one of the old style heaters, the RA-DO is certainly a relief. It has completely done away with the gas fumes which we found so unpleasant, and we can heat our office with a great deal less fuel than before."

If you burn gas, you will have a RA-DO sometime. Why put off the convenience of using one now? At least it will cost you nothing to find out more about the RA-DO.

Seraphs Fail at a Critical Time to Keep Up in the Pennant Race.

ANGELS FLIRT WITH CIPHERS.

Killefer's Pets Play Ball Like Sleeping Lambs.

The Angels suffered another broken wing yesterday when they succumbed to Seattle, 2 to 0.

It wasn't in the cards, books, or art magic for Killefer to win, simply because Demaree chucked about as swell a game of ball as has been dished up here this year.

When a heaver has only twenty-seven men to pitch to during an afternoon's play, he is chucking in a fashion to mow down the best club that ever existed and this is just the number of Celestials that faced Demaree. The Angels gathered only three little scattered swats and were as mild as a lamb at noontide.

With an outside chance at the pennant staring them in the face, the Seraphs played somewhat semi-professionally and their stanchest rooters left the park in disgust. The team performed as if battered to a frazzle and showed the same weakness that it displayed in the closing week's play of last year.

ROD BIFFS IT.

The only two runs scored were put over by the visitors in the fourth canto. Murphy started matters with a triple to left and came home on Eldred's single to center. Brick stole second and took third on Bassler's low throw. Kenworthy fanned, but O. Crandall lost control and walked Middleton. Cunningham hit to Zeider and Middleton was run down between first and second after Cunningham had been nailed. Zeider to Killefer. In the meantime, Eldred scored on the play.

O. Crandall pitched for the Angels and did fairly well. The score:

SALT LAKE, Oct. 7.—Scoring two runs in the tenth inning, after Salt Lake had evened the score in their half of the ninth, the Vernon Tigers took their third straight game from the Bees. Al Gould, Salt Lake pitcher, was taken out in the ninth inning for a pinch hitter and Nick Cullop sent in. Vernon's two winning tallies, made on a double by Jans, a single by Smith and a sacrifice fly by Fisher, were scored off him. The score:

DUCKS FAIL TO HIT BALL IN PINCHES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 7.—Portland outhit Oakland, 2 to 1 here today, but the visitors were unable to hit with men on bases and lost the second game of the series with Oakland by a 4-to-3 score. Miller's home run in the first inning, which also scored Lane and Cooper, was one of the longest drives of the season, the ball clearing the left-field wall. The winning run was made in the fourth when Brubaker walked, took third on Mitze's hit and scored on Lane's sacrifice fly to center. The score:

land, Townsend and Lumpy Lucas represent a tonnage that it would take a locomotive to budge. Farther out, where Swede Evans, J. Boyle and Paul Beale operate, there is a slight depreciation on the hoof market, but not enough to make it very noticeable.

This part of the line consumed so much food at the training table, established the first of the week, that Coach Gus ordered the athletes to inhale their soup from sponges instead of spoons in order to avoid waste.

Farrar, a newcomer from the wilds of Dinuba, is working at quarter and may get a chance in tomorrow's game. Paul Greene is temporarily out with a bum ankle. Rude freshmen sat on it in a scrimmage this week. Jimmy Woodward is first-string signal caller for the time being.

The rest of the backfield will be chosen from Eddie Leahy, Hobo Kincaid, the well-known Charlie Dean, String Bean Leadingham, Frank Lockett and a few other rough and ready gents.

CLOSE UP FAST IN AFTERNOON.

Vardon and Ray Win Their Match in P.M. Rally.

English Golf Stars Outplayed in the Morning.

Kirkby and Lansing Prove to be Fair Opponents.

BY HARRY VARDON.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The agreement by which Ted Ray and I do all things possible to help secure victory came near to being discredited as a working scheme again today, when we played against Oswald Kirkby and Charles Lansing over the course of the Knickerbocker Country Club, at Tenafly, N. J., where Lansing is a resident member. We managed, however, to nose them out by the score of 2 and 1, after they had gained an advantage in the morning round of three holes.

The morning round was unusual in that they finished it with his lead of three holes, when both Ray and I had better scores than either of them had. Ray set a new record for the course with a 72. I had a 77.

My partner and I are getting experience at recovering from dark prospects. The last three matches we have played we have faced at the end of the first round, an adverse situation, and only yesterday have we overcome the odds that were against us. The third hole of the second round was ours because of a tree that was in the path that the tee shots of each of our opponents followed.

Kirkby's afternoon medal was same as it was in the morning and coincidentally Lansing turned in another 79. Ray had a 75 and I a 74.

We were well pleased with the layout and the condition of the course. Lansing is a young player with a nice style, an effortless swing and an evident confidence which, together, are assurances of good results over any course. The best ball cards follow:

TERRIBLE TEST FOR SEA CRAFT.

Race Around Catalina Starts Early Tomorrow.

Navy Details a Destroyer to Watch the Dash.

Three Swift Boats Go After Island Trophy.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. the swift United States destroyer Parrott, Lieutenant-Commander H. B. Kelly, darted into Los Angeles Harbor after a dash from San Diego. By order of Rear-Admiral H. A. Wiley, commander of the destroyer force, Pacific Fleet, Capt. F. T. Evans, commander of the destroyer squadron at this base, detailed the Parrott to cover the Catalina motorboat race tomorrow morning and make observations. The Navy is particularly interested in this event since the showing of speed made last Sunday by some of the entries.

A LONG COURSE.

The Catalina race will start tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock from the lighthouse at the end of the San Pedro breakwater, and the course is around the island and back to this point, approximately seventy-five miles. Some of the water likely to be encountered is a severe test for any craft. Only the staunchest boats and the most capable sea dogs dare tackle this gruelling contest, which has no counterpart in the world.

The contenders for the perpetual challenge trophy will be Frank A. Garbutt's powerful Mystery V, which broke all world records in its class last Sunday by making a speed in excess of fifty-two miles an hour in its first trial and under unfavorable conditions; the Fellows IV, built and owned by the indefatigable mariner, Joe Fellows—a boat that is new and gives promise of exceptional performance, and the Hurricane, a beautiful, smooth-running hummer, built at Balboa, owned by William Paden and driven by Doc Wilson.

All these boats are masterpieces of their respective types and it is impossible to pick the winner. Garbutt, who adds to his Mystery collection every season or two, has held the perpetual challenge trophy several years. Previously, Joe Fellows had it corralled a long time. The greater rivalry is between these two.

LANGFORD STILL CAN SWING HARD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 7.—Sam Langford of Boston knocked out Tiny Herman, Astoria, Or., heavyweight in the seventh round of their scheduled ten-round go here last night. The knockout came one minute and ten seconds after the start of the round when Langford swung a left hook to Herman's midsection. Baby Blue, Sacramento bantamweight, won a six-round decision over Frankie Howard of Portland.

CADILLAC

"The workmanship on a Cadillac is simply perfect. There is no other word for it. It is far and away superior to anything I have seen elsewhere. The infinite pains taken over the infinitely small jobs are most impressive."

From an interview with the distinguished English designer, Mr. Lawrence H. Pomeroy, published in The Motor, the English National Motor Journal, August 4, 1920.

We have never spoken as strongly of the Cadillac as does this generous English critic.

Respecting the patriotic pride of England, France and Italy in their own splendid products, we have never made invidious claims of Cadillac superiority.

But, as we have said before, the group of men whose life is bound up in the betterment of the Cadillac, would be less than human if they did not experience a deep satisfaction at such tributes from European sources.

Surely, it is no slight thing for these men to be told, or for Cadillac owners to hear, that America's great car is also proclaimed the great car of the world!

We feel that there is no impropriety in publishing the facts, since England has so generously disclosed them.

We feel that every man, woman and child in the more than one hundred thousand homes in which the Cadillac is a household institution, will derive an added pride in their ownership, of which we have no right to deprive them.

It would be hypocritical for us to pretend that we believe that the English engineer who is quoted above has overstated the case in his reference to Cadillac workmanship.

"Infinite pains taken over the infinitely small jobs"—in these words he has given a true and graphic picture of the rigid rules that govern Cadillac manufacture.

Spurred on by the overwhelming tributes paid to Cadillac performance by foreign observers and American military men in the world war, Cadillac craftsmen have redoubled, during the past two years, the unflagging zeal that actuated them during the preceding fifteen years.

The Cadillac has been honored by being pronounced the greatest car extant of any size or any price, at home or abroad.

We accept the heavy responsibility which this world leadership implies, and pledge ourselves that we will endeavor to the utmost to continue to deserve it.

CHAPLIN RENTS PLANT.

CARTER DE HAVEN SECURES PICTURESQUE STUDIO.

By Grace Kingsley.

That Charlie Chaplin does not intend to return to Los Angeles for at least a year is evidenced from the fact that yesterday, through his brother, Sydney Chaplin, he closed negotiations with Ben H. Cohen, manager of the Carter De Haven Productions, for the lease of the Chaplin studio for one year. The lease takes effect today, and the rental to be paid is $1250 per week.

According to word of friends yesterday, Chaplin will go abroad as soon as his affairs are straightened out in regard to his latest picture, "The Kid," and after some manner of settlement is arranged with Mildred Harris Chaplin.

Carter De Haven is very enthusiastic over the acquisition of the new studio, as it will give him the opportunity for full play in his future film activities, on account of the fact that the plant is a thoroughly equipped and roomy one.

Since the return of Mr. De Haven from New York last week with a big contract calling for release through First National of a series of stage comedy successes, it has been known that the popular comedian and his charming wife have been looking around for a more spacious studio in which to make these productions.

Owing to the fact that their next picture, an adaptation of "The Girl in the Taxi," is to be a very elaborate one, Mr. De Haven decided that new quarters were necessary. A large force of carpenters and technical men will start work today to prepare the plant for De Haven's needs under the direction of Mr. Cohen.

Meanwhile De Haven will be busily engaged with Director Lloyd Ingraham in selecting the cast which will be necessary to protray the film version of the former A. H. Woods stage success.

Gloria Swanson a Mother.

At last the suspense is over! She arrived in Hollywood yesterday morning at 7 o'clock, and her name is Gloria Swanson Somborn. She at once had her weigh, as is the Swanson habit, and tipped the scales the scales at nine and a half pounds.

Gloria Swanson is one of the most popular stars of the Cecil De Mille or any regime, who, a little over a year ago, was married to Mr. Somborn.

She retired from the screen several months ago, but is now announced to begin work in December on her Lasky contract.

Famous Authors Arrive.

The vanguard of famous authors whom Jesse Lasky has signed up to write for pictures has arrived. Having taken in deep draughts of California ozone and pronounced it good, there appeared at the Lasky studios yesterday morning bright and early no less persons than Sir Gilbert Parker, noted novelist, and Penrhyn Stanslaws, noted artist and only a little less noted playwright.

The two noted ones will remain here some time. Sir Gilbert's wife is to be in San Francisco tomorrow, arriving there from a long trip through the Orient, and it seems that she doesn't know that her husband is in Los Angeles, communication between the two having been somewhat cut off of late on account of both traveling.

Also, it seems, the lady doesn't know that her husband is what is known to the fraternity as "in pictures." She will join him here very soon, however, according to Sir Gilbert's word yesterday, he having sent telegrams which will greet her on her arrival in the northern city.

It is interesting to announce that Sir Gilbert is going to do that which has not been done before by a famous writer. He is going to write original stories for the screen, and what is more, he doesn't intend to put them into book form afterward, considering that in transferring them from the screen to book form he would lose the real vitality of the tales.

"They would be purely manufactured stories," he said.

Many of Sir Gilbert's books have been put into film form, but he did not expect the most successful films, he says, from his books, in the early stages of the film business. Now he is very much pleased with the picturization of "Seats of the Mighty," and with Metro's "The Right of Why."

The noted writer will remain here at least three months, and will supervise the writing of continuity as well as production.

"And as to the matter of my remaining longer," he said with a twinkle, "that depends on the success of my first picture. You smile at that. Well, in life I never believe in anything until it is in the palm of my hand, and the film art is a new art to me."

Sir Gilbert's first story is ready to be put into continuity. This will be accomplished by Mary O'Connor, who has had the distinction of being so appointed by Mr. Lasky.

Sir Gilbert and Miss O'Connor were in consultation yesterday. The author has taken a cottage at Beverly Hills, where he will work.

Mr. Lasky will arrive early in November, and will then appoint a director for Sir Gilbert's first story.

Mr. Stanslaws is to direct, but will not commence this work for several weeks. He has been acting as assistant to George Fitzmaurice, in New York, during the past three months, but wants to make a further study of pictures before launching forth as a full-fledged director.

Mr. Stanslaws believes that the picture of the future will be that of real character drawing and development, with the story growing out of the characters.

Walter Morosco a Film.

Theatricals are to receive an awful jolt. Walter Morosco, son of the famous Oliver Morosco, has decided to leave 'em flat, and go into pictures.

Mr. Morosco yesterday announced his intention of playing the lead in Christy Cabanne's next picture, which will probably be produced at the Brunton studio.

Young Morosco has been managing the Little Theater in New York, and doing a fine job of it.

Big Four Bulletin.

That there is a strong probability that the Big Four, otherwise known as the United Artists, and the Big Six, otherwise the Associated Producers, may combine, was the talk in motion-picture row yesterday. It is known that Fred Warren, manager of the Associated Producers, is to arrive here Monday on important business, which business, it is understood, is nothing less than a conference with members and officials of the Big Four, who are out here, looking to the amalgamation.

The proposed combination, it is reported, is for the purpose of greater convenience in marketing, making it easier to deliver the picture product of the two companies to the exhibitors.

Many exhibitors throughout the country who use one company's pictures also use the others.

Greater facility in delivering the pictures to these exhibitors will naturally be brought about by some sort of combination in the business offices.

Whether the anticipated combination will go further, and result in interchange of artists, directors, etc., and in the purchase of stories, is not known.

Director Scores.

Jimmy Horne has apparently scored a ten strike as a director at the Thomas H. Ince studios. He has been making the film version of Louis Joseph Vance's story, "The Bronze Bell."

Mr. Ince has complimented him very highly on his work, stating his belief in the fact that Horne will soon be one of the most prominent directors. Previously to his association with the Ince company, Mr. Horne was engaged in directing serials and the Lew Cody pictures.

Dyas in Pictures.

There's one thing about working on the stage or screen. If you don't like your name you can change it. That's what that excellent citizen, David Dyas did, when he decided to take a wallop at art and go into the movies.

Mr. Dyas got a chance to act as Katherine MacDonald's leading man, and who wouldn't change his name or do any little thing like that who got that chance? Mr. Dyas therefore is now Mr. David Dewinter. But that name isn't really so phony as it sounds, in asmuch as Dewinter is really a part of the Dyas family tree layout.

If It Excites You to Know It.

Elliott Dexter is taking a hunting trip near Seattle.

Mary Miles Minter entertained the Seattle ball players yesterday.

Emery Johnson has cast in his lot with the Bebe Daniels Realart organization.

Magda Lane has been engaged to succeed Lillian Rich, who was originally cast for Stella Sanson, the ingenue role in the Edgar Lewis production, "The Sage Hen."

Hope Hampton will return from New York in January to make another picture.

ZOELLNER MUSICALE.

Resident Composer to Entertain Ensemble.

Miss Fannie Dillon, resident composer and pianiste, and Mrs. Blanche D. Cole will entertain with a musicale in honor of the Zoellner Quartet on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Cole.

The Zoellner Quartet has recently returned from New York concert engagements and will open their season here tomorrow evening. The program, while informal, will be varied and interesting.

Mrs. M. L. Botsford will play her musical setting of "Joan of Arc," read by Miss Helen Kiokke; May MacDonald Hope is to render several piano compositions, including some of Miss Dillon's recent writings, and Mrs. Ernest Batchelder of Pasadena will also play some modern piano compositions.

Several of Miss Dillon's songs are to be sung by Miss Louise Gude and Mrs. Grace Mabee.

SHOW IS PEPPED UP AT BURBANK.

The reorganized musical comedy company now playing at the Burbank Theater is sure of wonderful success if the type of show being given there this week is continued, and Ed Armstrong, the manager, declares it is his intention to make the show better each week. There is not a dull moment throughout the entire hour and quarter of entertainment.

Armstrong has been in New York for the past fourteen months, securing new talents and new ideas, he announced upon his return to this city. The singing in the present attraction is good, the chorus is refined-looking and their costumes are new and pleasing to the eye.

Several new musical numbers are introduced this week, chief among these are "My Gal" by Clara Hanson and chorus, "Doggone Dangerous Eyes," by Marie Rich and chorus. George Banta and Marie Rich sing in the "Love Nest."

The Capital march by Armstrong's Baby Dolls is well received.

The dancing baby soubrette, Dorothy Green, sang and danced her way into the hearts of her audience.

MAY DIRECT PAGEANT.

NOTED NEW YORK ACTRESS PLANS POETRY THEATER.

By Edwin Schallert.

Indications are that Hedwig Reicher, the noted European actress, who has been prominently identified with New York theatrical life as an interpreter of Shakespearean and Ibsen roles, may assume the direction of the Thanksgiving pageant to be presented by the Hollywood Woman's Club at the Theater Arts Alliance site in Hollywood. Miss Reicher is at present a visitor in this city.

For some years she has been interested in the out-of-doors theater movement, and in time hopes to create a poetry theater, in which her ideals in drama may be carried out with proper atmosphere and settings.

On her present visit she will remain here for only a short time, but expects to return later on to reside here permanently.

New Miller Manager.

Charles R. Baker, formerly advance manager for the San Carlo Grand Opera Company, has assumed the post of manager at the Miller picture theater in this city. The choice of a man of Mr. Baker's prominence apparently indicates the definite decision on the part of the owners of this theater, to make it a long-run house.

It is very likely that as manager Mr. Baker will embody a number of especially artistic musical features in the program.

Walthall Tour Soon.

Henry Walthall is shortly to start on his stage tour in the Ibsen play "Ghosts," under the management of Will Wyatt.

Mr. Wyatt has booked the noted picture actor in a large number of western cities in this famous play. The present tour will probably be concluded in Los Angeles early next summer.

Later Mr. Walthall may be starred in "Ghosts" throughout the East.

Billie Christens Studio.

Billie Burke will be the first star to work in the new Famous Players-Lasky studio, built at a cost of approximately $2,500,000 at Long Island City, New York.

Her new starring vehicle, "The Education of Elizabeth," will be made at the plant. Edward Dillon will direct.

Larry Semon's New One.

Larry Semon's new two-reel special comedy, "The Suitor," will be shown beginning Sunday at the California Theater.

With Robertson-Cole.

The engagement of J. Stewart Woodhouse as scenario editor for the Robertson-Cole interests has just been announced by J. Allen Boone, eastern representative for the concern. Mr. Woodhouse has for the past year been connected with the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation at Culver City and previous to that time was with Thomas H. Ince.

Tip for Screen Writers.

Not satisfied with turning out a whole set of prize-winning photoplays, John Emerson and Anita Loos have collaborated on a book of advice for the would-be scenario writer, as well as the one who is somewhat versed in the craft.

Their book is entitled "How to Write Photoplays" and a copy has just been received locally at the First National office.

SUING SEDUCER OF THREE GIRLS.

Adopted Daughter Wants Big Sum from Rich Convict.

Avers He First Wronged Her When She Was Thirteen.

Twice-Married Defendant is Now in San Quentin.

James Albert Chamberlin, who pleaded guilty to a serious charge against two stepdaughters and an adopted daughter, and was sentenced to San Quentin by Judge Craig several weeks ago, was made defendant yesterday in a suit for $100,000 damages by the adopted daughter, Edna Augusta Chamberlin Hall.

Mrs. Hall told the story of the wrongs committed upon her by her adopted father, who, she asserts, is worth $500,000. She says she was adopted by Chamberlin July 25, 1903, in San Bernardino. At that time the first wife, Elsie Chamberlin, was alive. Subsequently, Mr. Chamberlin married wife No. 2 and it was when Miss Chamberlin had reached the age of 13 years that she was wronged.

She says she was unsophisticated and, being in fear of her adopted father, she was forced to submit to him at his home, 6188 Rosedale Terrace Drive. The acts continued until she was 16 years old and, being afraid she would tell, she says, he falsely made a charge against her.

The result was that she became a ward of the Juvenile Court as incorrigible and was later sent to the Ventura Home. She ran away from that institution and was married in 1918. She was compelled to leave her husband because of his cruelty, she says, and returned to her adopted father's home in Pomona, where she stayed only a week, successfully resisting his familiarity.

CHAMBER WANTS NAVY TO RUN COAST GUARD.

The board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday went on record as favoring the proposed plan to have the coast guard of the Pacific taken over by the United States Navy. Other chambers of the Pacific Coast have urged that the President, by executive order, bring this about and the Los Angeles organization indorsed the plan.

SURVEY FAVORS ONE-MAN CARS.

"Hen Coops" Possess Virtues Despite Riders' Kicks.

They're the Fords of Rail World, States Engineer.

Little and Loud, but Shave Expense and Save Time.

"The one-man car is the Ford of the street railway transportation world," said Chief Engineer Osborne of the Board of Public Utilities yesterday commenting on statements contained in protests filed with the City Council against the new cars. The writers of these letters call the coaches "hen coops," declare that riding in them makes passengers seasick and demand that they be removed from the streets of the city.

"We are carefully investigating all these complaints," said Mr. Osborne, "and the Los Angeles Railway, at the request of the board, is now seeking methods to make the cars less noisy.

"This type of car is being operated in all the other large cities of the country. After the first wave of protest in these cities, the reports show, the passengers became accustomed to the cars and the 'kicks' ceased.

"Our preliminary check shows that the new cars make better time than the larger ones and that 35 per cent more of them are run on the various lines than the old-style car, so that one may more often secure a car to reach one's destination. The cars were recommended in a joint report of the engineers of the State Railroad Commission and the Board of Public Utilities because their use here will save the company from $200,000 to $400,000 a year, based on the number of cars in operation, and will cut power bills 40 per cent."

PLANS SPECIAL TRAIN TO MEXICAN CEREMONY

Members of the Chamber of Commerce who may wish to attend the inauguration of the newly elected President of Mexico, Gen. Obregon, in December will have an opportunity to do so, according to a report made yesterday to the board of directors. This was in effect that a special train will leave Nogales, carrying prominent men of the Southwest to the event, and that the Nogales chamber will be glad to have members of the Los Angeles chamber join them.

STATUTE PERIL TO DEPENDENTS.

Attorney Attacks Community Property Measure.

Says Women of State Did Not Ask for This Law.

Charity Bequests Impossible Except by Consent.

W. T. Craig, a well-known attorney and for twenty years counsel for the Wholesalers' Board of Trade and the Credit Men's Association, yesterday arrayed himself firmly in opposition to the proposed community property law which will appear on the ballot on November 2 as proposal No. 13.

Mr. Craig declared that he had no hesitancy in joining the ranks of California business men and commercial organizations throughout the State who can see nothing but trouble, litigation and discord if the measure is adopted.

"One thing alone is enough to condemn it," said the attorney, "and that is the fact that it will be absolutely impossible for any man or woman to leave one dollar to charity, or to a dependent relative, even an aged mother or father, except with the written consent of the remaining spouse.

"It matters not how large the estate or how desparate the need of the relative, or how worthy or deserving the charity; an unfriendly or even an unsympathetic husband or wife will be able to defeat the purpose. There are many reasons why this is a bad law. Technical, domestic and social reasons, but this one thing should condemn it utterly in the minds of all thinking persons.

"I wonder if the women of California will approve a measure that makes every will now in existance void. What about the many with an incompetent or insane wife, whose consent to a will is impossible? What about the aged parent or sister or other needy relative that has been provided for by will; have they no claims on the bounty of a person making a will?

"The women never asked the Legislature for this law. They asked for the right to will their half of the community property. This bill gives them no such right, but takes away the right of a husband to will any part of the community property except with the wife's approval.

"This law has received the practically unanimous condemnation of the commercial and legal organizations of the State, and this alone should be proof of the viciousness of this legislation. I hope it will be overwhelmingly defeated."

ARREST TEN ON HOOCH CHARGES.

Lompoc Round-up Made When "Jackass Brandy" Gets Too Plentiful.

A round-up at Lompoc, in Santa Barbara county, of supposed violators of the Prohibition Act resulted in the arrest of ten individuals — Papogo Zonzono, S. and Jane Cabrillo, Juan Daco, M. and Jane Wall, Benjamin Kresnel, Mrs. Paffalo, W. L. Henderson and Fred Lewis.

The brand of stuff with a kick said to be in circulation at Lompoc is known by the enforcement officers as "jackass brandy" and sells as high as $10 a pint. Zonzono is charged with being the owner and operator of a still that manufactures the liquor, but it could not be located by the officers. The defendants were brought to Los Angeles last night in the custody of a deputy United States marshal.

GREEK DAIRY CANNOT PAY.

The local Greek colony appeared in the records of the bankruptcy court yesterday when Gost Moropoulos filed a petition setting out his inability to pay his debts. The liabilities are those of the Eureka Dairy Company and amount to $8640.55. There are no assets scheduled. The corporation was carried on by Gost Moropoulous, Gost J. Dalis and Gost, Mike and Jose Christopoulos.

WAR HERO'S STORY HITS AUTO AGENT

Seller Admits He Retained Soldier's Cash After Taking Away the Machine.

Joseph J. Markus, gassed at the Battle of the Argonne, discharged for disability and given $800 by the government to take up vocational training, told a pathetic story in Judge Wellborn's court yesterday. He appeared as plaintiff in a suit against J. C. Lester, automobile dealer, to recover $800 which he says he paid down for an automobile sold to him for $2095 and which, he states, did not prove satisfactory.

Mr. Markus said he returned to Mr. Lester's place on South Hope street and demanded the return of his money. The request was refused, but Mr. Lester drove the car to demonstrate it was all right. Mr. Markus alighted from the machine and testified that Mr. Lester drove away in it. Since that time, he says, he has not seen the car, nor has the money he paid been refunded.

Testimony of the bravery of Mr. Markus at the Argonne was given by George H. Martin, a policeman, who fought by his side. A shell exploded and the wind drove the gas towards Mr. Markus, Mr. Martin testified. The young man, he said, always tried to get in the front ranks during the fighting.

The gas, Attorney John S. Cooper tried to show, had left Mr. Markus physically and mentally weak so that he was not competent to judge the merits of a car.

Mr. Lester testified that the auto was bought under contract, that Mr. Markus defaulted in the payments and that under the contract the money paid down as well as the car were retained by him. He asked for a nonsuit, which was denied by the court. The case will be resumed tomorrow.

Real Estate Man Made Assistant Manager in West.

W. J. Pearson, identified with the Los Angeles real estate and insurance field, was yesterday appointed assistant manager of the Democratic national campaign in the Western States, under Senator Key Pittman, manager of the Pacific Coast States. Mr. Pearson has opened headquarters in parlor A, Alexandria Hotel, where he is assembling a staff of workers.

"I have accepted the appointment of assistant manager for Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California, Colorado and Wyoming," he said. "It shall be my purpose to work in harmony with all Democratic organizations, both State and local, for Democratic success. I want everybody to know I am on the job."

MAYOR ZIPS AROUND TRACK AT SPEEDWAY.

Mayor Snyder yesterday afternoon spent more than an hour inspecting and testing out the new Los Angeles Speedway, being completed at Beverly Hills at a cost of more than $1,000,000. He made six laps around the course in an automobile driven by H. L. Kirksey, and inspected arrangements being made to handle the crowds expected at the national championship races to be held there on Thanksgiving Day. The new speedway is said to outrank the famous English auto-racing course at Brooklands.

NEW CITY SLOGAN.

"Los Angeles, the Center of the World," is the ambitious and catching slogan which Jean de Chauvenet, head of the Chauvenet School of Music, in the Majestic Theater Building, is urging residents of this city to use in putting briefly before the outside world the ever-widening possibilities of this region.

APPROVES MERGER OF LOCAL STAGE LINES.

RAILROAD COMMISSION GIVES SANCTION SOUGHT BY TWO COMPANIES.

Consolidation of the Pasadena-Long Beach Stage Line with that of the Liberty Stage Company, operating between Los Angeles and Norwalk, under a reorganized concern known as the Liberty Stage Lines Consolidated, Inc., with a capital of $125,000, has been approved by the State Railroad Commission.

The new concern has ordered a fleet of twenty-five passenger busses. Construction of a new depot, garage and machine shop, with every modern convenience, has already been started and is to be rushed to completion at Downey, a junction point of the two lines. The consolidation and organization of the new company was effected by Page Noll, its general manager.

The facilities of the original companies were inadequate to meet the demands of a fast-increasing traffic. The Pasadena-Long Beach line furnishes the only direct transportation between these two cities and traverses the beautiful San Gabriel Valley.

Both Federal Grand Juries Called Today.

Both new and the old Federal grand juries will be in session today.

There may be a report from the first named that has had to do with the general run of supposed law violation, but there will be no report from the grand jury that has been in legal existence since early in January and that has had in charge the investigation of profiteering in this city and other sections of the local Federal district.

While no official statement is given out relative to the failure of the old grand jury to make a deliverance on the subject of profiteering, the situation warrants the conclusion that there will be nothing done in the way of action by the local Federal body until there is an opinion by the United States Supreme Court as to the constitutionality of the Lever law. If the enactment is pronounced legal, indictments of dealers in this city, San Diego and elsewhere in Southern California will shortly follow, on charges involving unfair prices for a number of necessities and commodities. If the law is knocked out all future proposed prosecutions under it will be abandoned.

Council Committee Recommends Him for City Planning Place.

Judge Stephens was yesterday recommended by the Public Welfare Committee of the Council for the place on the executive committee of the new City Planning Commission made vacant by the resignation of J. O. Koepfli.

The committee recommended to the Council that F. W. Blanchard, Carl E. McStay, David Woodhead and Henry F. Withey be named to fill vancancie on the commission. Mr. Blanchard was nominated in line with the stand taken by the Council that the San Fernando Valley section of the city should be represented on the commission. When future vacancies occur, the committee announced that it intended to recommend a representative citizen of the harbor district for a place on the commission.

Bond Market

BY C. F. SEIDEL.
Manager, Bond Department, Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank

The placing on the bond market of the $25,000,000 issue of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada 7 per cent Sinking Fund Debenture Bonds makes a sketchy history of this railroad—now to be a part of the Canadian National Railways System, recently authorized by the Dominion Parliament of Canada—both interesting and apropos.

* * * * *

The repeal of the corn laws in England in 1846 resulted in a distinct disadvantage to Canadian wheat growers. No longer were they able to market their crops profitably abroad and this made necessary the finding of means of distributing their product at home. Much discussion and many plans resulted in the passage of measures by the Canadian Parliament in November, 1852, to incorporate the Grand Trunk Railway, the stock of which was disposed of by a firm of prominent contractors. The first block offered to the public was oversubscribed three times.

* * * * *

In 1903 the Canadian Parliament passed a law providing for the building of that country's first national transcontinental railway. This was the undertaking known as the Grand Trunk Pacific. Its purpose was to secure a new railroad to the Pacific running much farther north than the Canadian Pacific Railway, and opening new territory for settlement and cultivation, while on the other hand it involved the building of a new government line for lease to the Grand Trunk System in the eastern provinces of Canada.

* * * * *

The Dominion Parliament recently passed an act authorizing the organization of the Canadian National Railways. This created the largest railway sytem in the world under one control and management. It comprises 22,275 miles, extending from Halifax on the Atlantic Coast to Vancouver on the Pacific Coast, touching practically every important center in Canada. In comparison with the 50 miles of railways in operation in Canada in 1850, the rail development is startling.

* * * * *

The Canadian National Railways takes in, in addition to the Grand Trunk Railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, the Canadian Northern, the National Transcontinental and the Inter-Colonial Railways.

* * * * *

There remains only one great railroad system in Canada under private ownership—the Canadian Pacific Railway, with a mileage of 18,600. The result is obvious. Healthy competition is preserved.

* * * * *

The nationalization of the major portion of Canada's railways offers a splendid investment field. One of these investment opportunities is this most recent issue of securities, a portion of which is available now at the Bond Department of The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank.

* * * * *

This $25,000,000 issue of Grand Trunk Railway 7 per cent Sinking Fund Debenture Bonds is dated Oct. 1, 1920, and is due in 1940. The principal and interest are guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada by endorsement. The bonds are in $1000 denomination and are callable on thirty days' notice as a whole after Oct. 1, 1925, at 102½. The annual sinking fund provides that $500,000 will be available semi-annually, beginning 1931, to purchase bonds at the market if obtainable at or below par. If the bonds are not so obtainable during the six months succeeding that time, the unexpended balance reverts to the company.

The bonds are the direct obligation of the Grand Trunk Railway, which the Dominion of Canada has agreed to purchase and merege with the Canadian National Railways System, owned by the Dominion.

Sound Investments and the Oil Industry —need not be paradoxical.

Capital invested in the oil industry will yield an assured return if production is already at hand with ample offset locations to maintain and increase output if the management is competent, the capitalization conservative, transportation facilities adequate, and well selected semi-proven acreage for future development be at hand.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Business on the stock exchange today denoted an increasing division of sentiment in speculative circles. Prices were subjected to a succession of confusing advances and declines, many mixed changes resulting at the irregular close.

In a measure, rails maintained their recent leadership, a number of high and low-priced shares displaying unusual activity.

Reading, which featured the long account in yesterday's market, made a new high record for several years at 101 1-4, but ended at a net loss of one and one-half points. Texas and Pacific recovered only the smallest fraction of yesterday's severe loss.

Steels and equipments were again influenced by backward trade conditions.

Oils, shippings, motors and sugars embraced the other uncertain elements, notably Mexican and Pan-American petroleums, Atlantic Gulf, United Fruit, American International and American Beet Sugar, together with leather, copper and chemical issues. Sales, 500,000 shares.

Call money moved from 7 to 8 per cent and back to the lower rate with time funds unchanged. In foreign exchange the only noteworthy development was the weakness of rates on China.

Tractions were strongest features of the bond markets, the Liberty group easing. Total sales, par value, $14,200,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

the raising or expenditure of large sums of money, there is a very general agreement in Los Angeles business and financial circles that Constitutional Amendment No. 12 should have full support at the general election.

This is a measure which seeks to take the support of the University of California out of the hands of the Legislature and made a part of our tax budget. It places a tax of 1.2 mills upon every dollar of assessed valuation for the support of the university, and will not only provide increased revenue, which is imperatively needed unless the activities of the great State school are to be seriously curtailed, but will enable constructive plans to be laid years ahead. At present nothing is certain except the sums provided by the Legislature every two years.

The financial condition of the university is described as desperate. Its student body has increased 200 per cent in ten years, while its income has increased but 100 per cent, and overhead, including salaries, have increased proportionately with only a depreciated dollar with which to meet them.

OUR GROWING CHAMBER.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is now second in size in the United States, only exceeded by that of Chicago. A campaign is being waged which is likely to result in the announcement on the chamber's birthday anniversary next week that the Lake Metropolis has been passed and that Los Angeles is leading the field.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE.

Wednesday Morning Club.

In the olden days of club life when women "prognosticated about Browning" and drew up resolutions against bigamy among the Zulus while their husbands flirted with the pretty girls around the corner, all this, according to the husbands as brought out in the reading of Mrs. Deasa Miller Thursday at the initial meeting for the year of the Wednesday Morning Club, was shown in vivid contrast to club sessions of today.

Advancing from the time when civics meant to clean the garbage cans and swat the fly until today when it means the knowledge of twenty measures on the ballot; from the time when the study of political science never dared go farther than the study of the rule of the Ptolemies in Egypt until today when it means the study of Tammany and the League of Nations, the whole gamut of club endeavor at harmony in the world was run.

Mrs. A. D. Clark, the first president of the club, told of its inception in 1898 when the club was organized by a clergyman's wife in the parsonage, meeting thereafter in the parlors of the East Side Congregational Church studying as drama the "Songs of Solomon" with rules changing to by-laws and finally assuming the dignity of a constitution when dues were 10 cents per capita. Mrs. F. M. Nickell and Miss Jessie Chambers, charter members of the club, took up the early legends and reminiscences.

Nearly two hundred sat down to the well-appointed luncheon tables after the morning session when reports showed an income of a little less than $7000 for this energetic club and a pleasing balance in the treasury. Twenty-eight new members were welcomed. Thus past reports formed an auspicious beginning for the new year.

Mrs. F. W. Fuller, the newly elected president, presided at all the sessions of the day and during the program, which was given by Miss Miller and Marjorie Walls. This 17-year-old girl, accompanied at the piano by her mother, sang a group of three songs at the insistent demand by applause of the audience.

Echo Park Mothers' Club.

Boyle Workman, president of the City Council, will be the speaker at the Echo Park Mothers' Club this morning in the clubhouse when the session will be devoted to civics with Mrs. W. E. Ward, chairman of that department, presiding. Mr. Workman will speak of the twelve amendments to appear upon the ballot in the November election. The meeting is at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

HUNDREDS OF LEGION MEN GOING TO FIESTA.

TWO POSTS ACCEPT BIDS TO TIA JUANA CELEBRATION OF NEXT TWO DAYS.

Victory Post No. 54, American Legion, has accepted the invitation of Mayor Lazaro Gallardo of Tia Juana to send a delegation to the military fiesta to be tendered ex-service men tomorrow and Sunday by the people of the border town. Nearly 500 members of the post, it is expected, will avail themselves of the low excursion rates offered on account of the entertainment.

Los Angeles Post No. 5 has appointed a ticket committee and hundreds of reservations already have been made for the trip. It is expected that nearly 1000 members of the big downtown post, with their families, will make the trip, auto busses from Los Angeles to Tia Juana having been secured.

Francisco Paquiro of Mexico City, one of the most celebrated matadors in Mexico, will be seen at the bullfight next Sunday, to be held at the conclusion of a historical pageant depicting early scenes in the history of the southern republic.

The Governor of Baja California, with his staff, also is expected to review the troops of the garrison in the evening, as well as to participate in the free barbecue to be served to the Legionnaires. Dancing teams, decorations, a parade of school children and other events, are being planned.

The United States Immigration Bureau on the border has assured the San Diego Legion reception committee that passports will be granted freely to the Los Angeles soldier visitors and their friends and families.

CLOSES DEAL ON BUILDING FOR COMPANY

Paper House Manager Buys Five-Story Structure; New Quarters for Seller.

Sale of the Cohn Goldwater Building, a five-story class A structure at 216 South Los Angeles street, together with a large lot at the rear of the property, to J. Y. Baruh, manager of the Zellerbach Paper Company, was announced yesterday by Bryan & Bradford, through whom the transaction was handled. The price paid for the building was $235,000. The lot, sold by the John J. Hooker estate, cost $35,000.

The Cohn Goldwater Building has a frontage of 107 feet on Los Angeles street, with a depth of 170 feet, and is served by spur tracks of the Southern Pacific, with a capacity for seven freight cars. Through the purchase of the lot at the rear of the building the property now has a frontage on both Second and Los Angeles streets.

Arrangements are now being made by the Cohn Goldwater Company for the erection of a new office and administration building in the wholesale district of the city. No site for the new structure has as yet been obtained, but it is understood that negotiations are now pending for the purchase of suitable property, and tentative plans have been prepared for a modern office and sales building to house the company. Until the new building has been erected the Cohn Goldwater Company will continue to occupy their present quarters, it is announced.

The Zellerbach Paper Company now occupies the three-story and basement building at 115 North Los Angeles street, under lease from Harry Lombard, the owner of the property. It was stated by Mr. Baruh yesterday that it will probably be a year before possession is taken of the Cohn Goldwater Building, which will then undergo extensive alterations and improvements. The new owner will lease it to the company, of which he is manager.

TO ATTEND CHINESE CONSORTIUM MEETING.

HARDACRE WILL TAKE PLACE OF SARTORI AT GATHERING OF FINANCIERS.

Taking the place of J. F. Sartori, president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, R. B. Hardacre, vice-president of the institution, will leave tonight for New York to attend the first meeting of the Chinese consortium, as one of the "American group," of which thirty-seven banks in the United States are members. The British, French and Japanese groups will also send delegates. The meeting of the consortium will continue from the 11th to the 15th inst. A reception and tea will be given the members at the library of J. P. Morgan and a dinner at the University Club.

This Chinese consortium was formed at extended conferences held in Peking last spring, at which the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York was prominently represented. In order that money might safely be loaned for the development of China's railways, highways and internal resources, a strong agreement was reached between the bankers of the United States, England, France and Japan, which agreement is supported by the State Department. The New York meeting will discuss methods of carrying out these objects, and is likely to have a very favorable effect upon American trade with China.

From New York, Mr. Hardacre will go to Washington to attend the meeting of the American Bankers' Association, as a member of the clearinghouse section.

W. D. Longyear and L. H. Roseberry, vice-presidents, and John T. Cooper, assistant secretary of the same bank, will leave Tuesday night for the bankers' convention. Mr. Longyear bears the official invitation of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association to the American Bankers' Association to hold its 1921 session in Los Angeles, a year from now.

John T. Drum of San Francisco, now first vice-president of the association, will become president in the usual course at this session, and the fact that a Californian will welcome the 1921 session as president, if it comes here, will, it is believed, be a dominant factor in forming the decision of the Executive Council.

Officers Named at Convention of Granite Men.

At their closing business session in the Hotel Hayward yesterday morning the delegates to the third annual convention of the Granite Manufacturers' Association of California elected the following officers for the coming year: John D. McGilvray, president; P. D. Mullany, first vice-president; Fred Brittain, second vice-president; E. A. Weisenburger, secretary and Max Roth, treasurer. San Francisco was chosen as the place for the annual meeting next August.

Directors were elected as follows: W. H. Hamilton, San Francisco; Walter C. Ghetti, San Jose; C. E. Bly, Los Angeles; Benjamin Woodhull, Stockton, and James Kane, Oakland.

The delegates will devote themselves to social and sight-seeing activities today and will leave tomorrow in twelve automobiles for San Francisco, stopping on the way to meet dealers at Santa Barbara.

BALDWIN YARN "MYTH."

Physician of Turfman's Daughter Scouts Murder Attempt Tale.

An article published yesterday which used the fact that Mrs. Anita Baldwin, daughter of the late Lucky Baldwin, many times a millionaire, had refused to have Japanese tenants on her land as the motive for an imaginary murder attempt, was flatly denied last night by Dr. Z. T. Malaby, Mrs. Baldwin's physician, cited as the chief witness.

"It is all a wild myth," he said in his office in Pasadena, when questioned on the subject.

Mrs. Baldwin's secretary similarly replied: "It's news to me."

MULE WORSTS MAN AND AUTO.

When Road's Disputed Beast Climbs in and Messes Up Machine and Driver.

If H. B. Christensen meets a wagonload of dynamite on the wrong side of the boulevard he may dispute the right of way. But henceforth he will give the road to a mule.

Recently Mr. Christensen encountered a string of Missouri beauties that were disregarding the traffic rules. He essayed to drive past. Promptly a playful beast, the property of Peter L. Ferry, rose on its hind legs and climbed right into Mr. Christensen's car. Ensued a hectic minute. At its end, the mule was intact, but Mr. Christensen and his automobile were banged up to an extent that Judge Avery, in a damage award given yesterday against Mr. Ferry, placed at $736—$211 for repairs to the car, $75 for paint kicked off; $300 for loss of use of the machine while it was being patched up; $100 for depreciation of its value; $50 for what the mule did to Mr. Christensen, personally.

Stone & Morin represented the plaintiff.

BILL HART FIGHTING RE-RUN OF OLD FILM.

FILES TWO SUITS DEMANDING IMMENSE DAMAGES; SAYS PLAYS BETTER NOW.

William S. Hart, cinema star, added to litigation he is prosecuting in court by filing two suits yesterday, aggregating $275,000 in damages, charging that pictures in which he appeared several years ago are being exhibited with titles tending to mislead the public into believing that they are new films.

The Peerless Film Service and its officers are defendants in one action and L. F. O'Donnell, a theater owner, defendant in the other action. Mr. Hart demands $250,000 damages from the former and $25,000 damages from the latter defendant.

When Mr. Hart appeared in these cinema dramas the facilities for production were inferior to those of today. He also charges that the old films have been damaged by constant use and transportation. It is contended that the old pictures are being exhibited under titles similar to pictures in which Mr. Hart has recently starred.

In the Peerless suit the defendants are E. H. Emmick, president; Mrs. E. H. Emmick, vice-president, and Harry McIntyre, manager. Mr. O'Donnell is proprietor of a Hill-street theater, where, it is said, several of the pictures have been shown.

PLAZA PLAN BACKER TO GIVE VIEWS.

Steam Roads' Argument for Arcade Terminal Site to be Answered at Hearing.

T. E. Gibbon, representing the Business Men's Co-Operative Association, which has gone on record solidly for the Plaza site for a union passenger terminal, is expected to be the principal speaker at the hearing on the subject to be given by the City Council at 1 p.m. today. Mr. Gibbon, as counsel for the association, has filed a brief with the Railroad Commission recommending the selection of the Plaza site, and it is expected that this afternoon Mr. Gibbon will answer in detail the statements made at a Council hearing one week ago by Herbert J. Goudge, counsel for the Business Men's Association, an organization fostered by the Southern Pacific-Salt Lake railroads to develop sentiment in favor the granting of the application of the railroads for permission to block a union terminal plan by using the Arcade Station as a joint terminal.

At this afternoon's meeting also W. H. Workman, Jr., is to tell of the action taken by a recent mass meeting of Boyle Heights citizens, which went on record as unanimously favoring the Plaza site for a union terminal. C. B. McClure, president of the City and County Viaducts Association, is also expected to speak.

FOR PARK REVENUE.

City Attorney Favors Placing of Election Signs by Board.

The Park Commission yesterday asked City Attorney Burnell if it would be legal to place signs in Los Angeles parks reading as follows:

"The future maintenance of this park depends upon your voting 'Yes' on charter amendments.

"BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS."

Mr. Burnell said that from a preliminary investigation into the law he believed the signs, which were suggested by the Fire Fighters' Association, could be legally placed in the parks.

"The placing of the signs," said Mr. Burnell, "I believe would not be a case of pernicious activity in partisan politics by the park board, for the charter amendments are nonpartisan in character. If the money to maintain and develop our parks is to be had, the city must secure more revenue than it does at present from taxes, and for this reason the charter amendments should carry at the November election."

FORESTERS CONFER HERE.

C. E. Rachford, assistant district forester, and Edward N. Munns, forest examiner, both of San Francisco, were at the Federal Building here yesterday consulting with Supervisor Allen of the Angeles National Reserve. While here they will attend the annual convention of the California cattlemen and discuss the question of the effect of fire on the erosion of mountain sides. They will also oppose the proposed burning of brush on the Cleveland National Reserve, to better the grazing conditions.

Put in Dirty Jail, Horsewoman Sues.

Mrs. Mildred Geltz.

TEN thousand dollars for each day she spent among the "vermin" and the "loathsome cimex lectularis" of the City Jail is asked by Mrs. Mildred Geltz, a young horsewoman, in a suit she filed yesterday through Attorney George Greer, against five members of the police metropolitan squad, who, she charges, falsely arrested and imprisoned her on a vagrancy charge. The defendants named are John W. Hodges, W. L. Fore, L. M. Lane, L. H. Howard and J. E. Davis.

Mrs. Geltz's complaint sets forth that at 1 a.m. last August 25, these officers broke into her room at a downtown hotel, handled her roughly and then took her to jail. Two days later she was acquitted when she appeared in Police Court. She asks $10,000 actual and $10,000 punitive damages.

The arrest, according to her attorney, was due to the fact that Mrs. Geltz befriended a girl who had just been discharged penniless from a hospital. This girl was allowed to stay in Mrs. Geltz's room, said Mr. Greer, and was later arrested. Action was then taken by the police against Mrs. Geltz without cause, according to the attorney.

Mrs. Geltz had resided at the hotel seven months, she stated, and was living on ample private means. At the time of the asserted rough handling by the police, Mr. Green declared, Mrs. Geltz had but recently been discharged from the Clara Barton Hospital, following an operation, and her wound has not healed.

The plaintiff is an accomplished equestrienne. She has wealthy relatives in Orange county.

RAISIN CASE HEARING PUT AHEAD AGAIN

Arguments Expected Today Postponed a Week; Stock Agreement Likely.

After several times shifting the dates for the hearing of the motion to dismiss the pending bill against the California Associated Raisin Company, it was finally given out yesterday that the arguments have been postponed until next Friday. It had been expected that they would be heard today.

With the signing of the stipulation several weeks ago by representatives of the government and the raisin grape growers of the San Joaquin Valley, there is but one question to argue—whether a supposed monopoly is one per se, in the absence of any charge that the corporation has violated any of the national statutes having to do with the marketing of necessaries and commodities.

It is possible that a further stipulation will be made relative to the issue of stock, and if that is remedied there will be nothing in the way of an argument in the hands of the government. As a co-operative concern, the issuance of stock may be stopped, so as to avoid the pains and penalties of the Clayton law, and with that accomplished, nothing is left from the standpoint of the prosecution.

With the carrying out of the stipulation as to certain reforms and the addition of the stock feature, the organization of the raisin men will stand on the same ground with the bean, orange and lemon growers of Southern California, whose organizations have been pronounced legal and proper by the office of the Attorney-General.

COMES ON "GAS" QUIZ.

Federal Attorney From Bay City Due Today for Conference.

U. S. Attorney Silva of San Francisco who, with U. S. Attorney O'Connor, has been in charge of the current gasoline investigation by the government, with a view to ascertaining if there is any violation of the Lever law, will be in Los Angeles today to confer with Mr. O'Connor.

The investigation in San Francisco and vicinity has been completed and turned over to E. M. Blanford, in charge of the Federal special agents there, and in turn has been given over to U. S. Attorney Silva. He will bring the report with him today, and the situation will be discussed.

It is understood that the local inquiry has not been completed, on account of the trip of Investigator Harris, whose family has been ill in the East. The work at San Francisco was in charge of Special Agent Hughes of the Department of Justice.

Third Betting Conviction in as Many Days

Davenport and Addison will be arraigned for sentence today.
